Massachusetts Vital For Taft, Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP) — Massachusetts' Republican primary next Tuesday may go a long way to determining whether Sen. Robert A. Taft or Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will take the most delegates into the July presidential convention.

Taft now leads in delegates favoring him. He may retain that lead unless Eisenhower crashes through in three key states and large delegations — Massachusetts, Missouri and Texas.

On the basis of local surveys at this time, apparently neither candidate can reach the 603 votes needed for a first ballot nomination at Chicago.

Twenty-seven states, the District of Columbia and two territories will pick a little less than one-half of the delegates between now and July to complete the 1,205 list for the Chicago convention.

Outside of Massachusetts, Missouri and Texas, Taft now seems likely to pick up about 50 votes more than Eisenhower — largely

LA. HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS TO MEET AT N. E. STATE

Northeast State will play host Tuesday to seniors and class sponsors from high schools throughout this area of the state. The visitation day marks the eighth to be celebrated on the campus. Last spring 1,140 seniors were guests of the college.

Activities will begin with registration from 8:30 to 9 a. m. This will be followed by a general convocation in Brown Hall auditorium, where President Lewis C. Slater will extend greetings to the visitors.

Gene Clark, president of the student body, will serve as master of ceremonies for the programs to follow. Entertainment is to feature a talent show presented by high school seniors, then a variety of numbers by Northeast students.

Between 10:30 and noon, senior sponsors will be guests at a coffee hour in the home of President and Mrs. Salter. At this same time will

Holiday In Dixie Will Open Friday

SHREVEPORT, La., April 26 (AP) —A streamlined five-day program of balls, street parades, pageants and exhibits will open next Wednesday as Shreveport observes its fourth annual spring festival.

Holiday in Dixie, dubbed "festival of progress in the romantic South" will open with the observance of forestry day and will continue through Sunday with the observance of Cross Lake Day.

Industrial and agricultural leaders are joining with festival officals this year in presenting a program, which in addition to offering entertainment for a wide variety of tastes, will symbolize the economic strides taken by Shreveport and the Ark-La-Tex region.

Commemorating the 149th anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase on April 30, 1803, this year's festival will again feature such popular fitures as the plantation tour and the Miss Holiday in Dixie beauty contest. It will auso offer numerous new events.

FLOOD CREST ROLLS PAST CLINTON, IA.

Water Courses Over Main Street Of City

CLINTON, Ia., April 26 (AP)—The Mississippi river's record flood crest rolled past Clinton today closing the Lyons-Fulton bridge, route of U. S. highway 30, to truck traffic.

The river also sent water coursing across Clinton's main north-south street, and city officials said it may have to be closed.

The Missouri River, meanwhile, pounded along through central Missouri and some crest forecasts were increased slightly at Lexington and points below.

The worst appeared to be over for Sabula, Ia., the flood-surrounded "island city" across the river from Savanna, Ill. The water was receding slightly and a national guard spokesman said "it looks like we're going to ride it out."

Most downstream points expressed optimism that the Mississippi would cause little more damage.

But in the Drury drainage district in Illinois, across the river from Muscatine, Ia., national guardsmen and civilian workers apprehensively eyed the record flood peak moving down on them as they were seeking to bolster soft spots in levees protecting some 6,900 acres of farm land.

At Muscatine, levees were reported holding but workers were preparing 30,000 sandbags and loading them on barges so they could be moved to any point where a break might occur.

Mississippi floodwaters in the railyards at Hannibal, Mo., had forced cancellation of freight as well as passenger service. But St. Louis reported that the Mississippi's crest, due there next Thursday, will be about 36.5 feet — 3½ feet below last year.

The Missouri river at Kansas City continued to fall, and it was expected to be back to bankful level by tomorrow night. At Napoleon, Mo., 25 houses and one church were flooded.

Melting snow was causing many creek overflows in Utah and Idaho.

Streets and many basements were flooded in Salt Lake City, Springville, Provo, Nephi and Spanish Fork, Utah.

In Idaho, U. S. Hignway 93 was covered from Twin Falls to Sun Valley. The Snake river was near bankful and was expected to overflow tomorrow near Weiser.

Catholic Unit Ends Meeting Here Today

Catholic Daughters of America today at 11 a. m. wil hear the Most Rev. Joseph F. Rummell, S. T. D., Archbishop of New Orleans, say a solemn Pontifical High Mass as their three - day convention draws to a close.

Immediately following the Pontificial High Mass, a banquet will be held on the Cherokee Terrace of the Frances Hotel. Miss Rosalie Marsala, state secretary of the Catholic Daughters, will preside.

Introduction of the newly elected state officers will be nade by Mrs. Cleda Waddell.

The junior program of the Louisiana Junior Catholic Daughters of America from various courts in the state was held last night at St. Matthew's gym. Dedication of juniors to the Sacred Heart of Jesus was conducted at the close of the program.

About 300 Caholic Daughters of America from Louisiana attended the convention which began Friday.

FIGHT ON RATS TO SOON OPEN

Experts Say Warfarin Will Do The Job In West Monroe

The experts said Friday night that a six-day warfarin war against rats in West Monroe would practically rid the city of the nasty, expensive pests. It was also recommended that a yearly rat-killing campaign be conducted.

However, cooperation of the business people and residents will be the determining factor as to whether the campaign will be a success or failure, according to O. T. Trapp, public health officer with the Ouachita parish unit.

Walking Record Challenged; Roper Certain Of Victory

The established walking record between Bastrop and Monroe has been challenged!!

"Tex" Roper, the self-styled classiest, walkingest cowboy in these parts says he can outwalk George Copeland—and push a wheelbarrow at the same time. Copeland stepped off the 20-mile distance last week in four hours and seven minutes.

J. R. Mouton, Roper's publicity agent, said yesterday "Why it's a lead pipe cinch." Roper himself commented: "Mr. Copeland must have stopped somewhere along the way and fished."

Roper will be sponsored by a group of backers in West Monroe who are collecting a mass of prizes with Roper's name on them. Headquarters have been established in Simmie's Cafe on Trenton street.

Roper's business manager is Charlie Towers and his trainer is W. A. King, a West Monroe barber. Mouton has taken over Roper's propaganda machine and is really putting out some information.

Though Roper lives in Swartz, he spends most of his time in West Monroe and is widely known for his attraction to cowboy garb and movies. He walks into West Monroe and back to Swartz nearly every day in the week.

"Sometimes when I'm feeling extra special well, I go around Monroe and come by Sterlington to get to West Monroe," says Roper.

The managers have not yet set a time for Roper's walk, but it is expected to take place early next month. Meanwhile, the challenger gets daily briefings while the list of prizes grows. Names of firms and individuals sponsoring "Tex" are being posted at Simmie's cafe.

Allies Postpone Full Dress Armistice Meet With Foes

U. N. Command Delegation Calls Off Truce Parleys Hour Before Schedule; No Reason Is Given For Action

MUNSAN, Korea, Sunday, April 27 (AP— The U. N. command today postponed indefinitely a full dress armistice meeting at Panmunjom at which the Allies had been expected to unfold a bold new plan to break the long Korean truce deadlock.

One hour before the meeting was to begin, the Allies told the Reds the U. N. command delegation could not attend "due to unavoidable circumstances."

Col. Andrew J. Kinney, Allied liaison officer, told the Communists they would be informed when the U. N. command was ready.

The official U. N. command spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said "I cannot in any way amplify" the brief notice of postponement.

(In Washington, there was no immediate official explanation for the delay, but it was learned that the cancellation of the full-dress session, which had been billed probably as the beginning of a showdown with the Reds — had been anticipated there.

(Since there was no evidence at any point of differences of opinion between Washington authorities and the U. N. commander, General Ridgway, most obvious speculation was some one of the Allied governments had belatedly asked for an additional day or so in which to consider the step about to be taken in the truce negotiations. Barring some hitch, it was expected in Washington that the scheduled meeting would be held in 24 or 48 hours.)

When the Reds asked what the U. N. command wanted to discuss, the Allies merely replied "the armistice agreement."

There had been speculation that the United Nations called the plenary session to present a new formula for breaking the long armistice deadlock.

(American officials and Allied diplomats in Washington regarded the negotiations as moving into the showdown stage. They indicated a breakdown was possible, but expressed hope it could be avoided.)

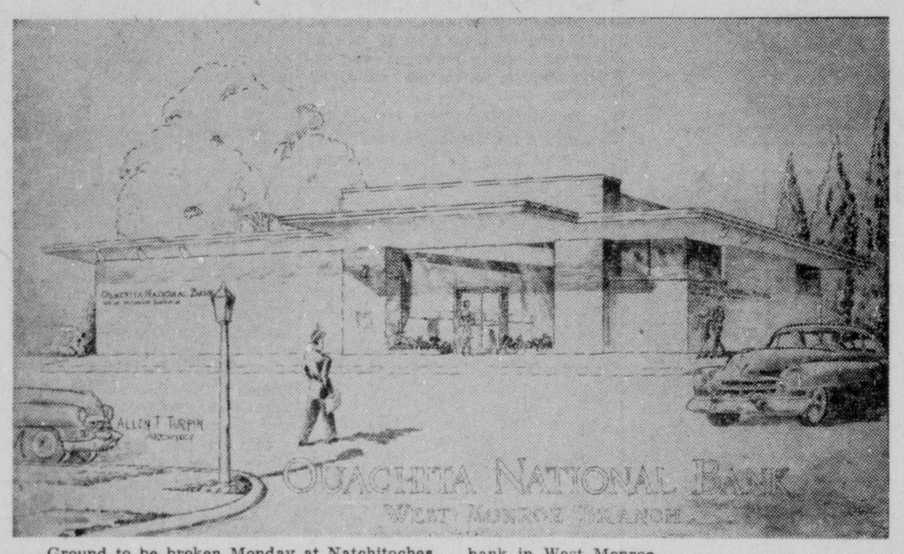

The full-dress session was called when developments at the Panmunjom conference tents indicated a complete stalemate.

Staff officers appeared on the threshold of reaching general agreement until the U. N. command told the Communists that only 59,000 of more than 116,000 military prisoners held by the Allies had indicated they wanted to be returned. The Reds demanded that all military prisoners be returned, but agreed indirectly to voluntary repatriation for North and South Korean civilian prisoners.

FINE NEW BANK BUILDING

Ground to be broken Monday at Natchitoches and Cotton streets for Ouachita National's Branch bank in West Monroe.

Construction Will Start Monday On Bank Bldg.

Construction will start Monday on the beautiful new building for the Ouachita National Bank in West Monroe, Mr. Vanderpool announced Saturday.

The new structure will be located on the corner of Natchitoches and Cotton streets and will occupy almost a quarter of a block with parking space for approximately 50 cars.

The West Monroe Bank, which is the largest bank building constructed in northeast Louisiana since the war, was designed by Allen T. Turpin, Monroe architect. The building is approximately 45'-0" x 80'-0" in size. The lobby is 40'-0" x 45'-0" with a 14' ceiling height, and contains seven Teller's cages, a modern convenient drive-in-window and three officers for the Bank Officials.

The Accounting Room is completely seperated from the Lobby and has been soundproofed to reduce noise. The Bank will contain a safety deposit vault, funds vault and records vault; and will be completely air conditioned for year round comfort.

The building will have reinforced concrete foundations and concrete floor slabs with finished floors of Terrazzo and rubber tile. The exterior walls will be 12" thick masonry construction and will be

In concrete evidence that Twin City people really have a heart, there lies before Jes' Ramblin' a check for $25 drawn by Nancy H. Weaks, made out to "John W. Osborn Memorial Fund." Appended to the check was a card of George G. Weaks which stated "a fine idea. Hope this will help start the fund for the Osborns."

This remittance is in reply to an appeal made the other day for financial aid for the Osborn family. This check, as stated, is honored as the initial one to be received.

At midnight a week ago last night, two lives were snuffed out when a blazing inferno transformed the frame two-story Osborn Hotel at Brownville into a yawning inferno.

Someone outside first discovering the blaze, rushed over to inform occupants of their danger, but he was unable to get inside the doomed building because of intense heat, but he did arouse those sleeping within.

All escaped in scanty clothing, among the number, John W. Osborn, manager of the hotel, and a mother with her two children. She was Mrs. Arnold Costin and she fled with an eight - months old daughter, Dorothy, in her arms as she led by the hand. Hershel Costin, her four-year-old son. But the boy broke from his mother's hand and plunged back into the blazing house.

Just then John Osborn, who had got safely out of the inferno, seeing the boy was about to get right back into the condemned building,

U. S. Jets Down Two Enemy Planes

SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, April 27 (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets shot down two Russian - made MIG-15 jets in a swirling battle at dusk over North Korea late yesterday, U. S. Fifth Air Force reported today.

The fight pitted eight Sabres with elements of a formation of 23 MIG

In an earlier battle near the Yalu river one MIG was probably destroyed, the air force said.

Optometrist Will Speak Here Friday

Noted in Optometry for his educational endeavors and leadership on a national scale, Dr. E. F. Richardson, will be guest speaker at the social dinner given by the Northeast Louisiana Optometric Society Friday night at the Hotel Virginia.

Thirty years of practical experience in this profession qualify Dr. Richardson as an expert on the myriad of visual problems which today beset the modern American.

Having served as president of the Hollywood, the Los Angeles and the California Optometric Associations, and finally as president of the National Association, Dr. Richardson is now touring the United States lecturing the various local Optometric Societies, emphasizing particularly the need for improved educational facilities to minimize the onset of visual problems in the early school grades, and stressing the importance of modern optometric techniques in dealing with those children whose eyes have succumbed to the demanding tasks imposed on them.

Rescues Squirrel Victim Of Highway Auto Accident

A little squirrel evidently plunged out across Jackson street, somewhere around the 1600 block and a speeding car struck it and crippled both hind legs. An animal lover passed that way soon after the accident. She was Mrs. Irwin R. Harper, 103 Pear street, who rescued the little fellow from the highway and tenderly carried it home.

She found that it had both legs fractured and was able to move

ELLENDER URGES END TO PRICE CONTROL PLAN

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP) — Sen. Ellender (D-La) called tonigh for Congress to let the government's wage and price control program die.

He declared that President Truman wants the defense production act extended "only to strengthen the power of the labor czars." That is the act which provides authority for the government's wage, price, rent and credit controls and the rationing of materials to industry. It is due to expire June 30.

"With supply of goods catching up with demand — and in many cases exceeding it," Ellender said, "about all the Congress can do now is to let the defense production act die a natural death."

"I do not think that it can any longer serve a constructive purpose," he said in a speech recorded for broadcast at 10:15 p. m., C. S. T., over station WWL, New Orleans.

Ellender accused the Wage Stabilization Board of "usurpations" and "abuses" of power which he said "have become a habit," and denounced its handling of the steel dispute.

"These usurpations of power by the wage board," he said, "added to the President's illegal seizure of the steel mills, show clearly that the President has no intention of using the defense production act to stem the tide of inflation, but only to strengthen the power of the labor czars."

He asserted the law "has been used only to pry higher wages from industry while keeping prices more or less level."

"Labor has been given almost everything it requested in the way of pay increases and fringe benefits," Ellender said, "while the employes and industry had to sit tight on the price line. The result has been that our economy is becoming completely out of balance and it is impossible now to administer the act fairly and efficiently."

The senator made sharp retort to the President's recent threat to hold Congress in session until New Year's unless it votes all the funds he believes are necessary for national defense and security. He said the threat "comes with singular ill grace."

Students Due To Take Over City Halls

The city halls of the Twin Cities will be taken over tomorrow by student officials from Neville and Ouachita Parish High Schools in observance of the annual "Student Government Day," which is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in conenction with civics and government classes in the schools. Acting as mayor from Neville will be Will Johnson, while Bob Currey will assume the mayor's office from Ouachita parish.

Students officials from Ouachita parish will be welcomed at the Monroe city hall by Mayor John E. Coon and Commissioners Frank Cline and John P. Simmons at 9 a.m. and the offices will be turned over to the students at that time. Meanwhile West Monroe Mayor C. C. Bell and other officials there will welcome the Neville students to their offices. At noon the two groups will exchange, with students from the city school taking over in Monroe and the parish school student officials assuming duties in West Monroe.

Serving as commissioner of finance and public utilities from Nevile will be Bobby Courtney. Spencer Edmiston will handle the job for the Ouachita students. Ouachita's Dwight Grubbs and Johnnie Clay from Neville will take over duties of the commissioner of the streets and parks, while Billy Nelson, Ouachita, and Johnny Crump, Neville, will act as city judges.

In the city marshal's office will be Pat Peterman from Ouachita and Joan McDonald from Neville.

FLOOD UNDER CONTROL AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City dikes stand the strain as the upper Missouri river's greatest flood surges past it on its way to the sea. LAW INSTITUTE PLANS SESSIONS

Annual Meetings Set For Shreveport May 8 Through May 10

The programs for the annual meetings of the Louisiana State Law Institute and the Louisiana State Bar Association are being completed.

The institute and the association will hold a joint introductory session on Thursday, May 8, at 10:00 a.m.

John H. Tucker, Jr., president of the institute and Walter J. Suthon, Jr., president of the association will alternate in presiding during the introductory session.

The invocation will be pronounced by Dr. William A. Alexander, pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Shreveport.

Mayor Clyde Fant, will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the city of Shreveport.

James A. Van Hook, president of the Shreveport Bar Association, will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the Shreveport Bar Association.

W. Davis Cotton, Rayville, will respond to the addreses of welcome.

After the adjournment of the joint introductory session the institute will convene for the balance of the day. The program for the institute's session, which is an important one, will be announced by the institute. The institute's banquet will be held on Thursday evening, May 8, and will have as its principal speaker, Orie L. Phillips, Denver, Colo., chief judge, United States circuit court of appeals, tenth circuit. His address will be entitled "The Treaty Making Power—A Real and Present Danger."

Howard L. Barkdull, Cleveland, O., president, American Bar Association, will address the association during the forenoon of Friday, May 9. The title of his address is: "An Integrated Program for the Organized Bar."

Walter J. Suthon, Jr., president of the association, will report on the activities of the board of governors and interesting developments of the asociation.

The forenoons of May 9th and 10th will be confined to the sessions of the association. The afternoon of May 9 will be devoted entirely to the annual meetings of the various sections of the association, all of which have interesting and instructive programs. The reports of the various committees will be submitted during the forenoon session on the 9th; reports of sections will be made on May 10. The afternoon of May 10 will be set aside for a barbecue, and entertainment to be had on Cross Lake.

Social features will include the luncheon for the ladies on Friday; cocktail party on Friday evening and dance that night.

A quick and easy way to wash a head of lettuce and separate the leaves at the same time is to cut out the white "core" or stem at the base of the head; then let the water flow in.

GEORGE TIDWELL GIVES PLATFORM

Mayoralty Candidate Offers Honest, Intelligent Administration

"Since Monroe belongs to the people who live and work in the community," said George Tidwell, in announcing his platform for mayor, "I have freely sought their counsel and advice while campaigning during the past six weeks. I shall continue to do so when elected.

"The people have helped me to evolve my platform," he continued. "We are all pretty well agreed on what Monroe needs. I merely propose to supply the leadership for the fulfillment of the wishes of the people.

GEORGE TIDWELL

"The people want, and I propose to exert every effort to give them:

"An honest, progressive and intelligent business administration. In dealing with the errors of the past and the problems of the present, I shall not lose sight of the inevitable future growth of the community.

"Strict economy in all phases of our municipal government. I shall do my utmost to see to it that the city derives 100 cents of value for every dollar expended.

"A permanent non - political citizens' committee to advise the mayor and commissioners. This committee should be composed of people from all walks of life and from all sections of the city. Unity of effort is needed in solving Monroe's present problems and is essential to plans for its future progress and growth.

"Open meetings of the commission council. All meetings of the council should be open to the public. Sessions should be scheduled for after - business hours in order that as many people as possible can attend.

"New industries. I shall cooperate in every effort towards the industrial development of Monroe and vicinity.

"Expansion of recreation facilities. Special attention should be devoted to the program for youth, the age group most susceptible to the pitfalls of delinquency.

"Additional fire stations and police sub - stations. These are needed to give the people of Monroe adequate fire and police protection.

"Solution of our traffic problem. Our traffic laws are badly in need of revision. Unnecessary traffic signals should be eliminated and traffic bottlenecks should be broken, thus permitting pedestrians and vehicles to move more freely. This would result in the saving of valuable time and prevention of accidents.

"Solution of our downtown parking problem. A comprehensive study of this situation will be required to arrive at a workable plan.

"A municipal bus terminal for downtown Monroe. Centrally located city property is available for such a terminal. City buses loading and unloading passengers at the curb now congest traffic on DeSiard, Jackson and North Third streets.

"An under- or over - pass in north and south Monroe. One is needed to clear traffic across the Illinois Central railroad; another, to clear traffic across the Missouri Pacific. I shall work hard toward obtaining the cooperation of the interested parties in the fulfillment of these projects and toward finding funds for their erection.

"A continuing training school for police. Our officers need training in proper handling of traffic and more serious violations of the law. The school would enable them to demonstrate proficiency in all phases of police activity, including courtesy, knowledge of local and state laws, efficient and impartial enforcement of laws and neatness in uniform.

"Cooperation with other elected officials. I shall be fair and honest in working with other officials, but I will insist that all policies adopted and decisions made shall be for the benefit of the people of Monroe.

"Modernization and revision of city ordinances. Obsolete laws should be thrown into the discard. Others should be revised and be brought up to date.

"A full - time mayor. The job is too big and important for a part-time man. I shall devote all of my working hours to the duties of the office and I shall be on call at all times.

"An open door to all at the city hall. I reiterate: Monroe belongs to the people. Elected and appointed officials are servants of the people. The doors of all departments under my administration shall be open at all times. All records will be open to inspection by the public and the press."

Although Mr. Tidwell has been active in civic affairs for a number of years, he is seeking public office for the first time.

Forty - three years old, he was born and reared in Ouachita Parish. He has been successfully engaged in the service station business for more than 20 years.

A graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, Mr. Tidwell attended the University of Alabama prior to entering business with his late father, Arthur Tidwell, and his brother, Arthur Tidwell, Jr.

During World War II, Mr. Tidwell served as an enlisted man in the United States Marine Corps. Upon returning to civilian life, he joined the American Legion, The Amvets and became a charter member of the Northeast Louisiana Detachment of the Marine Corps League. He served the latter organization as commandant in 1948-49. The next year, Louisiana's ex-Marines chose him state commandant.

Mr. Tidwell is married to the former Sue Parker. They have a daughter, Terri Sue. She is a senior at Neville High School.

Mr. Tidwell is a member of the First Methodist Church.

HOME FROM KOREA

First Lieutenant John D. Rushing, member of the first Cavalry Division of the Combat Engineers, is spending a 30-day leave with his wife, Mrs. Ruth Rushing, and little son, Mike. Home Demonstration Applauded

The week of April 27 through May 3 is National Home Demonstration week—the seventh to be observed in the United States

In 1951 there were 800 women in Home Demonstration Clubs in Ouachita Parish and 951 girls in 4-H Club work. Urban women in the Twin Cities received educational information in homemaking such as those now available to rural women in the parish. A special invitation is extended to all women and girls in Ouachita parish to join a Home Demonstration or 4-H Club, tune in on radio programs and attend demonstrations given by the agents.

The Home Demonstration Clubs and 4-H Clubs have played an important role in the transformation of life on the farm in recent years. They are responsible to a considerable extent for the fact that the adoption of better crop and livestock production methods and labor-saving machinery on the farm has been matched by improvement of life on the farm. Farm people themselves now share to a greater extent than before the benefits of greater and more efficient farm production.

The result has been a more stable agriculture and a better-fed and more prosperous America. We are glad to take this occasion to extend to these Clubs of Louisiana and the 47 other states their share of the credit for this happy condition.

Where We Are Going

The Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy has started public hearings "on both peacetime uses and military applications of atomic energy." Senator McMahon, chairman of the committee, says the hearings will be "in the nature of a progress report" on "where we stand today in atomic energy" after 10 years and an expenditure of $6,000,000,000 on the program.

Although Senator McMahon promises that the public will have a "far better picture of where we have been and where we are going," he also asserts that the information to be made public will be "scrupulously checked for security."

Now that Russia undoubtedly has produced an atomic bomb, this country's advantage rests less on secrecy than on its capacity to produce bombs in quantity and deliver them to target areas. Whether it is necessary to maintain the extreme caution that currently cloaks the atomic program is debatable.

However, the military development of atomic energy, particularly in weapons, is not its most fascinating aspect. Of great long - range significance are non - military developments.

The results of nonsecret research and experiments have been disclosed for the most part in technical speeches and articles. These have been prepared for scientific audiences and thus the public has been able to obtain only vague impressions of the progress made in applying atomic energy and its byproducts to the treatment of disease and in its use for the production of heat and power.

Public enlightenment is not the only good reason for giving this data wider distribution. It will help dispel the notion so assiduously promoted by the Communists that the American atomic program is bloodthirsty and wicked. The truth is that it holds some of mankind's brightest hopes.

The Whole Physician

Formed in 1950 to consider the problems of premedical training, a group of 250 college deans and professors has been discussing this special aspect of education at a conference in Buck Hill Falls, Pa. Of a wide range of reports, one of the most interesting concerned the education of what might be called the whole physician.

Here is what the report said:

"A balanced education will enhance both the professional and personal life of the physician and make him more aware of the overall problems of our society, as well as those dealing with the health and welfare of his patients."

That is, emphasis on the humanities and social sciences in educating premedical students is most desirable. In the curricula of most liberal arts colleges, premedical subjects are limited. Nevertheless, too great a degree of concentration upon a student's future professional field is sometimes possible.

Wherever such concentration occurs, the future doctor's education at that point goes out of balance. It is at the premedical level that future physicians are afforded their main chance for general education. At medical school and in conducting a practice, there is little or no time for the humanities or social sciences.

Yet now, more than ever, the physician must be aware of the overall social and economic problems of his time if his usefulness, both as a doctor and as a citizen, is to be at a maximum. Other things being equal, professional judgment will be sounder the broader the scope of the physician's interests. Awareness and total "affect," in psychiatric jargon, do not spring from professional competence alone.

Waste Creates Corruption

Defenders of the proposed Federal budget frequently challenge critics to point out specific places where substantial cuts can be made without weakening essential government activities. And sometimes they get away with this challenge, for the reason that the budget is so complex that the average man can hardly make head or tails of it.

Luckily, however, there are experts who can read and analyze even an $85,000,000,000 budget, and find out where money would be needlessly squandered. One such expert is Senator Byrd, who has specialized in fiscal matters during his whole public career. The Senator has submitted a detailed, step-by-step trimming program which would reduce the budget as a whole by the huge sum of $8,600,000,000. Other individuals and organizations have also presented detailed analyses showing where the budget can be reduced by comparable amounts—without eliminating or in any way weakening "necessary" government undertakings and policies.

These cuts take various forms. Some are simply designed to rid the government of routine administrative waste, resulting from duplication of effort, inefficient purchasing methods, excesses of red-tape, and so on. Others go further and would prevent the government from spending our tax money on jobs that should and can be done by private enterprise. These last would do more than just save money, important as that is—they would be a barrier to the blight of state socialism that has grown like a fungus over the past 20 years.

A wasteful government inevitably becomes a corrupt government—as recent sordid revelations of scandals and graft in high places proved. And a corrupt government can destroy a nation. All the signs indicate that the American people are awakening to that fact at last.

Petulance

President Truman's reluctant and belated order to throw open income tax returns of government officials to congressional investigators who have "credible evidence" against the accused will probably prove to be meaningless. It can always be maintained that the evidence is not credible.

But to be backed into a corner where he had no alternative to issuance of the order went down hard with the old boy. Since then he has let it be known that he thinks he could seize the newspapers if the whim struck him. And he threatens to call Congress back into session every day until January unless it gives him the $85,000,000,000 he says he could use.

What Others Say

EDITORS' Roundtable

TRUMAN AND THE PRESS

Editors, in large majority, think President Truman's seizure of the steel mills, if upheld, could serve as a precedent for seizure of newspapers and radio stations. A considerable minority sees no such dangerous precedent, and doubts that Mr. Truman really meant to imply such in his recent press conference statement. — The steel seizure is disapproved by a very large majority of editors. However, not enough editors yet specifically discuss impeachment of the president—apart from a generally desired supreme court decision in the matter—to indicate the division of opinion on that issue.

New York Herald Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "Asked whether the seizure of the steel mills offered a precedent for taking over newspapers and radio stations, Mr. Truman replied that under similar circumstances the president had to act for whatever was for the best interests of the country. . . . The answer was guarded and qualified. But Mr. Truman did not point out that freedom of the press has a very special guaranty in the constitution and thus left the unpleasant impression . . . . that the president regarded himself as a better custodian of the best interests of the nation than the fundamental law of the land."

Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator (Ind.-Dem.): "If the president can override property rights he can also nullify civil rights. The constitution forbids seizure of property without 'due process of law,' and also forbids interference with freedom of the press and speech. If the president can overrule the one, he can overrule the other. Indeed, he did abolish one civil right in the course of violating property rights by the steel seizure. He denied steelworkers the right to strike."

Nashville (Tenn.) Tennessean (Dem.): "Had he been willing to clarify his hasty reply, Mr. Truman might have removed some of the fears expressed by newspapermen. In the first place, it could have been pointed out that, actually, there could be no similar circumstances where the steel industry and the press are concerned. Under no circumstances could press seizure be considered as a defense measure except on political grounds; but if that ever came about, it would be sheerest dictatorship. . . . Mr. Truman should know this as well as any American, and we think he does."

New York Times (Ind. - Dem.): "Government seizure of private property once begun knows no stopping place. . . . . It would be quite plausible to seize newspapers that questioned the . . . power to seize. . . with such vigor that their continued publication was not 'for the best interests of the country' . . . Later assurances from White House sources do not reassure. These take the line that it was 'absolutely unlikely' that newspapers and radio stations would ever be seized in this country, but that the president had power in an emergency to take over 'any portion of the business community acting to jeopardize all the people.' "

Tampa (Fla.) Tribune (Ind. Dem.): "The whole question of presidential authority during a time of war or national calamity has troubled legal experts since Lincoln suspended the right of habeas corpus during the Civil War. Although a few congressmen and columnists talk of impeaching President Truman, congress shows no enthusiasm for this serious step. For one thing, Mr. Truman has only nine months in office; for another, there is no great public outcry against the steel seizure, possibly because the average citizen has trouble distinguishing this action from previous seizures . . . under the war powers law."

Washington (D. C.) Post (Ind.): "During the Cicil War the nation was on the verge of dissolution and armed conflict was almost at the White House doorstep. Nothing that happened in that crisis is a sound precedent for a presidential grab of power to deal with a current labor dispute. Soon after the war, moreover, the supreme court slapped down the outrageous doctrine of a presidential dictatorship in wartime. . . . The support of lawless action by dictatorial doctrine cannot be excused because Mr. Truman will be leaving office next January. . . . Tyranny . . . . is not made tolerable by hope that it may be temporary."

Philadelphia (Pa.) Inquirer (Ind.): "So clear is the menace that it is no wonder demands for impeachment of the president are heard. But impeachment, especially in an election year, could hardly be divorced from political considerations. This is not a political matter . . . Whatever happens in the steel situation, this question should not be dropped. It should be pushed to a final judicial decision —and if our liberties are to be preserved, the decision should be to uphold the rule of law, not the arbitrary power of the president."

Ripley's Believe It or Not!®

The Free Press

The essence of liberty is the expression and exchange of ideas. Where individuals cannot freely convey thoughts to each other — there is tyranny. A dictator initially conquers the minds of his own people. . . . Mediums for communicating ideas obviously represent the foundation of a democracy. And if it is shattered, every other right will inevitably be buried in the rubble. . . . Currently our free press in menaced by domestic censorship as well as foreign dictatorship. Washington has a vast propaganda machine that not only endeavors to influence the public mind, but attempts to deprive newspapers of essential sources of information.

The problem of news dissemination that the gov't should handle with surgical care has become the target of shotgun methods. It is a clear violation of the nation's fundamented concepts: For the Bill of Rights not only empowers the people with certain rights — it also protects them from the power of the gov't.

It is profoundly ironic that 20th Century Washington has completely ignored the brilliant logic of 18th Century Americans. Truman has yet to learn what Jefferson taught: "The people are the only censors of their governors; and even their errors will tend to keep these to the true principles of their institutions. To punish these errors too severely would be to suppress the only safeguard of the public liberty. The way to prevent these irregular interpositions of the people, is to give them full information of their affairs through the channel of the public papers, and to contrive that these papers should penetrate the whole mass of the people. The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right."

Freedom is not absolute, of course. It is limited by the borders of public welfare and personal decency. Freedom of press does not include the right to publish obscenity any more than free speech includes the right to incite riots. . . . People cannot have liberty without the responsibility of using it wisely.

The history of our free press is a story of constant struggle. American reporters have been jailed for circulating the truth, and newspapers have been suppressed by the arbitrary power of authorities. Yet the press has emerged with its liberty intact. The triumph of freedom may be deferred — it cannot be defeated.

There are also dangers beyond direct suppression. They are more subtle and frequently more hazardous. We refer to the pressure exerted by powerful, selfish groups —political, economic and social. The obstacles they raise prove again that the practical application of a noble ideal is always more difficult than an expression of admiration for the concept. Those who announce their devotion to democratic principles in a public forum — are the same people who sometimes try to stop reporters from telling the truth about them.

The free press ideal is an everlasting monument. The newspaper is an edifice that must be rebuilt every day.

Newspapers are basically economic units. The guardians of an idealistic heritage must operate on the basic of realistic necessity. Survival demands that a newspaper be self-supporting. To be free the press must not only be independent — it must also be profitable. The commercial aspects of journalism have often been attacked. Some of the criticism is justified. There have been — and are — publishers who make the presentation of news secondary to the protection of an investment. However, the extent of venality is not as widespread as the belittlers would have you believe. And the proof is this: Despite abuses the American press is the world's outstanding example of unfettered journalism. .. . The primary purpose of spreading the truth must function in conjunction with sound business methods. One cannot exist without the other. In brief, the Big Idea is to sell papers.

Stating that our press has its imperfections is as obvious as noting humans are fallible. But when you compare its failures to the extent of its achievements — you can understand its great accomplishment. It is not surprising to spot some inaccuracies in dailies. What is startling is that there aren't many more.

Journalism has been revolutionized during the past quarter-century by dailies that entertain as well as enlighten. History has its sideshows in addition to its tragic dramas. Laughing is as necessary as thinking. And sometimes an anecdote about a statesman reveals the man more clearly than his public addresses.

Conservative papers are still disturbed by what has loosely been described as "sensational journalism." They frequently deplore its methods and admonish its reporters. But historical evidence finds staid journals more guilty of hypocrisy than their targets are of sensationalism. One historian has noted this significant development: The March 1st, 1920, issue of the N. Y. Times did not contain a single picture, had less than one full page of sports news and its entire content consisted of two inches on the theater. Two decades later the average Times issue had a photo on almost every page, five pages of sports, a page of society news, and columns on books, art, dance, music, politics, theater news and movie gossip.

In short, the detractors of the tabloid had adopted its innovations.

Among the deficiencies of contemporary journalism is a lack of crusading vigor. The Great Thunderers of the past — Greeley, Bennett, Hearst, Pulitzer and Dana — have few echoes today. Much of their fire and fervor seems to have been buried with them. . . . They were not only reporters of events but active participants. They recorded history and made it. They knew the free press must utilize its liberty to fight for its preservation. In the final analysis a paper only proves it is free when battling those who undermine democracy's basic tenets — both at home and overseas.

They were more than newspapermen. They were soldiers.

Despite the ineptitude of some newsmen and the downright skulduggery of a minority, the press remains a fortress of our heritage. It has survived world wars and civil strife. It has overcome attempts to curtail or destroy its effectiveness. It has battled wardheelers and presidents. It has been — and is — one of the mightiest weapons against the ideological assaults of dictators. And it will survive the fumbling Truman administration.

The history of the American press has been a stormy one. . . . But its basic precepts have a timeless quality and continue to glitter. . . . Like the stars.

Louisiana--Its Community Life

By Ethel McIntyre

THE CLEARED LAND

On the fifteenth day of March, of this year, I sat and watched the clearing of a woodland pasture. Sweet gum, black gum, elm and oak trees, three to eight feet in circumference, some tall and straight with very few limbs, others, also reaching high into the sky with wide spreading branches stood a few feet apart over the entire plot of land, which contained at least eighty acres of ground. Blackberry briars, persimmon sprouts, grape vines and saw briars had twisted, en - twined and grown into a formidable mass of under-growth that even Brer' Rabbit must have looked at twice before attempting a passage through and then probably have decided to go around.

At one side of the wooded area stood an enormous steel - framed, six - cylinder track - type, tractor, with a bulldozer — a heavy steel hydraulically controlled pushblade, attached to the front of it. The motor had been running for several minutes when the operator climbed into the drivers seat, shifted gears and the huge steel machine, with it's built in power unit, crawled, with precision - like slowness into the bramble - covered, tree - studded land. The briars, vines and saplings vanished before the onslaught like "thistle before a windstorm." Then a tree blocked the progress of the machine. The blade was lifted high and forcefully pushed against the trunk which caused the tree to shake to the very tip of the top most twig. The tractor backed away, then came forward to hit the body with the heavy blade again, and still another time. With the third attack the big sweet gum slowly fell earth-ward. When it was leaning at a certain angle, the tractor again backed away, lowered the blade to the ground then pushed it scoop-fashion under the roots of the tree, loosing the dirt and clipping the roots. This was the finishing touch and a second later the gum lay full length on the ground. The whole process had taken but a few minutes. The driver now manipulated the tractor and bulldozer in a position to shove the tree to one side and immediately began on the next victim. When the task was completed, the trees and under - brush lay in huge heaps or wind - rows the full length of the field, where they will be allowed to dry for several months, then burned. After the trees have been burned, the bulldozer will be called back into service to fill in the cavities left where the trees had been up-rooted, and level the land.

As late as 1908, the land was cleared by hand. A farmer having a piece of new ground he wished to clear the trees from, gave a log-rolling, where all the neighbors were invited in to help. The memory of one such event has remained with me throughout the years. Everyone was up by three o'clock in the morning. The chores, such as milking, feeding the hogs and tending to baby chicks was done by the light from a kerosene lantern. The mules were hitched to the wagon and long before dawn we were on our way. To the children it was a lark, but it was no picnic to the adults involved. Just as the rising sun, tinted the eastern sky a rosy pink, several farmers had arrived at the designated farm, where they called cheery greetings to one another as they unhooked the mules from the wagons. The visiting ladies brought baskets of food to help the wife on this farm prepare the dinner to feed the hungry men.

The job that lay before them was gigantic, and I dare say the strongest heart would quail at the enormity of it today. Trees were sawed down, cut and piled into huge heaps by sheer physical force alone. Six to eight strong hickory sticks, cut to the desired length, were pushed beneath the log till the exact center of stick and log met. The men, working in pairs grasped each end of the stick, from opposite sides of the log. When all hands were ready the leader gave the order to "heave together." The log was lifted from the ground and carried to the spot, where other logs would be piled with it. Team work was essential. All hands had to lift together so the load would be equally balanced. The task must have been nerve-wracking. One unbalanced stick, the slip of one foot, would have thrown the tremendous load onto the team at one side of the log. If this had happened and the team had failed to hold the extra burden, it could have meant a broken arm, leg or possibly death to some member of the group. Men were judged on this day. If some member of the team juggled his stick an inch in his favor, giving his partner an extra load to carry, he lost the respect of every man in the field and regardless of what station in life he later attained, he never again won the esteem of the log rolling crew.

At noon the men came in for dinner and an hour's rest. The wives, of these pioneers of the soil, were cheerful when their husbands came in, safe and sound at the noon hour, but the tense expression returned to their faces, when the work was resumed in the afternoon. Each one of them knew the danger, ever present, in this day's work.

There was no place on this crew for a weakling or sluggard. When lifting the logs, the strongest arm and stoutest back were tried to the limit of human endurance yet the land was cleared. The end of a day of logrolling, saw stalwart men, looking across the cleared fields, too exhausted to do more than roll a cigarette with hands not too steady, but with a sense of completeness acquired from the knowledge of a job well done.

BASCOM TIMMONS In Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C.—This political campaign is beginning to follow the traditional pattern of American history—the East vs. the West.

The sweeping victories of General Dwight D. Eisenhower in New York and Pennsylvania, which were anticipated, to which will probably be added Massachusetts, off sets the imposing vote given Senator Robert A. Taft in Illinois, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Students of political history are reminded that prior to the turn of the century, the Middle West was the victor when Republicans won—with Grant, Hayes, Garfield and McKinley — while the only Democratic victor was Grover Cleveland, unless the popular victory of Samuel J. Tilden of New York overruled by the electoral college, be included.

Since 1900 there have been four presidents from the east — two from Massachusetts — and three from the west—Harding from Ohio, Hoover from California and Truman from Missouri. This does not include McKinley, assassinated a few months after his inauguration in 1901.

The recurrence of this division is cited for only one purpose, to provide background for the reasoning that the withdrawal of President Truman and the possible elimination of what Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas has called "Trumanism" may restore the type of political campaign in which the fundamental beliefs of the several sections of the vast United States were pitted against one another through the party candidates.

Lest this seem to ignore the South, it can be pointed out that this year there is more sentiment in that important section in the two leading Republican candidates than since the Hoover-Smith campaign of 1928. It is not improbable that the Republican nominee, whether it be Taft or Eisenhower will carry some southern state or states.

Gradually the South may find itself divided between the East-West cleavage. That would not have seemed possible as recently as 1948, but this year the Dixiecrat movement seems to be disappearing and the leading Democratic contender at this moment seems to be Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who comes from what is politically designated as a border state. One of the handicaps of Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia, his supporters are beginning to admit, is that he is labelled as the South's candidate. That gives him too much of a sectional background, they say, and it is too late to do anything about it.

The East and West had different viewpoints prior to the New Deal with the agricultural and mining west generally convinced, during the years of Republican rule that it had only a minority interest in government. That brought about the intermittent coalition between the south and the west, which during the New Deal years has on occasion become a Republican-Southern Democrat coalition.

The Eisenhower drive this year cannot be said to be concentrated in the east, since the general has support in many states, as a "new face" who could combat the threatened deterioration in American government. But it cannot be overlooked that for the past three presidential campaigns, the east has nominated the Republican

George E. Sokolsky: THESE DAYS

THE QUESTIONNAIRES

During the recent meetings of editors and publishers in New York, the matter of questionnaires addressed to General Eisenhower loomed large, with forcible expressions on the subject. Some thought that he should answer questions; others that he should not.

Whether the questions are well worded or not, whether they are loaded or not is of little interest, because no matter what is asked, a man who knows what he thinks can answer as he chooses. Questionnaires are being composed by nearly everybody who owns a pencil.

Furthermore, all the arguments about General Eisenhower being in uniform are strictly eye-wash, because he has been a candidate in uniform whether he answers questionnaires or not; he has received delegations of American businessmen and politicians at his headquarters in Paris; he has commented, reservedly it is true, on his victories in the primaries. He has received Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and Paul G. Hoffman whose meetings were strictly political and were so reported.

In a word General Eisenhower has been political for many months, despite the uniform, in all phases of a pre-convention campaign except in that phase which has dealt with an expression of opinion. There, of course, his embarrassment is great, because as a Republican he must be opposed to the President, but as a general he is the President's subordinate. This paradoxical position surely cannot be prolonged after June 1 when he ceases to be the head of NATO.

It should never have been permitted. It would seem that a due sense of propriety should have impelled General Eisenhower to have resigned as soon as he authorized that his name be entered in any primary. The choice was his whether he would continue as an active general or become a politician, if there is a conflict, which is doubtful, because many of our top generals have been playing politics for years. General Eisenhower's choice to be both simultaneously is the cause for the questionnaires, particularly the "Knoxville (Tennessee) 21 questions" which have received so much attention.

These questions were issued before they were answered, which some have criticized as discourteous; however the questions themselves are important because they are so complete. They could be an outline for the platforms of both parties.

It is possible that the campaign by silence, which the Eisenhower strategists have decided upon, will not interfere with his getting the nomination. However, sooner or later, any candidate must speak his mind or be regarded as one who has no mind. What many Republicans fear is that, even if nominated, Eisenhower will suffer during the election campaign from a lack of clarification of his position. This could lead to a Democratic victory. It is to be assumed that Eisenhower would, if nominated, speak his mind during the campaign, but the suggestion that he will not resign until nominated causes some to wonder whether he will not say that he will continue in uniform until elected.

The danger in this silence is greater to the country than to a political party. Under the American theory, no man is too important to seek the office of President of the United States. No man, whatever his accomplishments, lessens his stature by admitting that he is devoting himself to a campaign for his selection. Our leading men are not Chinese mandarins who publicly reject office while privately they labor to obtain it. Greater men than Dwight D. Eisenhower have campaigned for themselves for the Presidency.

Therefore, there can be no humiliation in his telling the citizens what he thinks. To do it by proxy is worse, however, than not to do it at all. The answers remain the proxy's views until they are accredited by the principal.

Many who ardently support General Eisenhower take the same view as his opponents on this subject. I have heard it said by some of General Eisenhower's supporters that they fear that the strategy of silence is particularly harmful, as affecting those who are on the fence, those who like Eisenhower and would support him but who wonder what Eisenhower likes.

My discussions with publishers and editors force upon me the conclusion that the campaign by silence reduces the political and intellectual stature of the general. If it is continued after June 1 it will be increasingly damaging to him.

No candidate for President can afford to be too proud to talk. (Copyright, 1952, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ran after him and soon both were in the midst of death - dealing flames. Neither could escape and bodies of both, badly charred, were recovered later from the debris.

This story of heroism needs to be stressed. It proved an unusual act of self-sacrifice and it was not any act of rescue of any kindred. It was to save the life of a little fellow in no way related. He forgot his own family, his own self and all that life meant to him when he made the fatal plunge into those roaring flames.

Surviving is his wife, a teacher in a public school in West Monroe, and two small children. It will be a hard upgrade struggle to rear and educate her family with the loyal support of her husband, the child's father, no more able to lend needed aid.

If there ever was a case where a man deserved to be recognized in a self - sacrificing death it is John W. Osborn. The memory of his unselfish action will remain for years to come, but right now the struggle of life will be on the shoulders of Mrs. Osborn.

A fellow worker at the Brown Paper Mill stated yesterday, "There is no more deserving case than that presented by the Osborn family. Of course they would be the last people in the world to make any request for aid, but assistance will be greatly appreciated."

"I knew John as a fine fellow but I never would have realized that he would so readily have sacrificed all that life held dear to him as he has done!"

This man, no seeker for publicity for himself, has aided at the Brown mill to secure some donations for the family. Saturday it was said that more than $200 had been contributed there by loyal friends of Osborn.

Much more money is needed. This is to appeal to have subscriptions come to this office for the "John W. Osborn Memorial Fund," as Nancy Weaks has designated it in a beautiful and highly appreciative manner.

A Carnegie Hero medal is being asked in connection with this case. It seems that this should be one that satisfies requirements and would be greatly prized by Mrs. Osborn and the children.

The life is wiped out for all time, but there lingers a sacred memory. Can't we have many contributions from fellow workers, friends, and from school teachers, those people whose lives most closely were akin to those of the afflicted family?

Remember:

"Greater love hath no man than this that he give his life for his friends."

All donations will be given acknowledgment as they are received.

West Monroe's city hall, a group met to discuss preliminary plans for conducting a rat killing campaign on a city-wide basis. Attending the meeting was the health officer and experts on insecticides and rat poisons.

A general meeting was set for next Friday night. All merchants, businessmen and residents of West Monroe are urged to attend.

It was pointed out at the last meeting that an organized campaign similar to the one planned, has never been conducted in West Monroe.

Trapp said he had directed several such campaigns in other cities. And he offered to direct the drive in West Monroe.

It was estimated that the campaign would cost between $250 and $350. It was also estimated that rat damage now runs into several thousand dollars per month in the city.

Most West Monroe merchants and residents conduct sporadic, individual campaigns against rats, but only by the concerted efforts of all in one campaign can there be any effective eradication of rats and mice.

A night depository will be provided on the Natchitoches street entrance; and the drive-in-window with entrance from Cotton street will be protected with carport.

The building will be constructed by Jesse F. Heard & Son contractors of West Monroe. Bids were requested and all contractors informed that time of completion would be considered as well as cost of construction. Mr. Heard was $5 above the lowest bidder on cost but was 80 days below said bidder on time of completion.

MASS. VITAL

due to his expectation of getting 56 in the May 6 Ohio primary.

Massachusetts Republicans may express themselves directly on their preference for the party's nominee, with a space provided on the ballot for write-in.

Campaigns have been conducted for both Taft and Eisenhower on this front, and Taft has spoken in the state. "Ike" and "Bob" nicknames written on the ballot will be counted.

More important, perhaps, will be the voters' choice of 38 national convention delegates, 10 picked at large and two from each of 14 congressional districts. The at-large slate has two pledged to Taft, two favoring Eisenhower and six undeclared.

If Massachusetts proves something of a toss-up, Missouri's selection of 26 delegates — beginning with an eighth district convention there Tuesday, will shape up as highly important.

Manuel H. Davis of Kansas City, said "this is an Eisenhower state by a large margin."

Royal Coburn of St. Louis, co-chairman of the Taft forces, didn't make any predictions. But he said Taft has "considerable strength" in rural areas.

Texas won't hold its convention until May 27, by which time its choice of 38 delegates could prove weighty unless one or the other of the major candidates shows an expected spurt in the meantime.

In Washington With BASCOM TIMMONS

presidential candidate each time and he has been defeated. The Taft forces are hammering away at this argument at every opportunity.

They claim that while "Ike" will be nominated from Kansas his big support will be from New York (where he probably will vote) and other eastern states. Pennsylvania, which traditionally sends an uninstructed delegation to the Republican convention but eventually climbs on the bandwagon of the east's candidate, is in the same position this year, though Governor John Fine has said that he will consult with all groups and candidates, including General Douglas MacArthur.

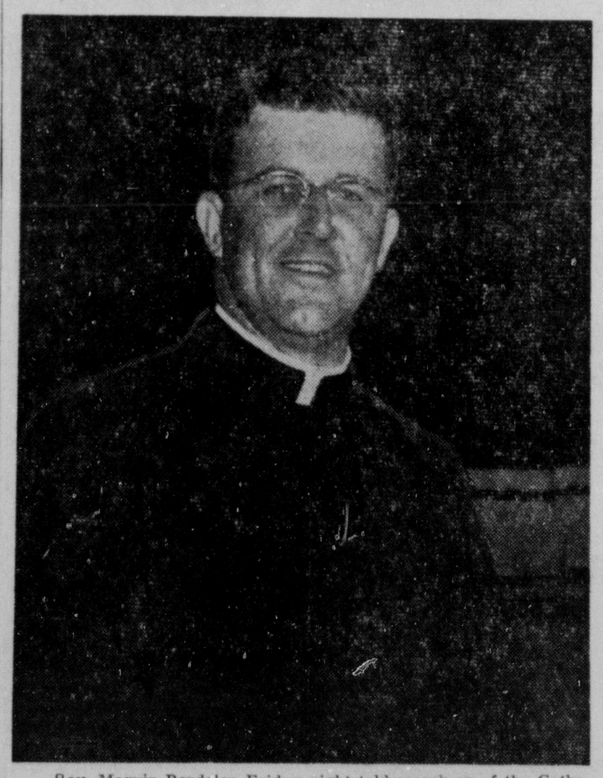

All this leads to the following conclusions by Washington political observers:

1. The Republican party division is the sharpest it has been since the bipartisan alliance on foreign policy was welded in the early days of World War II. From a Washington viewpoint, based on reports from all parts of the country, it may create a rift at the convention, regardless of the nominee, which will seriously affect Republican chances. For example, 5,000,000 nominal Republicans stayed away from the polls in 1948 because they did not like Dewey, which could be repeated if Eisenhower were the nominee. On the other hand, Taft's nomination might swing a strong pro-Eisenhower element to support of the Democratic nominee.

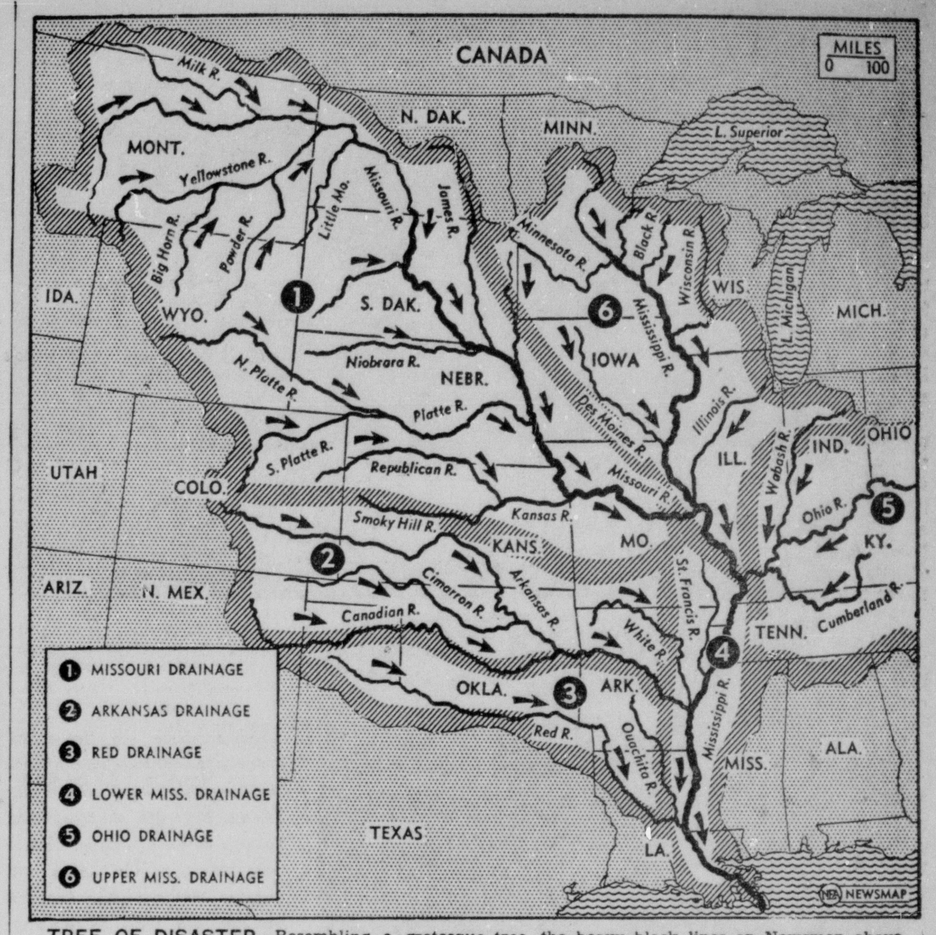

2. The prospect of a Republican split has revived talk by Democrats of drafting Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, which he is expected to discourage. But if Kefauver can win a big victory or make a substantial showing in the Florida primary on May 27, he can definitely take the lead in the race for the Democratic nomination.

TREE OF DISASTER—Resembling a grotesque tree, the heavy black lines on Newsmap above trace the courses of the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers, now swollen with flood waters, and their most important tributary "branches." Black arrows show how spring rains and melting snows in Montana, the Dakotas and other upland areas are carried by one river after another into the overburdened Mississippi and Missouri mainstems. Diagonally shaded lines enclose the six major areas that pour water down into the Missouri and Mississippi valleys. Not indicated are the myriad twig-like brooks and leaf-like swamps, ponds and marshes that feed -- often with disastrous results—America's six biggest river basins.

FARM AND LIVESTOCK REVIEW

Rains Force Second Planting Of Cotton

Out at the Neil McHenry farm, cotton isbeing planted for the second time this year under the direction of Reuel Hightower, veteran farm supervisor.

"We had about two thirds of the cotton planted when the rains came," Hightower said. "They wiped out all our work but we're starting over again."

But the black rain clouds that flooded the cotton fields had a salutary effect on the corn which has thrust up four inches. "We planted Dixie 18 hybrid corn and Louisiana 521 hybrid," Hightower said.

Right now the farm workers are also busy transplanting Bermuda grass for pasture.

Hightower, who was reared on a farm in Claiborne parish, says that he grew up with the McHenry farm. When he came to the farm 19 years ago, only 300 acres were being cultivated.

At the present time 1500 acres are under cultivation. Two more cotton picking machines will be pressed into action during this year's harvest, he said.

"But they still won't pick more than half of the crop," Hightower qualified.

He is also in charge of the farm machine shop.

"We do all of the maintenance jobs except lathe work in the shop," he said.

The farm's machine equipment is comprised of 10 International and four John Deere tractors, a Massey-Harris corn picker, and four cotton picking machines.

4-H Members Buy Calves

FERRIDAY, La., April 5—Four Concordia parish 4-H club members have purchased beef calves and are starting to feed them for contests during the coming year.

They are Patsy and James Huff, Lake St. John, and Charles and Gerald Webb, Clayton. The Webb youngsters secured graded Herefords from the plantation on which they live and the Huffs bought theirs from J. H. Swell in Adams County, Mississippi.

Patsy Huff had the reserve champion at Delhi at the district show this year. Her calf sold for one dollar a pound to Orrin James of Ferriday. It weighed 850 pounds. In addition her calf also won a $50 premium at the show.

Seven other Concordia youngsters are seeking beef calves, and anyone having them for sale are urged to contact Joseph Milby in Vidalia.

Ferriday Club Plans Program

FERRIDAY, La., April—The annual 4-H club achievement day will be held in Ferriday April 25 under the supervision of Miss Inez Calloway, home demonstration agent, county agent and assistant.

The contest for boys will include poultry, judging, general livestock judging, corp judging, and general demonstration team.

Girls' contests will be in poultry, clothing, baking, health, and gardening. In addition each club will compete against the others in a song and yell contest. Tests will continue from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m. one of the sponsors of the campaign.

NEW USAGE FOR DEPLETED LAND OUTLINED

BATON ROUGE, La., April 25 (AP) —New and profitable uses for worn-out land in the South were described to agronomists and researchers from 13 cotton belt states here today.

"With the national population increasing at the rate of two million a year, the big job of the agricultural research workers is to learn how to get more production from the land," Dean J. G. Lee of Louisiana State University College of Agriculture told them.

The delegates, representing agricultural experiment stations in their respective states, are attending the Ninth Annual Southern Pasture and Forage Crop Improvement Conference.

W. G. Taggert, director of the LSU experiment station, described a project at the Franklinton station where "cutover pine land that was returning little dividend was converted into a pasture that netted $250 in one year."

A year-round grazing program was termed "still a gamble in most sections of the South" by Dr. Roy E. Blaser of the Virginia Experiment Station.

"I believe we are doing farmers an injustice," he said, "by talking too much about a 12-month grazing program when it is actually a hazardous undertaking."

R. K. Walker, superintendent of the rice experiment station at Crowley, pointed out that the "year-round grazing program has become a fact in the rice section of the gulf coast area."

He said experiments showed that a "combination of improved pastures and supplementary winter and summer pastures will furnish enough grazing and hay . . . for the entire year."

Others taking part in the discussion included: W. W. Woodhouse Jr., of the North Carolina Experiment Station, and D. G. Sturkie of the Alabama Station.

Delegates to the conference are from Louisiana, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Kentucky and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Name Leader Of Dairy Month

BATON ROUGE, La. — George White of Homer, will serve as Louisiana chairman of the 1952 June dairy month campaign, according to E. W. Neasham dairy specialist, L. S. U. Agricultural Extension Department.

June dairy month, an annual merchandising and public relations drive now in its 16th year, celebrates the time of year when cow's milk is the richest and most plentiful.

The selection of Mr. White as chairman was made by a committee of Louisiana dairy leaders. His acceptance was announced by C. R. Schoby, chairman of the June dairy month National Sponsor Committee and president of the American Dairy Association, one of the sponsors of the cam-

Tech Expands Work In Livestock Classes

RUSTON, April 6 (Special) — Livestock production classes at Louisiana Tech have now been expanded to include sheep and more beef cattle, following the recent acquisition of registered Hampshire sheep and registered Hereford and Aberdeen-Angus beef animals at the college farm.

In making this announcement, M. Hayne Folk, Jr., dean of the School of Agriculture and Forestry, also noted that the college's poultry unit is adding a turkey and chicken broiler house which should be in operation by June 1.

"Sheep have added to Tech's livestock program because sheep production is increasing n popularity throughout the South, and particularly in north Louisiana," Dean Folk said.

"The Hampshire sheep, such as we have in the flock here, is one of the largest of the medium-wool breeds. Although these sheep are raised primarily for mutton, the wool shorn from each one will usually bring sufficient money to defray annual feeding costs for that animal."

One of the ewes was judged a champion yearling female at the Louisiana State University 1951 spring livestock show when shown there by Roger Davis of Natchez, Miss. All of the Tech animals are registered and were secured by Davis from flocks in Tennessee, Texas, Kentucky and Illinois.

In expanding its beef cattle enterprise, the college has added registered stock which includes a Hereford bull, six Hereford cows, and two Aberdeen-Angus cows.

"For several years the college has maintained a limited number of registered Hereford and Aberdeen-Angus animals," Dean Folk said, "but now our goal is to establish a 25-cow herd within each of the two breeds."

Two recent gifts also contributed to the size of Tech's beef herd.

A Hereford bull was given the college by Jimmy Gilfoil of Tallulah, and Dr. Ralph King of Winnsboro donated three registered Hereford animals.

"The purchase of three more Hereford females has given the college a group of very desirable animals for developing a registered herd having ideal beef conformation," Dean Folk added.

Two Aberdeen-Angus females were purchased recently, also, to bring this herd's total to eight females and one bull.

Louisiana Tech also maintains two breeds of dairy cattle. In the Jersey herd of 40 cows, milk production averages 24,750 pounds of milk and 1,322 pounds of butterfat per month. Individual cows in this herd average 640 pounds of milk and 38.5 pounds of butterfat each month.

In the Holstein herd, with 26 producing cows, production has been 23,590 pounds of milk and 828 pounds of butterfat for a monthly average of 859.5 pounds of milk and 30.2 pounds of butterfat per animal.

These figures place the Tech herd in top spot within the North Louisiana Dairy Herd Improvement association, according to Hal G. Barker, assistant professor of dairy husbandry.

Another feature of the college's farm program now being developed further is the poultry unit, with the addition of the turkey and chicken broiler house.

Grass Grows In Popularity

BATON ROUGE, La., April 25 (AP) —Grass, once a bane of farming, is growing in popularity in the South.

"Twenty years ago," P. R. Henson of Beltsville, Md., told agronomists here today, "you couldn't have found five men in the South who wanted to talk about grass. Now every experiment station in the South is trying to find how to produce more grass and other forage crops for the South's expanding livestock industry."

Henson, of the division of forage crops and diseases, U. S. Department of Agriculture, addressed delegates from experiment stations in 13 cotton belt states to the Ninth Annual Southern Pasture and Forage Crop Improvement Conference at Louisiana State University.

For years grass was regarded as one of the farmer's biggest enemies, he said, but now it is "becoming the ally of the southern farmer."

The theme of the morning session was how to grow more grass and other forage crops. Discussion leaders included J. K. Leasure, Knoxville, Tennessee Experiment Station; E. N. Fergus, Lexington, Kentucky Experiment Station; and G. W. Burton, Tifton, Ga., U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Agronomists and Research Workers from the various cotton belt experiment stations attending the conference were: W. W. Woodhouse, North Carolina; L. C. Crowder, Georgia; D. W. Jones, Florida; O. E. Sell, Georgia; P. G. Hogg, Mississippi; R. C. Buckner, Kentucky; C. R. Owen, LSU; Edwin James, Georgia; E. C. Holt, Texas; P. B. Gibson, Alabama; C. H. Hanson, North Carolina; J. M. Elrod, Georgia; P. C. Sandal, Arkansas; and A. T. Wallace, Florida.

T. H. Rogers, plant breeder at the Alabama Experiment Station, is general chairman of the conference.

USDA reports that chemical fertilizers provide farmers with an effective means of building the land for increased future production as well as playing an important part in current production.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hollingsworth of the Drew Community are remodelling their home. O. D. is doing the work himself. They are letting Bobby Glenn and Joyce LeJean participate in selection of paper, etc. They took the Family Life Project last year

Many of the women in the home demonstration clubs will wear a restyled Easter Bonnet (even the agent). The leaders working in this project are:

Mrs. A. T. Stout, Logtown; Mrs. O. J. Hamm, Fairbanks; Mrs. R. T. Luckat, Sterlington; Mrs. Inez Spangler, Colony; Mrs. C. K. Brooks, Woodlawn; Mrs. H. P. Carter, Cheniere; Mrs. L. M. Bayne, Claiborne.

Club members of the Drew Home Demonstration Club had a real treat in the Family Life Demonstration on adjustment for happiness in marriage given by Mrs. G. A. Strozier. She had a thorny family tree representing the unhappy home. In this tree she placed jealousy, lacking in love, misunderstandings, disagreements, carelessness, impersonal habits, profanity, etc.

A bouquet of flowers represented the happy home. In it she placed love, Christianity, understanding by facing disagreements and talking them out for better loyalty to each other, etc

VETERAN DAIRY WORKER TACKLES RESPONSIBLE JOB

Milton Holyfield, dairy supervisor at the Oscar McDonald farm is a husky, soft spoken man who handles exigencies that arise during the day with a competency developed by 25 years of experience.

Born in Claiborne parish, Holyfield got his start in the dairy business when he was still in knee pants. He worked as a milk truck helper and worked his way up through a succession of jobs that equipped him with a knowledge of all facets of dairy work.

Right now he is supervising the milking of about 28 cows daily. The farm dairy workers are utilizing Dealey valve milkers and the cows are giving an average of 85 gallons daily.

"One black Holstein started out by giving eight gallons of milk daily," Holyfield said.

The 122 head of cattle at the McDonald farm graze in fields matted with clover and lespedeza. Two milk and shorthorn bulls were recently acquired for breeding with the Jersey and Holstein cows.

"I've been in the dairy business these many years and have no intention of changing to something else", Holyfield said. "And at this time of year with our field of crimson clover almost ready to bloom I realize what a hold farm life has over me."

Fertilizer Aids Plants

Commercial fertilizer helps make up plant food losses and one of the most effective means of improving soils of low natural fertility.

Prior to World War I, American agriculture was entirely dependent on foreign sources for potash, but today private enterprise has brought the nation virtual "potash independence."

The natural fertility of the soil, whether it was rich or poor in the beginning, is an important factor in determining the need for fertilizers.

Fertilizer manufacture in the United States was begun in a small plant in Baltimore in 1849 and today is one of the largest units of the heavy chemicals industry.

The use of chemical plant food in the United States probably dates back in 1830 when Chilean nitrate of soda was first imported.

Money can be saved by buying fertilizer on the basis of the cost per pound of plant food rather than the cost per ton.

Farmers should use adequate quantities of recommended fertilizers to obtain profitable yields of high quality crops.

Fertilizer consumption in the United States has increased from a pre-war average of about 7.5 million tons to over 20 million tons in 1951.

There are more than 100 chemical nitrogen plants in the United States and in addition large quantites of nitrate of soda are imported from Chile.

About 40 per cent of the nation's rock phosphate supply is in Florida and Tennessee and 60 per cent in the Rocky Mountain States.

Ordinary superphosphate, a valuable fertilizing material, has been manufactured in the United States for over 100 years.

A critical shortage of sulfur—used to make sulfuric acid—is a serious factor in the 1952 shortage of superphosphate.

Consumption of fertilizer in the west north central states of Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas has increased 965 per cent since 1939. USDA, Land-Grand Colleges and others appraising the productive capacity of American agriculture in the mobilization period, estimate that 70 per cent more fertilizer than was used in 1950 would be needed to achieve the level and pattern of production attainable by 1955.

Ouachita Farmers Are Urged To Plant Added Feed Grains

Unless farmers plant more feed grains than they did last year the country may face a serious shortage of livestock feed at a time when more production is badly needed, states Berry W. Wilson, Jr., county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administrtion for Ouachita parish. Recent reports indicate that the acreage that farmers intend to plant in feed grain is about nine million acres short of the 1952 goal. All agricultural agencies are cooperating in a drive to help farmers reach the goals, explained Wilson.

Farm operators in Ouachita parish who use supervised credit to develop efficient family-type farms are being asked to review their plans for the coming year and make every effort to plant all they had planned and to carry out recommended crop production practices. The services of the local Farmers Home Administration offices are available to any borrower who wants help in overcoming a production problem, stated Wilson.

Crop production practices recommended in Ouachita parish are the use of improved open pollinated and hybrid seed corn varieties, more efficient application of fertilizer before planting and side dressing with a high nitrogen analysis fertilizer to increase yield per acre. Better control of weeds, insects and diseases has also resulted in higher yields. Proper storage of feed and grain on farms and better use of machinery are other practices being followed. Soil building, maintenance of farm buildings, proper feeding, balanced rations and improved water-use practices are other ways that are being used to increase feed production.

Production of more feed for livestock is one of the nation's most important needs, department officials say. Compared with last year's production we need 15 per cent more corn on 6 per cent more acreage, 29 per cent more grain sorghums on 18 per cent more acreage, and 14 per cent more barley on 19 per cent more land.

More feed grains and forage crops for the near-record numbers of livestock now on farms is needed to boost the output of milk and meat. Records show that for two successive years our feed reserves have dwindled.

All of the farm families using supervised credit whether their loans are for operating needs or for purchase of development of their farms, are rearranging their farm enterprises in such a way that their farms and their labor will be more productive than they have been before. Special attention is being given to greater production of the feed crops and other farm production which is needed to avert shortages.

Several conditions exist today that make more farm production necessary, Wilson explained. Domestic requirements are increasing. Each day an additional 7,000 people — the equivalent of a good sized town—are added to our American population. We have 7,000 more mouths to feed today than we had yesterday—to say nothing of more bodies to clothe. Tomorrow, there'l be another 7,000. In addition, our per capita food consumption is 13 percent higher than the prewar average.

Another fact to be considered is that our men in uniform eat more than civilians. In addition, the food needs of other nations that are directly in the path of communistic aggresion must be met in part by the United States.

High production also helps in pressure on wages and prices is the fight against inflation. The eased only when the supply of food and fiber is sufficient to meet the demand.

The Agricultural Mobilization Committee for Ouachita Parish recommends that farmers re-examine their plans for this year's crops and pay special attention to increasing the planted acreage in corn and forage crops. Members of this committee are: Robert G. Harmon, chairman; T. T. Jones, PMA committeeman; H. F. Downs, PMA committeeman; J. J. Joyce, county agent; I. Lucas, PMA administrator and Berry W. Wilson, Jr., FHA supervisor.

4-H Members Train Calves

FERRIDAY, La., April 22. — Concordia parish 4-H club members have recently purchased beef calves and have started feeding and training them to exhibit in the parish, district and state livestock shows.

Patsy Huff, 4-H club member who exhibited the reserve champion baby beef at the district show in Delhi, and her brother, James, bought two registered Hereford calves with J. R. Sewell in Natchez.

Other club members who have registered calves are Charlaine Turner, Richard Alwood, Charles Webb, Sonny Turner, Gerald Webb, Sonny Turner, Gerald Webb, and Carolyn Alwood.

Five other club members, Wayne Wade, Carlos Beard, Johnny Sturgeon, Willard David, Jr., and Gene Taylor, Jr., will buy registered calves as soon as the calves are old enough to take away from their mother.

These club members will buy their calves from registered herds owned by Dorris Ballew, Roland Stacey, and J. R. Sewell of Natchez. Joe Milby assistant county agent said these three breeders, all of Natchez, are making a great contribution to the Concordia parish 4-H program.

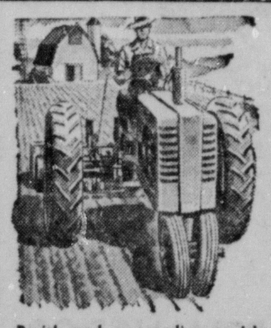

Dairy Dangers Are Stressed

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Improper use of antibiotics in the treatment of mastitis, a common dairy cattle disease, may render milk unfit for use in the manufacture of cheese, buttermilk and other dairy products, Louisiana farmers were told today.

Dr. J. B. Frye Jr., head of the Louisiana State University dairy department, said the American Dairy Science Association warned such a condition might result in heavy losses from the manufacture of inferior products or total loss of the milk intended for processing.

American Flier Chronicles Experiences During Harrowing Korean War Rescue

By SAM SUMMERLIN

TOKYO, April 26 (AP)—In a quiet voice, a young U. S. flier today told how he survived one of the most hair-raising air rescues of the Korean war.

Lt. Harry L. Winberg of Jamestown, N. Y., said he feels lucky to be alive.

The bandage covers the spot where Winberg was hit by a sniper's bullet as he dangled with one leg hooked in sling lowered from a rescue helicopter.

Winberg told this story at a press conference while on a brief visit to Tokyo:

"I'm an F-80 (Shooting Star jet) pilot," Winberg started out

"We were cutting rails last Sunday afternoon near Sunchon, about 100 miles into enemy territory."

It burst into flames.

The pilot pushed his ejector button, and shot out of the falling craft, still strapped to his seat. He forgot to unfasten his seat belt.

"But the chute somehow opened, just about as my feet hit the ground," Winberg said. "I hit the side of a hill, and slid down about 70 feet. I didn't realize I was still in the seat until I tried to stand up.

"Right away," he continued, "I spotted 15 or 20 Communists coming up the hill toward me. I got rid of the seat, grabbed my survival kit and started climbing as fast as I could go, up the hill."

"But I heard rustling in the bushes and heard the 'Gooks' coming. I dove down another side. Luckily, I found a big rock jutting out, and crawled in the shadows under that.

"I could hear voices above me. Not more than 15 feet away.

"The Commies kept beating the bushes, looking for me. One fellow's eyes passed right through me. But I didn't move, and he didn't see me. He went away."

Winberg said he got in touch with rescue teams over his two-way portable radio, part of his survival kit.

"That radio saved my life. I could tell them where I was without exposing myself. They told me a helicopter couldn't get in that day as it was getting dark. I had to wait until morning. No food or water.

"At dark, I climbed back up to the cleared spot. The Communists were gone. I tried to sleep, but it was too cold. I tried to figure out a good place for the helicopter to pick me up. The trees were too high for him to land. He'd have to use a winch.

"At daylight, I crawled back under my rock. About one hour after sunrise, a flight of F-80s and 52's (F-51 Mustangs) flew over. They told me over the radio the chopper (helicopter) would be over to pick me up about nine. I kept talking to them every five minutes.

"Firing started from all around, those Communists were shooting from every direction," Winberg continued.

"The chopper said he could make just one pass. He dropped down. I grabbed for the sling, and missed it.

"But he came around again, and hovered over me. The winch caught in a tree. I ran over to the tree, climbed up a ways, and got it clear.

"The pilot couldn't see me. I got one leg in the sling and the copter swung me out over the canyon.

"I saw a sniper slide down a hill and aim his carbine at me. The bullet creased my forehead. It didn't knock me out, it sure hurt but I had a death grip on that sling.

"I managed to get my other leg in and we swung away.

"The winch started pulling me up. I grabbed the rod on the side of the helicopter and swung up.

"But the door was closed. I pounded on it. The pilot finally saw me. He opened the door and I climbed in. Blood was spurting all over the cockpit and my clothes.

"Then we got hit in the gas tank. The pilot said gas was leaking out fast. We headed for the coast, and radioed for the navy to get a flying boat to pick us up.

"The flak was terrific. And we were bucking a 50-mile headwind. Then I found out this was the pilot's first rescue. He was kinda shaky about that flak too.

"We got over the water, and sure enough, a flying boat appeared and another helicopter. But we made it to a friendly island. They patched me up, a transport picked me up and flew me to Seoul.

Farm Boy's Paintings Win Gold And Glory

AP Newsfeatures
By JACK BRUSINI

ROME—Severino Guidi, an 11-year-old farm boy who likes beetles,, is winning critical raves in Italian art circles.

Even better, it pays.

Paintings and drawings that young Severino and his followers have produced sold well in a Rome show. They also brought nods of approval and words of praise from noted elder artists, among them writer-painter Carlo Levi.

Started In Rural School

It all started in a rural postwar school, between the Apennines, the Po River and the Adriatic. It is a tiny pink building with red tiles and green windows, where the children arrive after walking for miles between hedges of flowers and beetles.

Through a Child's Eyes

One day Enrico Raggi, a 9-year-old child in third grade, wrote, "When I come to school from my home and walk among the hedges in blossom I often stop, I could almost laugh . . . so beautiful the colors are."

The teacher, Federico Moroni, asked the class: "Why don't you try to paint the colors?"

They did. It was fun—and everyone of the 10 pupils developed different talents. Severino Guidi, one of the eldest in the classroom, developed a taste for elaborate designs, mostly plants, snails, and beetles.

One of his paintings which attracted most attention in the show in Rome was entitled "The Dead Lizard." It represented the green body of a lizard, surrounded by hundreds of different kinds of beetles. A scene he had seen in a ditch near the school, Severino explained.

Paintings Accepted

During his summer vacations, Moroni came to Rome with a small suitcase and a large roll containing the drawings and paintings of his pupils. Two galleries turned him down, but the Chiurazzi Art Gallery accepted the paintings.

The director of the painting section, New York born Antonio Virduzzo, organized the show. Artists and tourists flocked in to visit the exhibits. The show later moved to Florence, where a fresh bunch of paintings were on display.

Moroni will never have to worry again about getting enough watercolors, brushes, and paper for his pupils. Of the original 78 paintings, 50 were sold in the first week of show in Rome.

SPORTS FORCED TEN INNINGS TO BEAT SPAS

BALK FORCES IN WINNING RUN FOR 4 TO 3 TRIUMPH

Harrington Forces Issue To Win; Play Again Today

A balk with the bases loaded an none out in the bottom of the tenth forced home the winning run as the Monroe Sports took a series opener from the Hot Springs Bathers here last.

Manager Charley Harrington, appearing on the scene as a runner for the Sports after Hal Walther had got his first hit of the season, baited the Hot Springs rookie hurler, Wayne Parks, into committing the balk as he faked an attempt to steal from third.

Hot Springs will be back to attempt to square the series when the two clubs meet here this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Until the balk that hauled down the curtain on the game, Parks and Ottis "Jake" Jacobs had hooked up in a fair pitching duel. The Sports were able to reach the rookie from Little Rock for only six hits, two of them by John Paul Jones. The Spas got to Jacobs for nine with Jim Schumacher setting the pace with a pair of doubles and batting in two runs.

Singles by Joe Stern and Dave Tuckey, followed by a Jim Schumacher double, provided the Bathers with two runs in the second inning and the early lead.

But the Sports punched across three in the third to take a one-run edge. Virgil Bivens and Jacobs drew free passes. Gerald Puffer dropped a Texas League double behind first base, scoring Bivens, but Jacobs held third to score a moment later on Jesse Van Winkle's long fly into right field. John Paul Jones' single scored Puffer to put the Sports ahead.

After retiring the Bathers in order in the sixth and seventh, and getting the first two to face him in the eighth, Jacobs served up a single to Hilbert who promptly stole second. "Moose" Shetler slapped a sharp one down the first base line that bounced out of Jones' glove, and Shetler was safe. Hilbert went to third. With Stern batting, Hilbert tried to steal as Stern swung and fouled the ball off. Manager Bob Benish of the Spas put up a squawk with the umps, declaring Jacobs had balked in his delivery as Hilbert tried the steal. The plea was of no use.

Stern came through, however, lacing a single past second that brought Hilbert home with the tying run. Tuckey drew the first free pass of the game off Jacobs to load the bases. Jacobs got off the hook by whiffing Jerry Durnin.

With one out in the Sports' half of the eighth, Jones singled and went to second as Hal Walther grounded out. "Ducky" Franson was intentionally walked. Andrews fanned for the third out.

Schumacher first batter for the Spas in the ninth, was safe as Andrews muffed his roller. Parks sacrificed, and Schumacher went to third as Rasmussen grounded out to Van Winkle. Benish, batting for Dickens, walked. Passarella went in to run for his skipper, but the two runners were stranded as Hilbert forced Passarella at second.

Bivens flied to Rasmussen to start Monroe's ninth, but Jacobs bunted and was safe as Parks developed the fumbles and couldn't get a grip on the ball. Puffer flied to center, but Van Winkle delivered a single, moving Jacobs to third, and The Ripper went on to second with the throw - in to third. Fred Martini was intentionally passed, loading the bases with Johnny Jones coming to the plate. The Sports' clean-up batter lined a hard one that Second Baseman Durnin leaped into the air to spear with one hand and the game became an extra - inning affair.

Then Hal Walther got his first hit of the season for the Sports to lead the Monroe half of the tenth. It was a hot lick that Shortstop Passarella went deep to knock down but couldn't play. Manager Charley Harrington went in to run for Walther. Franson bunted, but Parks threw high to first, Harrington going all the way to third as Franson was safe. Andrews was intentionally walked with none out, loading the bases. With Bivens batting, Harrington baited Parks into a balk that permitted Harrington to score.

TOP GOLFERS ARE TOPPLED

SHREVEPORT, La., April 26 (AP)—It was a bad day for the top-ranked golfers in the annual Shreveport Country Club invitational tournament today.

Both the defending champion and the medalist fell in the 36-holes of championship match play.

The first major casualty was Louisiana State University's Bert Weaver, who copped the tourney medal with a 69 Thursday. His downfall came at the hands of Rawleigh Selby, a strong-hitting Dallas, Texas., golfer, 4 and 2 in the morning quarterfinals.

The afternoon's semi - finals caused more eyebrows to raise, however. In the same foursome, Selby and defending champion Jimmy McGonagill of Shreveport were ousted.

Buster Reed, the sharpy from North Texas State College in Denton, downed Selby 2 and 1 before Bud DeBardeleben of Shreveport, stroked in one swing ahead of McGonagill on the final hole for a 1-up victory. Reed and DeBardeleben will meet in the 36-hold finals tomorrow.

McGonagill was troubled by faulty putting throughout the semi-final match and actually lost the title on the 14th hole, when he three-putted from less than 15-feet from the pin. The clincher, however, came on the final hole when McGonagill needed a 20-footer to even the match. He hit true to the cup, the ball bounced out.

Summary:

Quarterfinals:

Rawleigh Selby, Dallas, Tex., beat Bert Weaver, Louisiana State. 4 and 2.

Bud DeBardeleben, Shreveport, beat Marion Hiskey, North Texas State College, 1 up on 19 holes.

Semi-finals:

DeBardeleben beat McGonagill, 1 up.

Reed beat Selby, 2 and 1.

SPARTAN VALOR WINS 6TH IN ROW

Takes $60,000 Gallant Fox 'Cap; Alerted Second

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Spartan Valor was put to the test today and came through in fine style to win the $60,000-added Gallant Fox Handicap at Jamaica.

Carrying top weight of 129 pounds over a muddy track and breaking from an outside post position, the William Helis, Jr., 4-year-old waged a neck-and - neck duel with Greek Ship for more than a mile, then pulled away in the last eighth to chalk up his sixth straight victory.

At the finish of the gruelling mile and three - sixteenths, the brown son of Attention, which zoomed to prominence in Florida during the winter season, was two lengths ahead of Alerted, a 12 to 1 shot. Alerted closed fast on the outside to be second as Greek Ship faded to fourth.

Auditing, an 8 to 1 outsider, also came fast in the stretch to grab the show spot, one and three-quarters lengths behind Alerted and three - quarters in front of Greek Ship.

Spartan Valor, the 6 to 5 favorite, ran the route in 1:56 1-5 and paid $4.70, $3.90 and $2.80. Alerted paid $9.70 and $6.06 while Auditing returned $4.60 to show.

Veteran Jimmy Stout, who again rode the Helis charger, declared afterwards "he's the same good horse I've been riding and he was truly fit today." Trainer Frank Catrone chimed in with the opinion that he thought Spartan Valor came through with his best race.

The crowd of 35,356 seconded these expressions. The Attention colt usually breaks on top and leads all the way, but this time the Brookmeade stable Greek Ship with Willie Shoemaker up, beat him to the first turn.

Down the back stretch Greek Ship, with Willie Shoemaker up, Valor, right alongside, pulled away from the rest of the field with Bryan G. two to three lengths behind in third place.

The two, running as a team, set a terrific pace over the muddy track. They clipped the first quarter in 22 3-5 seconds, the half in 46 1-5, the six furlongs in 1:10 3-5, the mile in 1:38 4-5 and the mile and one-eighth in 1:49 3-5.

Spartan Valor earned $48,200 by his victory to boost his 1952 winnings to $159,650. Altogether the Helis colt has started 21 times and won 14 for a grand total of $214,-037.

Ferriday Shows In Pair Of Meets

FERRIDAY, La., Apr. 26.—Special)—The Ferriday Bulldog track team consisting of James McNew, Lloyd Bowden, Charles Griffin, Eddie Hunter, Bennie Bryant, and James Wallace, toured north Louisiana last week end.

The Bulldogs placed third in an all class "B" track meet at Plain Dealing, McNew placing first in the 220-yard dash, second in the 100-yard dash, third in the mile run and ran a leg in the winning 440-yard relay. Bowden placed first in pole vault, first in high jump, second in the discus, and ran a leg in the 800-yard relay coming in second. Griffin placed first in 880-yard run, second in broad jump, second in hop - step and jump, third in shot put and third in high jump. Wallace placed third in the 100-yard dash and ran a leg in the 880-yard relay. Hunter and Bryant placed by running a leg in the 440-yard relay and 880-yard relay.

The Bulldogs ran into stiff competition when they entered the Haynesville meet. This meet was composed of AA, A and B teams. Bowden tied for second in the pole vault, and Griffin placed fourth in the shot put and hop, step and jump to score the only points for FHS. These points were enough to place the Bulldogs eighth in the meet over two A schools. The team gained new strength by two new members, Frederic Stuart and Hershel Bagby.

H. AND W. OPENS CAMPAIGN TODAY

Sports Meet Farmerville In Delta Opener At Cloyd's

The Hunt and Whitaker Sports of Monroe open their Delta League campaign this afternoon against Farmerville in a battle at Cloyd's Park in West Monroe.

The game was originally scheduled for Farmerville, but Manager Johnny Myers of the Sports announced last night that Farmerville, had requested to change in the site to Cloyd's Park. Farmerville's park will not be available Sunday since Farmerville's Big Eight League entry had priority.

"We're plenty willing to play the game in West Monroe," Myers said last night. "This is the kickoff in the Delta League and we hope to make a good race."

Game time is 2:30 o'clock.

Myers said he hadn't decided on his Hunt and Whitaker battery, but he narrowed the choice to Tom Perry and Fred Lindsey at pitchers and J. N. Foster and Ray Bragg as catchers.

The West Monroe Volunteers of the Delta League open the season today by invading Calhoun to take on the Calhoun nine. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Centenary Nips Northwestern

NATCHITOCHES, La., April 26 (AP)—Centenary outlasted Northwestern State 9-7 today in a 14-inning Gulf States Conference baseball game here.

Wayne Thrash survived a 15-hit Northwestern attack, blanking the losers over the last seven frames as the Shreveporters salvaged the finale of a four-game series.

Ken Shaw, who started for Northwestern State, had a one-hitter and a 4-1 lead going into the sixth inning, but the roof fell in as Centenary bunched five hits for four runs. Centenary added two more on three hits in the seventh.

A walk and a hit batter brought in the seventh to the game at the eighth. Hearn took the loss when Bob Wright singled in Bob Whitler and Art Franklin in the 14th.

PELS BEAT TRAVS

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (AP)—Donnie Cochran annexed his third triumph of the season here tonight by pitching New Orleans to a 6-3 win over the Little Rock Travelers.

The youthful righthander pitched two - hit ball for the first five frames.

Skipper Danny Murtaugh's appearance at second base bolstered the New Orleans infield. Though playing with a badly injured left leg and held hitless in three trips to the plate, his presence added confidence to the youngsters.

Frank Thomas, Pel centerfielder, was the big man at bat, pounding out a home run in the three - run sixth inning when the Pels pushed across three runs to break a 2-all score. He added a single in the seventh, driving home Dale Long, who had doubled ahead of him.

BEARS NIP CHICKS

MOBILE, Ala., April 26 (AP) — A perfectly executed squeeze play with Norm Larker sliding across on Don Zimmer's bunt gave Mobile an 8-7 win over the Memphis Chicks in 10 innings tonight.

The Bears had to come from behind three times to take the hard-fought game. The Mobile win evened the series at one each.

Memphis went out in front in the top of the tenth by one run. Harry Donabedian walked, and Higdon and Ed McGhee singled to fill the bases. Bob Ludwick, the Bears' fourth hurler, welked Ed White, with Donabedian scoring.

The Bears came back quickly in their half of the tenth to win. George Freese and Larker doubled in succession to bring in one run, and Les Barnes sacrificed Larker to third. After Dick Teed and Bama Rowell had been walked intentionally, Zimmer put on the squeeze.

Reds Shove Pirates Deeper In Mire With 9-2 Win

BOSTON, April 26 (AP)— After Manager Eddie Sawyer shook up his batting order, his Philadelphia Phillies pounded out 10 hits during a heavy drizzle today to give right-hander Robir Roberts and 8-0 shutout over the Boston Braves.

Sawyer moved Richie Ashburn into the leadoff position and jumped Catcher Smokey Burgess from the eigth batting position to the third. But Grady Hamner, batting second, paced the Phillies' 10-hit attack by banging out four singles out of five trips and scoring three runs.

The Phillies hit starter Vern Bickford hard in both the first and third innings to pull into a 3-0 lead that never was threatened.

A scratch single by Hamner, an error and a Del Ennis single gave the Phillies their initial marker. Connie Ryan's bases loaded single drove in Hamner and Willie Jones in the third.

The Phillies drove Bickford to cover while setting off a five-runs explosion in the seventh. Roberts started that uprising with a two-bagger to left - center and the pitcher scored on Ashburn's single to right.

Then Hamner pounded out his fourth consecutive hit and Ashburn crossed the plate when Second Baseman Billy Reed booted a Burgess grounder. Bickford then uncorked a wild pitch and was replaced by Sheldon Jones after Ennis singled in both Hamner and Burgess.

While taking their first blanking of the season, the Braves collected nine hits off Roberts. That Philadelphia twiler, however, encountered difficulties in the second, sixth and eighth, frames in which the Tribesmen left two runners stranded.

REDS PUNCH BUCS

CINCINNATI, April 26 (AP)—A Sieve-like Pittsburgh defense let in seven unearned runs today and the Cincinnati Reds took a 9 to 2 decision over the Pirates in the opener of their three-game series.

The Pirates committed four errors and everyone of them figured in the Cincinnati scoring.

Herman Wehmeier racked up his second pitching victory of the season but he had to have help from Frank Smith in the ninth even though he had allowed only four hits.

NATCHEZ, Miss., April 26 (AP) — The Greenwood Dodgers nosed out the Natchez Indians 3-2 in a tight Cotton states league baseball game here tonight to leave the Indians in sole possession of the league cellar.

The Dodgers scored all their runs in the second inning on a bases loaded homer by Catcher Armand Sanchez. The homer netted the Dodgers only three runs, however, as Sanchez passed Bill Gergley, who had walked, as Gergley stood on first watching the ball sail over the fence. The umpire ruled only three runs scored without indicating whether he was calling Sanchez or Gergley out.

Natchez scored its first run in the fourth on two walks, a sacrifice and a long fly by Manager Ray Wilson that brought in a runner from third. The Indians got their first hit in the sixth but could not score. Their second run came in the seventh on two walks and a single bobbled momentarily in left field.

MILLERS GRAB LEAD

MERIDIAN, Miss., April 26 (AP) — Meridian took over first place in the Cotton States League baseball chase today with a thumping 7-2 victory over previously unbeaten Greenville. Both teams had two wins before the game.

Meridian iced the game in the first inning on a double by Gene Pompelia, singles by Tommy Davis and Bill Lewis and a double by Bill Landers. The four hits accounted for three runs. Three more in the third and one in the eighth iced the contest.

Harold Graham pitched the route for Meridian, allowing Greenville eight scattered hits. George Socha allowed Meridian seven hits and five runs before relieved by Red Kenny in the third. The winners got six hits off Kenny.

Buffs Corral 4th Straight

HOUSTON, April 26 (AP) — The Houston Buffs made excellent use of four hits in winning their fourth straight game, a 2-0 decision over Dallas' Eagles here tonight.

The Buffs' young George Eyrich left the bases loaded in both the eighth and ninth innings to salvage his shutout despite allowing seven hits, walking four and having two errors made behind him.

Houston put together Frank Shofner's triple and Ed Mierkowicz' double in the second for their first run. The Buffs added their second tally on a walk to Eyrich, Vann Harrington's single and Dave Johnson's long flyout in the third.

Jack Kramer, the former major leaguer, allowed the two Buff runs and was charged with the defeat. Kramer retired for a pinch hitter after five innings of work. Ed Varhely and Ralph Albers finished up. Houston's last hit was in the fourth inning.

Neville Defeats Natchez, 17 To 6

By SAMMY R. DANNA

Neville journeyed to Natchez to meet the Rebels for the second time this season. The Tigers handed their hosts a sizzling 17-6 defeat lead by the cool and graceful pitching of freshman, Wayne Causey and shortstop, Donald Stewart's three doubles and one single.

A. Warren of the Rebels smashed a 300 foot drive over the left field wall of Liberty Park for his third homer of the season. He also collected two singles.

When Natchez visited Monroe to meet the Tigers in Legion Stadium, Neville also mastered the Rebels, this time 11-5, behind the expert pitching of Red Swanson, one of the local City High School pitchers who enjoys a perfect hurling average thus far in the season.

With the winning of the Natchez game, Neville boasts of a won and lost average of seven and two. The two losses came at the initial part of the season. Bastrop is scheduled to visit Monroe tomorrow when it meets Neville for the second time this season. Bastrop fell to the Tigers when they traveled to the city of the Rams.

STRANAHAN WINS IN NORTH, SOUTH

Beats Out Strafaci In 36-Hole Finals, 8 And 7

PINEHURST, N. C. April 26 (AP)—Frank Stranahan prevailed over rank Strafaci, par and the weather today to win his third North and South Amateur golf championship in seven years, with an 8 and 7 victory in the rain-soaked 6-hole finals.

The 29-year - old Toledo, Ohio, spark plug fortune heir, seldom played better than today. He raged into a six-up, 18-hole lead with a three-under-par 69 and in the afternoon he was one under for the 11 hole play.

It was a remarkable performance under the conditions. In the morning the temperature was a chilly 55. Rain, which began just as the round ended, fell heavily throughout the rest of the match.

The 35-year-old Strafaci, Flushing, L. I., indurance man, was practically putted out of the title. Stranahan dropped putts of 60, 50, and 20 feet to continue the display of amazing artistry around the greens he began yesterday, in the semi-finals he banged in three ranging from 30 to 45 feet.

They were even through eight holes of the morning round, each winning two holes. The difference was that Stranahan had to make only par for his wins while the New Yorker was forced to shoot birdies. Strafaci dropped a 10-footer to win the par-5 fourth and a 15 footer to take the par-four seven.

Stranahan had nine pars going out, including a "newspaper" three on the short ninth where Strafaci conceded after taking four and Stranahan, some 10 feet from the hole after his tee shot, never had to putt.

The muscular Ohioan then swept the next three holes, two with birdies, for a four - up lead and Strafaci's task appeared hopeless. On the 10th Stranahan's iron shot left him a three-foot putt for a winning birdie four and on 12 he dropped a 50-footer for a birdie three.

His lone bad hole was the 14th where he drove into the rough, then found the trap with his second shot. He came out too strong, well over the green and chipped back. He was still over 10 feet from the hole when Strafaci got his winning par four.

Stranahan won the 15th with a par and birdied the long 16th, Strafaci chipping in. Stranahan finished with two birdies, holing a 20-footer on the short 17th and a four-footer on the 18th. The four par three holes proved Strafaci's undoing as Stranahan won them all with a birdie and three pars. Stranahan's medal, figuring two putts each on the ninth and 14th weher he did not play out was 36-33—59, against Strafaci's pair of 37s. Strafaci said Stranahan's round was the finest he had seen in years.

'Ted Williams Day' Set April 30 At Fenway Park

BOSTON, April 26 (AP)— Mayor John B. Hynes today proclaimed next Wednesday as "Ted Williams Day" at Fenway Park.

On that day, if physically able, Williams will make his last appearance for the Boston Red Sox before reporting for active service as a U. S. Marine flyer.

Mancuso Would Like To Return To Diamond Wars

PITTSBURGH, April 26 (AP)—Some baseball players retire gracefully and forget about the national pasttime. Others retire like Gus Mancuso — they can't get the diamond dust out of their blood.

Mancuso, now a sports commentator covering St. Louis Cardinals baseball games, wants another crack at the big leagues — but not as a player mind you.

"I'm too old for that," wisecacked the squat Italian, who spent 17 seasons as a catcher in the National League with the Giants, Cardinals, Dodgers, Cubs and Phillies.

"But if someone offered me a manager's job. Well, I could hardly refuse if the terms were right.

"My terms? A two - year contract at least and naturally a fair salary. But the latter comes with managing a major league team."

Mancuso hung up his spikes in 1945 and the next season latched on as a minor league pilot with Tulsa in the Texas League.

His 1946 and 1947 teams finished in fourth place. Then he moved over to San Antonio in the same league. But the switch failed to produce any championships.

LTI Trackmen 2nd In Class C Events

The L. T. I. trackmen took second place in Class C events at the regional meet held Saturday at Ruston. The Start team was first with a total of 79 points, followed by L.T.I. with 60½ points and Benton with 58½ points. Elm Grove brought up the rear with 27 points.

The Pelicans placed first in two events, second in six, third in four and fourth in only one event. Members of the team and the events they participated in are as follows: St. Romain — 120 - yard high hurdles, 180-yard low hurdles, 440 - yard relay and one mile relay; LeFleur — 880-yard run, 440-yard dash, 440 - yard relay and one mile relay; Mine — 100 - yard dash, hop step and jump, 440 — yard relay and 880 — yard relay; Fisette — mile run; Gulley — 440-yard relay, 880 — yard relay and one mile relay; Lemoine — javelin, and 880 — yard relay; Garcia—discus; Minton — 220 — yard dash and 880 - yard relay; Ledet — one mile relay.

Coach Youngblood announced that L.T.I. would resume its baseball schedule with an invasion of Collinston on Tuesday. Gametime will be 2:30 p. m. The Pelicans were inactive in baseball last week to permit participation in track meets.

CATS' BELARDI LEADS BATTING

Aylward Of Dallas Just One Point Off In Texas Race

DALLAS, April 26 (AP)—Wayne Belardi, the hammering Fort Worth first sacker, cooled off somewhat at the plate during the second week of the Texas League campaign but still tops the circuit.

Belardi has a .395 average compiled on 15 hits in 38 times at bat in the latest averages but it's just a one-point bulge. And look who's breathing on Belardi's neck in the hitting derby. It's none other than Dick Aylward, the Dallas catcher who had often been reminded that the only thing keeping him out of the big leagues was his puny work at the plate.

Aylward this season changed his batting stance and worked hard at making himself into a hitter. The results have been gratifying to everybody. Aylward is clouting .394 on 13 hits in 33 attempts.

Harry Elliott of Shreveport is proving to be the big gun of the season. He has the most hits with 16, has driven in the most runs with 13 and is tied with Vann Harrington of Houston for the lead in triples with two.

Another long - distance hitter — Jerry Witte of Houston — is back at the same stand. Witte is tied for the lead in doubles with Joe Szekely of Shreveport, each with five, and for the lead in homers with George Brown of Shreveport, Russ Burns of Oklahoma City and Russ Rac of Houston, each showing two.

The top base-stealer is Joe Torpey of Fort Worth, who has pilfered four.

In pitching two Fort Worth aces have records of 3-0 to lead the field. They are Joe Landrum and Jim Melton. Arnold Atkins of Shreveport has the most strike - outs with 17.

Bermuda Yacht Captures King Edward VIII Race

HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 26 (AP)—Bert Darrell of Bermuda, sailing his international one design yacht, Teaser, won the King Edward VIII Gold Cub today.

After trailing in the early stages, Teaser came on strong at the end to defeat Sea Horse, sailed by Cornelius Shields of New York, in a match race held in winds up to 30 miles per hour.

Leafs' Smith Wins Lady Byng Memorial Trophy

MONTREAL, April 24 (AP)—Sid Smith, 26-year-old Toronto Mable Leafs left winger, is the winner of the National Hockey League's Lady Byng Memorial Trophy for the 1951-52 season.

Smith was chosen by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters as the player who "exhibited the best type of sportsmanship and gentlemanly conduct combined with a high standard of playing ability during the season."

Drawing first place voted from nine of the 18 selectors, Smith polled 51 points. Second place went to Red Kelly, Detroit's all-star defenseman and winner of the trophy last year, with 27 points. Bill Mosienko, speedy Chicago Blackhawks right winger, and Don (Bones) Raliegh, skinny New York Rangers center, drew 2 points apiece to tie for third.

HOUTTEMAN 1-HITTER GIVES TIGERS 1ST WIN

DETROIT BLANKS CLEVELAND, 13-0; BROWNS BEATEN

St. Louis Loses American League Lead As Chisox Win

By HARRY B. STAPLER

DETROIT, April 26 (AP)—Harry (Suitcase) Simpson slashed a single into left field with two out in the ninth inning to spoil ex-soldier Art Houtteman's bid for a no-hit, no-run game today. But Houtteman's Detroit Tigers smashed 13 hits to win their first game of the season in nine tries, humbling the Cleveland Indians, 13-0.

Houtteman, whose only child was killed three weeks ago in an auto accident, had the crowd of 17,922 wildly cheering when he retired pinchhitter Barney McCosky on a grounder to second base for the second out in the ninth.

Houtteman's first pitch to Simpson was a ball, and, on the second pitch, Simpson rapped a low whistler to the right of Third Baseman George Kell.

Houtteman's pitching victim was Bob Lemon who pitched Briggs Stadium's last previous no-hitter on June 30, 1948 and his opponent that night was Houtteman.

Houtteman missed all of last season while in the army. He won 19 games for his best year in 1950.

The Tigers, who gave a vote of confidence to Manager Red Rolfe this week after rumors of dissension, rapped 13 base hits with happy abandon. They scored three runs in the fifth, four in the sixth, and six in the eighth.

Vic Wertz, in a batting slump until today, battered a fifth inning two-run homer into the right field stands. A moment earlier Pat Mullin's triple scored Jerry Priddy from second.

Joe Ginsberg's three - run homer climaxed the eighth inning rally. The Tigers scored their first three runs that frame on Priddy's walk, Kell's single, Johnny Groth's single and Don Kolloway's two-run single.

It was the Tigers' sixth victory in two seasons over their jinx club. After driving Lemon out in the sixth with Ginsberg's single, Johnny Lipon doubled and singles by Houtteman and Kell accounted for two runs. The Tigers got two more runs off reliefer Lou Brissie on long flies to the outfield. The flies drove in Houtteman and Priddy from third.

CHISOX DROP BROWNS

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP)—The marvelous St. Louis Browns withered under Joe Dobson's brilliant three-hit pitching today for a 5-0 shutout by the Chicago White Sox which cost them the American League lead.

The Boston Red Sox, whose game at Philadelphia was rained out, now hold first place with a 9-2 record. The Browns have 7-2.

The Browns, a sloppy team afield, were completely handcuffed by Dobson, whose second victory against the Browns left him with a remarkable record of giving only one earned run in 25 2-3 innings.

Dobson scored an 8-2 victory over the Browns in relief last Saturday. The hits off him today were three harmless singles.

The Browns' starter, Duane Pillette, was the victim of a sixth inning homer by Ed Stewart. Pillette beat a hasty retreat in a four-run seventh. It was his first defeat against one victory.

Only one run in the big Sox seventh was earned as the Brownies defense blew apart for two official errors and a near beaning on a pop single of Left Fielder Tommy Wright.

COLLEGIATE GOLF MEET DRAWS 120

Maxwell Defends Title At Athens, Ga., This Week

ATHENS, Ga., April 26 (AP)— A field of about 120 players, all from southern colleges where the golf season lasts practically the year around, meet here Thursday through Saturday for the second biggest college golf show of the year.

Defending champion in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament is Billy Maxwell of North Texas State College. Maxwell also is the National Amateur champion.

The North Texas team won the National Collegiate Athletic Association golf team championship last summer and again is expected to show well in the Southern Intercollegiate. The NCAA is the top college tournament.

North Texas players already entered are Maxwell, Joe Conrad, Don January and Buster Reed.

The Southern covers 72 holes at medal play — 18 Thursday, 18 Friday and 36 Saturday. The tournament is held on the par 36-36—72, 6,544 Athens Country Club course.

Howell Hollis, golf coach at the University of Georgia, said schools already definitely entered are North Carolina, Wake Forest, Duke, North Carolina State, The Citadel, Wofford, Davison, North Texas, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Alabama, Auburn, Mississippi, Tulane and L S U.

Entries from five or six other southwest and deep south schools are expected. Among them is Miami, producer of one of the strongest teams in the nation.

The Southeastern Conference tournament will be run concurrently with the Southern.

Seven national intercollegiate champions have played in Southerns. Other famed golfers getting early experience here were Frank Stranahan, Skip Alexander, Al Besselink, Charlie Coe and Cary Middlecoff.

Bengals Beat Miss. Nine Third Time This Season

UNIVERSITY, Miss., April 26 (AP)—Mississippi fell before Louisiana State's baseball team for the third time this season here today with the Bengals winning 6-5 for a -1 series edge.

Lefty Benny McArdle was the Bengal pitcher for the second time in three days, after working Thursday against Mississippi State, and he turned back the Rebels with five hits although all Reb runs were earned.

Brushing a blanket before washing, during drying, and after it has completely dried is extremely important in preventing and minimizing shrinkage as well as reconditioning badly felted blankets.

Art's Near No-Hitter Had Parallel In 1932 Tiger-Senator Battle

DETROIT, April 26 (AP)— There was a touch of irony in Art Houtteman's near no - hitter today.

With the Tigers leading 13-0 and two out in the ninth, Harry (Suitcase) Simpson of the Cleveland Indians singled toleft field to crush Art's hopes.

Back on Aug. 5, 1932, the great Tommy Bridges of the Tigers was leading Washington by the same 13 - 0 margin with a no-hitter in his grasp and two out in the ninth.

Then pinchhitter Dave Harris slapped the ball into almost identically the same spot as Simpson for the first hit.

LITTLE LEAGUE ATTRACTS 200

Boys Hold Mass Workout; Park Fund Slowly Builds Up

Two hundred youngsters between the ages of eight and twelve years of age are ready to play Little League baseball here this summer and about 96 of them will make the grade when squad rosters are met for the six-team circuit, and the boys will play in their new park despite the fact it is not complete.

"Whether or not the little park is finished in time, all Little League games will be scheduled there," it was declared yesterday by Jack Hesketh, Monroe Recreation director who is Little League secretary.

The park fund is still $1,700 short of the sum needed to finish the building project.

The 200 boys interested in playing Little League ball turned out yesterday afternoon at Northeast Louisiana State training field for a mass workout with managers of all teams.

Boys returning from the 1951 clubs are already property of those teams, but new talent will be assigned teams with gaps made when the 12-year-olds of 1951 became "too old" for eligibility. The new Little - Bigger League will claim those moving up from Little League.

Managers of the league have already agreed to play single games during week days except Saturday when triple headers involving all teams will be billed.

The park building fund was $55 richer yesterday after contributions from Sampognaro's Pharmacy, Mills Furniture, Missouri Pacific Booster Club, and Engine Service. There is still $725 outstanding in pledges, and it is hoped that all pledges can be collected this week.

Donations for the park building fund should be sent to "Monroe Little League, box 1293, Monroe."

Little League directors have a meeting scheduled for 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

CROWVILLE WINS TWO MORE TILTS

Unbeaten Bulldogs Defeat Baskin And Holly Ridge

CROWVILLE, La., April 26.—(Special) — The Crowville High School Bulldogs, unbeaten leaders of the Franklin Parish High School League, notched baseball victories Nos. 10 and 11 this week at the expense of Baskin and Holly Ridge, the latter in a non - league game. Baskin was beaten, 15 - 4, and Holly Ridge, 7-0.

Jarrell Busby, third baseman, led the Bulldogs' nine - hit attack on Baskin Thursday with four hits, one a triple, while Marion Guy, outfielder, collected a triple and a single. Williamson, Baskin's second baseman, got two of the four hits collected off Johnson.

"Bo" Laird pitched four - hit ball and led his own attack with three hits in four times at bat in the defeat of Holly Ridge here Friday.

Curtis, Moran Mix It Up In Main Attraction At Kallio's Tuesday

'Shoulders,' Newest Ring Personality, Meets Laye

Moving straight out of a Dick Tracy comic book, a character who goes only by the name of "Shoulders" will take on Charley Laye in a semi - final wrestling event at Gust Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, while "Sailor" Moran and Jack Curtis will mix it up in a main event championship match.

"Shoulders", a young, tough boy from British Columbia, Canada, makes his first appearance at Kallio's, but, according to Kallio, he has a good record behind him.

"He has plenty of experience," said Kallio, "but all of it has been in Canada California, Oregon, and the other northwestern states. They call him 'Shoulders' because they are so wide."

Kallio said last night that Moran had asked for the championship bout with Curtis last Tuesday after he and Al Getz had been beaten by Curtis and Laye in a tag team match.

According to Kallio, Moran was still burned up because he didn't get the match on a winner take all basis, and challenged Curtis for the show this Tuesday.

Kallio told Moran that Curtis' refusal of the match on a winner-take-all basis was a good thing for him (Moran) because otherwise he wouldn't have made any money at all.

Moran cooled down but still wanted the match. Later, after Kallio had arranged the match with Curtis, he called Moran and told him the match was his either on a 40 - 60 basis or a winner-take-all. Moran, ironically enough, announced that he would make his decision in the ring Tuesday night.

Moran had asked for a winner-take-all match last week against Curtis and Laye. They also made their decision in the ring, and decided to wrestle only the 40-60 basis. Now it looks like Moran is getting ready to do the same thing.

Curtis and Moran have been battling it out in tag team matches for the past three weeks now, and Curtis has won each time. Moran never gives up though and keeps asking for more. Curtis seems to be the better wrestler of the two but Moran makes up for it in illegal tactics, which backfired on him last Tuesday and won the match for Curtis.

Curtis' partner in all his matches recently has been Charley Laye, and Charley will be back again this week. Laye is a good wrestler, and has had several years of experience in the ring. He may need all of it, too, if "Shoulders" is as good as his name sounds.

"Shoulders" is the only known element in Tuesday's show, but if he lives up to his advance notice he probably won't do too bad.

The championship match will have a 90 - minute time limit with two falls to win, and the semi-final event will have a 45-minute time limit with two falls to win. Admission prices for the show will remain as usual, said Kallio.

TEN NEW MARKS AT NATCHITOCHES

DeRidder, Logansport, Pelican Claim Track Crowns

NATCHITOCHES, La., April 26 (AP)—DeRidder, Logansport and Pelican High schools won first place in Class A, B and C respectively in track and field competition of the Northwest Louisiana High School rally held here today at Northwestern State College.

Ten new records were set, five of which were set by Pelican High School. Two new records were made by George McConathy, Bryceland, who had never seen a track meet until today.

The new records were:

Class C, McConathy threw the javelin 154 feet 9½ inches. Billy Steele, Pelican, pole vaulted 11 feet 7½ inches. McConathy put the 12-pound shot 43 feet 5 inches. Steele ran the mile in 4:57.2. Pelican set three new records in the relays, running the 40 yard in :48.1, the 880 in 1:40.1 and the mile in 3:47.2.

Old records were: javelin, set by Pearson of Elm Grove in 1950, 137 feet 6½ inches; pole vault, set by Steele of Pelican in 1951, 11 feet 6½ inches; shot put, set by Bozeman of Belmont in 1950, 42 feet 1 inch; mile, set by Goodman of Central in 1951, 4:59.5; 440 relay, set by Campti in 1950, :48.3; 880 yard, set by Belmont in 1951, 1:40.2; and the mile, set by Pelican in 1949, 3:53.

Class B, mile run, new record set by Bobby Ballard of Marthaville, 4:43.2; old record was set by Parkerson of Rocky Mount in 1937, 4:53.

Class B 880 yard dash, Lofton of Logansport set a record of 2:08.5 to break the old record set by Gamble of Marthaville in 1946 at 2:10.5.

Class A had one record broken. Bruce Lenoir of Mansfield set a new record in the running broad jump of 21 feet 9¼ inches. The old mark was set by Perry of DeRidder in 1931 at 21 feet 2½ inches.

DeRidder won easily in Class A with 109 points. Mansfield took second with 70 and Natchitoches trailed with 31.

In Class B, Logansport amassed 65 points to win, Roseline was second with 53; Marthaville was third with 41 and Ferriday was fourth with 25.

In Class C, Pelican won with 104 points; Campti was second with 36; Central was third with 22 and Stonewall and Bryceland tied for fourth with 20 points each.

SOFTBALL PLAY READY TO START

City League Goes Into Action Here Thursday Night

City Softball League play gets underway Thursday night with five teams already signed up. The full schedule has not been completed because one team still needs a sponsor.

However, games for Thursday will have Spatafora Grocery playing Three-Way Finance at Sherrouse and Dairy Queen playing a team managed by Pete Medak and Stanley Passman playing at Barkdull Faulk. The two games will get underway at 8 o'clock. The National Guard entree will have a bye and will play the following Monday. There is a possibility of another team getting into the league, Director Jack Hesketh said.

The City League race will be close this year as all teams are evenly matched and it is hoped that another good year is ahead.

Umpires for Thursday night games will see Earl Alpha and Sam Canal at Barkdull Faulk and John Luffey and J. M. McBeth at Sherrouse. Sterling McLain and Joe Accardo will be at Missouri Pacific for games assigned there later.

Atkinson Accepts Mount On Gushing Oil In Derby

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Ted Atkinson said today he had accepted the offer to ride Gushing Oil in the Kentucky Derby at Louisville next Sunday.

Gushing Oil, owned by Sam Wilson, Jr., won the Blue Grass Stakes at Lexington last Thursday and previously had taken both the Louisiana and Arkansas derbies.

Southerners Whip Southeastern, 8-4

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 26 Mississippi Southern chalked up its sixth basebal victory in eight starts today by downing Southeastern Louisiana 8-4 to sweep a two-game series.

Southern freshmen Jim Davenport, Hub Waters and Mickey Harrington again led the attack, each getting two hits to drive in a total of five runs. They accounted for six runs in yesterday's 7-4 win.

Jim Mitcherson and Joe McNair limited the losers to seven hits. Mitcherson worked six innings and gave up all the hits in posting his second victory. McNair held the losers hitless during his three-inning stint.

Shortstop Jeep Clark also got two hits and drove in two runs for Southern.

Bible Verse Launches Couple On New Charm-Making Venture

AP Newsfeatures

KANSAS CITY — A Bible verse put a Kansas City couple in the mustard seed charm business.

Now Maurice Flint and his wife, Mary, have all they can do to keep up with the demand.

They found that others, too, wanted reminders of the Bible verse: "If ye have faith as a mustard seed . . . Nothing shall be impossible unto you."

Letters of Gratitude

They have received letters of gratitude from actress Gloria Swanson and from a missionary in South America. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York minister and writer, carries a supply with him for his friends.

Miss Mary Jane Truman, sister of the President, gave some to her fellow officers when she was installed as Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star in Missouri.

Principal part of the charm is a transparent plastic ball about a half an inch in diameter. In the center is a tiny mustard seed of the black variety, such as is grown in the Holy Land. They are made up as necklaces, bracelets, pins and key rings.

Business Worries

Back in 1947 when the Flints were living in Philadelphia, they spent a Sunday in New York. Both were worried over business setbacks. So they went to church. "They heard Dr. Peale urge from the pulpit: "Consult the Lord and leave your problems with Him."

"We started to do exactly what he said," Flint recalled," but at the end of a week we would go back to worrying."

The need for a reminder stayed with Flint. One night the couple read a passage from the Book of Matthew about the mustard seed and faith.

Carried Seeds in Pocket

He got some seeds from the kitchen and carried them in his pocket. Then he experimented and put one between two halves of a plastic disc.

Flint, a salesman for an aircraft supply firm, had many opportunities to try out his reminder in the months that followed.

"I would be nervous and scared when I arrived at a big plane company to make a sale, but as I went in to keep my appointment I would put my hand on the disc holding the mustard seed and remember the verse from the Scripture," he said.

He figured that if a mustard seed proved an inspiration for him it might help others.

Worked In Basement

After further experimentation, Flint and his wife finally decided on the plastic ball design. At first they did the work themselves in their basement, but as the demand grew from stores and church organizations, they had to hire help, set up an assembly line and obtain larger quarters.

Flint had to design his own machinery and make his own dies, quite a job, he admits, for a man schooled as an electrical engineer.

Now they have a force of 12 full-time employees and three part-time employes turning out the charms and handling the business.

Beautifuly Hands And Nails With Easy Home Treatment

Lovely hands don't just happen. They're the result of faithful daily care. It takes more than a weekly manicure to offset the effects of housework and office duties. A few moments each day devoted to special hand grooming can make all the difference in the world.

Nicotine stains, office grime and housework certainly detract from pretty, feminine hands. One or two simple kitchen remedies will easily whisk away discoloration.

As a starter, dip a handy cotton square in lemon juice and rub over the stained areas. For stubborn spots add a little salt to the lemon juice, making sure you rub the preparation into your skin gently to avoid irritation. Wash away the solution with mild soap and water, and smooth on a generous amount of hand lotion as the finishing touch.

Try a bit of powdered pumice and oil to rid your hands of tiny callouses or rough spots. Mix the pumice and oil well and apply with cotton. If you don't get immediate results, however, you mustn't be discouraged. Keep up the beauty treatment, and you definitely will see a change.

There are fewer oil glands in your hands than in the rest of your body, so when you consider how many times a day they are washed you can readily see why dryness becomes a problem. Chapping and roughness cause discomfort and make your skin old and lined. To combat this condition, form the habit of using an oily cream during the night before you go to bed, and a quick-dry lotion after each washing during the day.

Treat your nails kindly, too. They complete the pretty picture. Frequent massaging with oil will give your fingertips a gleaming beauty and will help to correct brittleness. Buffing stimulates circulation and also causes ridges and white spots to disappear.

File from both sides of the nail to the center in long, even strokes. It's best not to make corners too close. Choppy and harsh filing will cause flaking and breaking Use a nail brush daily to remove dirt imbedded in the skin around your fingernails.

In every beauty routine, whether it be the care of your skin, hair, or nails, it's the little things that count. Are you making them count in your personal grooming?

Don't shake or snap small throw rugs out windows or doors trying to "dust" them. The snapping action may break the yarns in the rug backing.

If you don't own a small sleeve froning board, you can solve the problem by ironing the sleeves of your blouses and dresses over a rolled towel.

His Gun Collection Could Make Big Noise

By JAMES F. TOMLINSON

HARDIN, Mont., — A boy who trapped coyotes so he could get his first gun has grown up—and so has his gun collection, now totaling 150 pistols, 150 rifles and a dozen shotguns.

Like most boys, Fred Weltner's big ambition was to own a gun. To get money, he took to trapping coyotes out in the lonely Big Horn River country near here, where Custer stood against the Sioux.

Fred soon stacked up enough pelts to buy his first rifle—a .22-caliber Remington. But one gun didn't satisfy Fred and, in time, he surrounded himself with hundreds.

Guns Have A History

A look at Fred's collection is a look at the Old West, for many of his guns have a history. Fred has a .44-caliber pistol with an extra hold on the trigger guard. It was once owned by one of the Younger brothers who rode with Jesse James' gang.

Another gun — a Colt Peacemaker of 1872—was found at Leaf Rock Ranch where Fred grew up. Fred has several old cap and ball pistols, including some used in the '49 gold rush.

A .44 Colt Frontier has also found its way into Fred's arsenal. It's the same type Billy the Kid and Dutch Cassidy used in the days of the shooting West.

Toy Size Guns

In contrast to the big pistols of the fresh - air outlaws are the little toy size vest-pocket models once carried by barroom cardsharps. Fred has two gamblers' guns—a little 6-inch Colt .22 and a Colt .41 derringer, just over 4 inches long.

Fred also has the first Lady Smith gun, a .30 - caliber pistol rumored to have been the property of Calamity Jane. Wild Bill Hickok was once the owner of Fred's 1860 32-caliber gun.

The oldest gun in the collection is a .56-caliber Japanese pistol made in 1500. This ancient weapon was fired by wrapping a piece of flexible punk around the grip, threading it through the trigger and into the powder pan.

Fred still shoots an English Tower flint lock pistol, even though it's 191 years old.

Has Strange Specimen

The "pepperbox" or "pepperpot" guns are among the strangest in Fred's collection. They have from four to six barrels which revolve as the gun fires. One is a six-barreled .30 - caliber Belgian "pepperbox" made in 1800, another a Remington .30 caliber Derringer rimfire with four barrels.

Fred is proudest, perhaps, of his Winchester rifles. He has every model from 1866 to date. He also owns every model of Sharp's rifle.

His big collection takes a lot of care — oiling and polishing. But Fred spends a lot of time thinking how he can get more guns.

'Hornblower's' Son Is A Gob

SAN DIEGO, Calif., — Seaman Recruit John Forester, son of British author C. S. Forester who created the fictional charter, Horatio Hornblower, is learning his square knots and semaphore signals at the naval training center here.

The Hornblower of his father's books did his adventuring aboard England's sailing ships. He rose in rank and survived many a scrap with the author's help.

In the U. S. Navy, young Forester will progress on his own merits. A native of London and a graduate of the University of California, the 22-year-old Forester became a U. S. citizen last November. His home is now in Berkeley, Calif.

Seaman Recruit Forester says he has an application in for Navy officer candidate school.

BASEBALL SEASON IS HERE
GET YOUR CAR ON THE BALL TOO
By having it checked from bumper to bumper in our modern Service Department. We have the equipment and the men with the "know how" to do the job fast and economically too!
Don't wait until AFTER you are on the road to think about having this done. Drive in tomorrow.

DON'T ASK US
SEE FOR YOURSELF IF YOUR WHEELS ARE OUT OF ALIGNMENT
Our New John Bean VISUALINER projects a picture on a screen so you can see for yourself.
Mis-Aligned wheels eat away your expensive tires, cause road "shimmy" and hard steering. Drive into our Service Department tomorrow and let us show you how quickly and economically we can correct this condition.

VOCATIONAL BUILDING GETS STRONGE BACKING

Sixteen organizations of the Twin Cities as well as the state Federation of Labor have endorsed resolutions calling for the construction of a permanent building to house operations of the Ouachita Valley Vocational School, S. W. Jackson, director of the school, said yesterday. Included in the list or organizations calling for the construction is the City of West Monroe with Mayor C. C. Bell and all of the Board of Aldermen signing the resolution.

In a statement made public today, Jackson said the school had provided training for 4,806 persons since its organization in September of 1944. In the last year alone 1,114 students were enrolled in the school, or an increase of 700 per cent over the first year of operations. At the beginning of operations, Jackson said, there were 139 students in both the day and evening classes. In the evening class alone last year there were 726 enrolled, while an additional 388 took training during the day.

"At the present time we are offering trade preparatory training in eight fields," the director said. "These are: aircraft engines, machine shop, electricity, radio, refrigeration and air conditioning, auto mechanics, mechanical drawing, and practical nursing. Two of these are not located at the school because of the lack of room. The mechanical drawing is at the Ouachita Parish High School, and the practical nursing courses are in a very temporary home, owned by St. Francis Sanitarium.

"It isn't possible for all of us to be doctors, lawyers, ministers, teachers or any of the other trades known as professions. Some of us must make a living with our hands. In fact, about 90 per cent of the American people must do this. The only criteria for sending these individuals, who are not going to college, out from school and into the labor forces is their ability to cope with life, especially in its occupational phases. All those who are not ready to make this departure constitute the answer to the question 'who shall be vocationally educated?'", he stated.

"The Ouachita Valley Vocational School located in West Monroe is a public institution and a part of our Louisiana educational system. We operate on a state appropriation and work directly under the state Board of Education, and cooperate with the high schools in this area. At present we have 153 students from Ouachita Parish High School, 7 from St. Matthews, and five from Neville High School. These people go to their respective high schools for one - half day, where they get their required academic subjects, and come to use the other one - half day to get their trade training with all its theory and human associations. They receive regular high school credit for training. In addition to these people we have out of school youth, veterans and some grammar school students enrolled. The grammar school students are enrolled at the request of their principals," Jackson said.

The director listed the organizations supporting the new construction, besides the City of West Monroe and the Louisiana Federation of Labor, as: West Monroe Kiwanis Club, West Monroe Lions Club, West Monroe Business Men's Association, Painters and Decorators Local No. 901, Hudson Leehy Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3993, and its Auxiliary, and Ladies Auxiliary of the Hudson Leehy Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3993.

Barnett - Downs Post 201 of the American Legion, West Monroe, North Monroe Lions Club, Walter S. Savage, Jr., post No. 5 (Amvets) Monroe, Monroe Barbers Local No. 651, Altrulan Book Club, West Monroe, Marine Corps League of Monroe and the L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 of the American Legion, Monroe and its Auxiliary.

Concert Unit Plans Dinner

The Twin City Concerts, Inc. will open it's annual membership drive May 5 with the annual kick off dinner to be held at 7:30 p. m. at the Virginia Hotel. This announcement was made by Miss Freeda Mickel, membership director and Mrs. L. Slade Brown, co-director.

Already some 200 individuals have signed up as workers and "we have confidence of getting a capacity membership this year and the finest possible programs for Twin City Concerts," Miss Mickel stated.

"All old members are urged to send in their renewals ahead of the opening of the campaign. It would be a pity indeed if someone who has been a supporter of Twin City Concerts should fail to secure his membership through limitation this year," she added.

Monroe Literary Club Meets With Mrs. J. S. Worley

Mrs. E. W. Lockhart, Guest Speaker, Reviews 'We Of The Americas' At April Meeting

Mrs. J. S. Worley entertained the Monroe Literary Club in her home on Wednesday, with Mrs. A. M. Kite serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. W. T. Ellis, club president, opened the meeting and the members rose to read the collect. Mrs. J. W. Womack called the roll; each member answering by naming a product of South American agriculture or manufacture. The program committee, headed by Mrs. A. M. Kite reported and a vote was taken on the program subject for 1952-53.

Mrs. E. W. Lockhart, guest speaker was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. D. A. Altick. Mrs. Lockhart is a former member of this club and her fine talents have been sorely missed. She very capably reviewed Carlos G. Davilla's book, "We of the Americas."

Mrs. Lockhart said in part: "The author is well equipped to write intelligently on this subject for he has had wide experience in this field. He, at present represents his country, Chili, on UNRRA and is a member of the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations as a publisher, editor, diplomat and statesman. He has a thorough understanding of inter-American affairs. Devilla has fought unceasingly for the principles of Pan-Americanism. This book is a plea to all Americans for a Continental partnership which will benefit both North America and the Latin South. He has always been convinced that in a fully alive, endowed Pan-Americanism lies the path of safety for the Americans, and today the only security for the United States.

However, this idea, though highly acceptable in theory to all Americans, has never been acceptable in actual practice. The 20th century was envisioned as the American century— but— in this century instead of leading the world to security and peace, we have been led by other continents from one emergency to another from one bloody war to a more devastating one — from one feeble peace to a weaker one. Always away from the American principle into the rule of force and power politics—always reaping less democracy, less security and less freedom. . . .

The historian will doubtless record that the "Western hemisphere missed its destiny when it failed to organize itself as one entity powerful and independent enough to move world affairs instead of being swallowed up by them. The failure of a great nation to be born to the south of the United States did leave a vacuum.

In a world at peace the situation would be serious enough, but with the world in the throes of a cold war, which could easily become a battle for survival, the stubborn refusal of the two Americas to unite and bring about a fully integrated American economy may spell disaster to all American peoples. United States prosperity down through the years has been partly due to the favorable balance of trade theory which Uncle Sam has rigidly maintained—the theory that exports should exceed imports. Today economists are telling Uncle Sam that this is a fatal mistake—why so is not clear—except that European democracies are on the verge of castastrophe because of it. So Uncle Sam is trying to build up European trade at the expense of his own—even in Latin America.

The only salvation for the American continent lies in mutually beneficial economic relations—a policy of true Pan-Americanism might save all the Americas from disaster."

After Mrs. Lockhart's review, and a discussion of the local political situation, the hostesses served delicious refreshments to the following members: Mrs. J. H. Drake, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. C. T. Pifer, Mrs. Guy DuPriest, Mrs. D. W. Kleppinger, Mrs. D. A. Altick, Mrs. C. E. Coe, Mrs. W. T. Ellis, Mrs J. E. Shannon, Mrs. C. D. McAdams, Mrs. M. G. Ward, Mrs. J. W. Womack, Mrs. J. S. Worley, Mrs. A. M. Kite and two guests: Mrs. E. W. Lockhart and Mrs. J. F. Jackson.

NYLONS RECLAIMED

Mrs. Herbert Steed says "Your recipe for reclaiming mismated nylon hose is wonderful. I now have six "new pair." Do reprint it so everyone will know about it." Just wanted you to know the slick trick really works. Jane, I'll give the recipe over the radio next week.

TWIN CITY MAILING LIST

Is your name on my hailing list? I get out about six or eight circular letters a year, with home information for you, the housewife. If you would like to receive such a letter, just step to the phone tomorrow morning and call 3-2251 giving your name and mailing address. Last month we had so many letters returned because of incorrect addresses. Some had to be changed at the post office which inconvenienced them. So — please — if your address has changed — call us and correct it.

GARDEN NOTES

Do you have a Lady Banksia climbing rose? In the picture above is Mrs. James R. Tippit and the Lady Banksia in Dr. A. G. McHenry's Garden.

Mrs. Tippit is president of the Northside Garden Club in West Monroe. This club toured six Monroe and West Monroe Gardens last Thursday. The rose is a creamy yellow, thornless, evergreen and a prolific grower. It is beautiful climbing over the top of a garage or outbuilding. Irma and Dr. McHenry have trained theirs on a trellis and over the top of their green house. You can see the rose in their side yard (address 1810 Riverside). Mrs. A. R. Butler has pruned a Lady Banksia to a tree shape. That's a good idea for those whose yards are small and — if you don't want to make a trellis. Irma says she has found the rose to be practically disease resistant. Lady Banksia also comes in white, but I've never seen a white one. The yellow is a very old rose. I'm sure you remember it in your grandmother's gardens. One of the nurseries has this rose in buckets. It's not too late to plant one because you can cut the bucket and the bush will never know it has been moved.

Plant bulb tops while you're waiting for them to die. Makes the beds look neater.

Mary Pearl Jarrel was amazed that I had never seen a leaf sweeper. She had just purchased one the day we visited her lovely garden on the tour, and was delighted with its time saving results.

FOOD NEWS

Eva Haynes, Tony Veazy and I were complaining over our limited menu possibilities at present. Really, guess we just wanted to "gripe" a little because there are so many plentiful foods now.

Eggs and poultry continue to be your best buys. In the near future tangerines may be marketed over a longer period of time as a result of experiments just completed. You'll be buying frozen asparagus before too long. Early tomatoes moving to the markets are poor quality because of late frosts. The May crop should improve. Onion crops are lower than usual. Frozen foods are more than plentiful. Among these are frozen strawberries, peaches, raspberries, blueberries, green peas, lima and snap beans, spinach, broccoli and brussels sprouts.

TO ATTEND L.W.V. CONVENTION

Mrs. Elmer Slagle, president of the League of Women Voters, of this city, left today for Cincinnati, Ohio, to attend the national Convention of the League of Women Voters. The convention will be held from Monday, April 28th through Friday, May 2nd.

MRS. ELMER SLAGLE TO ATTEND L. W. V. NATIONAL CONVENTION

Mrs. Elmer Slagle, president of the Monroe League of Women Voters, will represent the local league at the national convention of the League of Women Voters of the United States which will be held in Cincinnati, O., Monday, April 28th through Friday, May 2. Mrs. Slagle will join league members from nearly 800 leagues in 47 states, Alaska, Hawaii and D. C., to adopt a national plan of work for the next two years, to adopt a budget and to elect national officers.

Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale, who was to attend as a delegate from the state board, will not attend due to her recent election as an alternate to the National Democratic convention. Mrs. Tisdale will resign her post on the board on account of a non-partisan position of the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. John G. Lee of Farmington, Conn., will again head the slate presented by the nominating committee. Other nominees are: First vice president Mrs. Robert F. Leonard, Washington, D. C.; second vice president, Mrs. Waldo E. Stephens, Oklahoma City; secretary, Mrs. Walter Neale, New York, N. Y.; treasurer, Mrs. F. W. Hopkins, Highland Park, N. J.; directors: Mrs. Edward M. Boyne, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. Orville Foreman, Jacksonville, Ill.; Mrs. Henry L. Killen, Orlando, Fla.; Mrs. Rensis Likert, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mrs. Moses H. Lurie Belmont, Mass., and Mrs. Martin A. Row, Dallas, Tex. Mrs. Marc A. Law of Northbrook, Ill., is on the slate as chairman of the nominating committee for 1954.

On Tuesday evening, April 29, Miss Anna Lord Strauss, former president of the League of Women Voters of the United States, will adress the delegates. Miss Strauss has recently returned from Paris where she was an alternate on the U. S. delegation to the sixth session of the general assembly of the United Nations. She will report to the league membership her impressions as a delegate.

Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard University will address a dinner meeting on Wednesday, April 30. His subject is "Our Economy in Its International Setting." On Thursday afternoon a distinguished panel of experts will discuss the question "What Makes People Think", stressing particularly what motivates citizens to act once their minds are made up. Included on the panel are: Rensis Likert, director of the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan, Roscoe Drummond, chief of the Washington Bureau of the Christian Science Monitor; Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, coordinator, U. S. Station Relations, United Nations.

On Thursday evening presidential candidates from the Republican and Democratic parties have been invited to address the league on issues selected as most important by public forums held throughout the country.

BENEFIT SPAGHETTI SUPPER TO BE SPONSORED BY DELTA RHO DELTA

Plans are underway by members of the local chapter of Delta Rho Delta sorority for raising funds to further the social service work of Sigma chapter for the remainder of the year.

Delta Rho Delta is a social service organization, as well as eductional, of business and professional women who are always on the alert to assist in some way the less fortunate. Several projects have been sponsored in the past by th sorority to further the social fund and which have been successful.

The sorority has ably assisted with many projects in the Twin-Cities in the past including the Cancer Drive, Heart Fund, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Community Chest, Infantile Paralysis Drive, as well as the Girls' Scout work and the educational program of the chapter.

A project which the members thought to be a very worthy one, the one for this year, is to assist in furnishing shoes and braces for Infantile Paralysis Patients in Ouachita Parish. As a further means of raising funds for this project, Sigma chapter will sponsor a benefit spaghetti supper at the Missouri Pacific Booster Hall on Saturday, May 3rd., between the hours of 5:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, social service chairman is serving as general chairman of this event and is being assisted by the entire membership of Delta Rho Delta.

The following chairmen and their committees have been named by Miss Kirkpatrick: Chairman Food, Miss Ann Mickel assisted by Miss Mary Louise Farr, Miss Lillie Glen, Miss Mary Ann Ashford and Mrs. Bertha Patteron; Chairman Tickets and Posters, Miss Freeda Mickel; Publicity chairman, Miss Lillie Glenn; Chairman Arrangements and Decorations, Mrs. Paul Adams assisted by Miss Mary Elizabeth Stringer, Mrs. Marie Wilhite, Miss Jean Dozier, Miss Louise Griggs; Door Chairman, Miss Bernice McGrary assisted by Mrs. Catherine Lumbley and Mrs. W. Fields; Kitchen chairman, Miss Wilma Smith assisted by Miss Mary Riser, Miss Ruth Kennedy; Music Committee, Mrs. Chevis Sherrouse and Miss Hermoine Driskell; Serving Committee, Mrs. N. R. Golson assisted by Mrs. Jean Boyce, Mrs. Sunshine Kendall, Miss Martha Ann Kennedy, Miss Drucella Motley, Miss Frances Parker, Miss Ella Pearl Sutton, Mrs. Mary E. Taylor and Mrs. Johnnie Thomas.

Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, local counselor and Mrs. James Riddle, local membership director will be hostesses.

The proceeds of this benefit will go for a most worthy cause. The supper last year was a great success and the sorority members, with the cooperation of the people of the Twin-Cities, are making every effort to make the spaghetti supper this year just as great.

The supper will be served between the hours of 5:30 and 7:30 p. m. and tickets may be purchased from any member of the sorority or by calling the ticket chairman, Miss Freeda Mickel at 3-8858.

N. L. S. C. Faculty Wives' Club Have April Weiner Roast

Northeast Louisiana State College Faculty Wives' Club sponsored a weiner roast for its members and their families last Thursday night on the banks of beautiful Bayou DeSiard near President and Mrs. Lewis Slater's home.

The informality of this occasion and the beautiful scenery on the bayou brought much pleasure to all who attended.

After the meal, Mrs. L. L. Price called on various departments of the college to give impromptu stunts. The music department received the biggest applaud with its vocal renditions accompanied by improvised musical instruments.

The hospitality committee for this occasion consisted of Vivian Parkerson, Myrna Perkins, Martha Phillips, Jane Price, Agnes Pritchett, Olga Rust and Traudy Singer.

Couple Exchange Wedding Vows In West Monroe

Mrs. James Ivan Humphries, who before her marriage April 9th, at the First Methodist Church of West Monroe, was Miss Mary Lou Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Davis Miller, of Florien, La. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan S. Humphries, of West Monroe.

Miss Deborah Faye Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Warren, Master Ralph Harker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harker, and Miss Marilyn Ann McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Peek McKee, all of West Monroe, served as flower girls and ring bearer at the Miller-Humphries wedding, April 9th.

Miss Mary Lou Miller Is Bride Of James Ivan Humphries

First Methodist Church Of West Monroe Is Setting For Impressive Ceremony

The First Methodist Church of West Monroe, was the scene of one of the season's most picturesque weddings April 9, when Mary Lou Miller, of West Monroe, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Davis Miller, Florien, Louisiana, became the bride of James Ivan Humphries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan S. Humphries, West Monroe.

Rev. R. H. Staples, pastor, officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony, witnessed by a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

The outstanding color of spring was used as the theme for the wedding. Tulips, carnations and stock, in hues of orchid and purple, overflowed from pedestal baskets, and stood against a background of southern smilax. Orchid tapers held aloft by branched candelabra, created a fairy like illusion which remained throughout the ceremony. The candles were lighted by Stanley Burkett, friend of the bride and groom, and Bennett Humphries, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. C. H. Myers, organist, rendered a program of prenuptial music and accompanied Tommy Spurlock, who sang, "Always," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," as a benediction while the young couple knelt on a satin cushion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was the picture of true loveliness in her gown of Skinner's Satin and Chantilly lace, which was designed and created by her mother. The moulded bodice was caught to the lace yoke with a scalloped bertha and the billowy skirt, floor - length, featured an apron effect which fell below the knees and was of lace and satin. The finger tip veil of imported illusion fell from a Juliet cap of satin and lace. The lace mits were of the same pattern of lace, and her wedding bouquet was a purple orchid arranged on a white Bible and cascaded with tuberoses and satin streamers. A strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, provided the last accent to the gown which made it truly an original creation.

Mrs. R. G. Taylor, West Monroe, served the bride in the capacity of matron of honor. Her gown was of like design to that worn by the bride and was made of purple taffeta with accents of light orchid net in the skirt, hat and mits.

Miss Ruth Robinson, Muncie, Indiana, served as maid of honor and wore a gown also of like design to that of the bride which was made of orchid taffeta with accents of purple net in the skirt, hat and mits.

Misses Virginia Gandy and Martha Coldwell, of West Monroe; and Mrs. Roland R. Glaze, Houston, Texas, served as bridesmaids. They were dressed in gowns of like design and color to that worn by the maid of honor. All the attendants carried arrangements of orchid carnations and wore a strand of pearls, gift from the bride.

Little Misses Marilyn Ann McKee, and Deborah Faye Warren served as flower girls and were dressed identically like the bridesmaids. They carried a basket of flowers in the chosen colors.

Messrs. Haydron Dukes, Paul Worsham, Charles Lummas, all of Rodessa, Louisiana, and Joe S. Carter, Oak Ridge, Louisiana, served the groom in the capacity of ushers and groomsmen. All male members of the wedding party were dressed in summer tuxedo's.

The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his father, Ivan S. Humphries, who served his son in the capacity of best man.

Reception

Immediatley following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall. The same orchid color scheme was carried out in the decorations for the reception rooms. Arrangements of stock and carnations were placed at vantage points and the burning tapers created a perfect scene for the couple to receive their many friends and relatives. Mrs. D. C. Metcalf acted as hostess at the reception.

While the guests were being received Miss Martha Nell Chappell played appropriate pieces on the piano.

Overlaid with lace cut work, the bride's table was centered with the wedding confection, the tiers embossed in bride's roses with stems and leaves of orchid spun sugar. A miniature bride and groom surmounted the cake. Mrs. J. E. Whitaker, friend of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake.

At a side table, also overlaid with handsome cut work, the two crystal punch bowls were presided over by Mrs. F. C. McConnell and Miss Carolyn Bagwell. Individual cakes, and mints were passed by the following friends of the bride: Misses Virginia Strong, Peggy Newcomer, and Polly Ragland. Mesdames Norman Rushing, Clyde Jordan, Charles Oxford and G. C. Warren, all in pastel formals.

The bride changed her wedding gown for a two-piece grey shantung with navy accessories, which was complemented with the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Humphries was graduated from Florien High School, Florien, Louisiana, and Elliott's Business College in Beaumont, Texas. She is presently employed as secretary at the First Methodist Church, West Monroe, Louisiana.

Mr. Humphries graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and will graduate from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in May of this year with a BS degree in Electrical Engineering. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity; vice-president of the Tech Engineer's Association and vice-chairman of the Tech Branch of the American Institute of Electric Engineers.

After a honeymoon trip to New Orleans and points east, the couple will be at home to their many friends at 2912 No. 8th Street, West Monroe, La.

Out-of-town guest for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Miller, Florien, La.; Mrs. Lula Edwards and Mrs. Eva Heard of Canada, Mrs. W. W. Holmes, Mrs. C. H. Lee and Mrs. C. G. Bullard, all of Zwolle, La.; Mrs. Fisher Leach, Florien, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Roland R. Glaze, Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Humphries, Kelly, Louisiana; Miss Joyce DuVall, Messrs, John L. Stimac, Jay Oberling, Clarence Lipscomb, Thurman Ward, John H. Lard, Jr. and Joseph C. Main, all of Louisiana Tech, Ruston, La.; Billy Ray and Haydron Dukes, Paul Worsham and Charles Lummas, all of Rodessa, La. Joe S. Carter, Oak Ridge, La. and Miss Ruth Robinson of Muncie, Indiana.

Delta Rho Delta Hears Address By Outstanding Business Man

'The Atom-Future Threat Or Blessing' Subject Of An Address By Harold V. Brady

Highlighting the month of April for members of Sigma chapter of Delta Rho Delta was the lecture on Monday evening at the Virginia Hotel by Mr. Harold V. Brady, Vice-President and General Manager of the Negley and Paper Co.

Mr. Brady, who is a most forceful speaker, had as his subject "The Atom-Future Threat or Blessing", a subject which he was well qualified to deliver.

His lecture follows, in part: "For sensational interest and intrinsic importance, the recent flood of discovery concerning the nature, structure, and behavior of the atoms is without a parallel in science. Like a bolt from the blue the new conception of the atom bursts into view. The suddeness is only seeming. Foundation and superstructure were decades in building. Only the removal of the scaffolding was sudden.

What, then, is an atom? A substance that is made up fo tiny pieces, each of them itself indivisible, each alike, and each characteristic of that substance and not something else. The Greeks called these pieces atoms, which means "indivisible." Each substance is built up of atoms, either all of one kind or a linked arrangement of several kinds. Atoms vary, therefore, there are as many kinds of atoms as there are elementary substances — about 100 in all. They are all assembled from three kinds of fundamental, electrical particles; that is, proton, electrically positive: neutron, electrically neutral; electron, electrically negative. The proton and the electron are heavy particles — each has almost 2000 times the mass of an electron. The electron is so light that it really seems to be nothing but a tiny charge of negative electricity.

What is the atom's structure? Every kind of atom has essentially the same structure. At the center there is the nucleus, all the heavy particles in the atom are concentrated in this. Away on the outskirts of the atom are the light electrons. The electrons are in constant movement.

Atomic energy is nuclear energy. It is the binding energy which holds the nucleus together. Some of the heavier atoms from time to time fire off a part of the nucleus of their own accord. These are the natural radioactive atoms, such as radium and uranium. In them, the nucleus tries to simplify itself spontaneously. This breaking apart of atoms is known as fission. The atoms which do this most violently are uranium, which was used in the Hiroshima bomb, and plutonium, which was used in the Nagasaki bomb.

Atomic energy can and it does, now, today and every day benefit man. Few people grasp this. An atomic pile is a concentrated source of neutrons. It uses these neutrons to turn ordinary uranium into explosive plutonium. But, in process, it gives out heat, and this heat is already being used for daily civilian purposes. It will soon be used as a source of power, to drive an engine or to generate electricity.

The neutrons are also a source of radioactivity. The piles are today making radioactive cobalt and iodine, which are helping to cure tumor patients. Today these atoms tell the scientist how a wound heals. It is a blessing in the cure of certain diseases now being discovered.

What use we make of atomic energy is for us to choose. This is not a matter for scientists but for every citizen.

Like every great discovery, atomic energy offers an equal potential of happiness or disaster. It is the gift of science, and every scientist searches his heart at midnight to pray that the gift will bring a blessing. "The prayer is in all our hearts; its fulfillment lies in all our hands."

The following were present to hear this outstanding lecture: Miss Mary Ann Ashford, Miss Jean Dozier, Mis Hermoine Driskell, Miss Mary Louise Farr, Miss Lillie Glenn, Mrs. N. R. Golison, Miss Martha Ann Kennedy, Miss Freeda Mickel, Miss Ruth Kennedy, Miss Ann Mickel, Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Catherine Lumbley, Miss Bernice McCrary, Miss Drucella Motley, Mrs. Bertha Patterson, Miss Mary Riser, Miss Wilma Smith, Miss Mary Elizabeth Stringer and Mrs. Marie Wilhite.

Green Thumb Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Richard Gorman

Mrs. Richard M. Gorman's delightful home at 3900 Harrison street in Monroe was the setting for the Green Thumb Garden Club's April meeting, with Mrs. H. Downing as co-hostess.

Mrs. Ralph Newman, club president, called attention to two worthwhile projects to be engaged in, the beautification of Bernstein Park and the landscaping of West Monroe's City Hall grounds. The club voted wholehearted cooperation in these programs.

Mrs. D. F. Dennis, a guest, agreed to judge the spring flower arrangements brought by club members. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ralph Newman for the best original arrangement.

Enjoying this springtime occasion, besides the hostesses, were the following club members; Mrs. Bernie Emory, Mrs. Robert Emmons, Mrs. D. B. Gee, Mrs. C. B. Hayton, Mrs. Fred Hayton, Sr., Mrs. Howell Heard, Mrs. Ralph Newman, Mrs. Jesse Norris, Mrs. J. L. Jones, Jr., and two guests, Mrs. D. F. Dennis and Mrs. T. S. Mangham.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB NEWS

WATSON CLUB

"Good baking and good eating go hand in hand" was impressed upon the Watson Home Demonstration Club when they met in the home of Mrs. T. R. Jones for the April meeting.

As each one came, she gathered in the dining room where Mrs. Jones, as hostess and leader, showed how good baked products make any meal more pleasing. She first showed the group how to mix and knead the standard yeast method of light bread rolls and then baked some ice box rolls she had prepared. Each one had a chance to see and taste the beginning and finishing of light bread rolls and were encouraged by Mrs. Jones to prepare some for real eating at home.

After the demonstration the group returned to the living room where the president, Mrs. J. G. Peacock, lead the club in discussions, reports, and some plans for future activities.

A covered dish supper was planned for Thursday night, May 1, at 7:30 p. m. in the Watson School cafeteria in keeping with National Home Demonstration Week. Mr. J. J. Joyce, parish agent, will bring a picture for those who gather for the supper.

An amateur contest and show will be sponsored later in May for the school to help further its activities this school year. Anyone who can sing, play, or talk are invited to be present and enlist their talent to make it a great night and a good show. The piano recital, as part of club work, will be held also to help carry out the goal of this year's work.

Mrs. J. C. Rayner gave a report on good nutrition and Mrs. T. R. Jones, on family life. Mrs. T. T. Jones encouraged each one to carry out the aim of the club. The club collect was repeated by those that were present, who were: Mrs. Hazel Waldon, Mrs. Ray Lindow, Mrs. Bob Castleberry, Mrs. M. L. Peacock, Mrs. J. G. Peacock, Mrs. T. T. Jones, Mrs. J. W. Wilson, Mrs. J. C. Rayner, Mrs. T. R. Jones, Mrs. Dora Rawls, Mrs. W. J. Kelley, Mrs. Lena Belle Rawls and 14 children.

LENWIL CLUB

The Lenwil Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Lucy Whitlock on April 15. Mrs. Whitlock was a gracious hostess and her lovely home was adorned with spring flowers and the dining room table was attractive with a bouquet. Mrs. Whitlock served piping hot rolls and butter with apple jelly. Iced drinks were also served.

Those present were: Mellie Anding, Betty Bamburg, Zelma Hollingsworth, Mrs. Arlan Rawls Mrs. E. C. Lawrence, Mrs. O. A. Norwood, Gertrude Owens, Mrs. Krane and Myra Stennett and Lucy Whitlock. In the business discussion the Bawcomville citizen's committee is cooperating with the Lenwil Club in putting on a community can clean-up. The idea involved is to provide cheap transportation for the disposal of the annoying collection of cans a housewife has to put up with that mars the appearance of her lovely home. The housewife would pay a small fee for this service.

A demonstration on roll making was given by Lucy Whitlock. Each lady helped knead the dough and listened carefully as each step was explained, thereby learning to make Parker house, platted, clover leaf, and bonds rolls, using granulated yeast. The next meeting will be held in the home of Madeline Farnell on Martin street, on May 20. Mrs. Farnell, who just recently moved into her new home, gives the advanced information that she will serve mashed potato muffins and there will be punch to drink.

Fairbanks Club

The control of insects on vegetables and flowers was the subject of the Fairbanks Home Demonstration Club at their March meeting held at the home of Mrs. O. J. Ham. Mrs. Clyde Bradford gave the demonstration and led the discussion. She told of the many kind of insects and the flowers or vegetables they attracted. The kind of insecticides and methods of applying was shown as Mrs. Bradford presented to the club for inspecting a number of different brands of sprays and powder that can be effectively used. Also types of spray guns.

Mrs. P. J. McKnight presided over the business and gave reports on meeting she attended on Foundation Garment. She also gave a report on the council meeting.

Delegates will be sent to Baton Rouge in August for a short course.

Reports were given by Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Sackett and Mrs. Bradford. The April meeting will be held in home of Mrs. Emory Johnson April 24 at 2 p. m. Mrs. J. M. Sanders was guest at the club meeting.

LAMKIN CLUB

The committee of the Lamkin Home Demonstration Club gave such an impressive report on their visit to the Baptist Orphan's Home at an all day meeting Tuesday, April 8th, in the home of Mrs. Roy Farmer that boxer shorts will be their hobby for April and May.

The dormitories of the boys and girls of pre-school age were visited with twenty wide-awake little boys and nine adorable little girls. Boxer shorts seemed to be one of the problems for the boys. The club decided for each member to turn in as many boxer shorts as possible at the May meeting, then more would be made before the June meeting. A short business session will be held in June, then the club as a body will visit the little boys, deliver the shorts and give a picnic for them.

The girls will be remembered at a later date.

After lunch the business session was held. Consumers education leader, Mrs. Sanders, demonstrated the correct way to sharpen knives. The house furnishing leader explained two types of knife racks. The safest type is one that covers the entire blade and the other was where the blades are exposed.

"Do you know the new words for special treatment of fabrics?" was asked by Mrs. Farmer, sewing leader. A list of new words and their meaning was given and the suggestion to carry the list in the purse to be used when buying cloth and ready made clothes.

Mrs. Beadles, the garden leader, advised to begin transplanting, followed by a demonstration on cheese dishes by Mrs. Deen, food preparation leader. The origin of cheese and their uses was also told.

Mrs. Love reported on family relations and an instructive paper on chickens was given by Mrs. Waller.

Mrs. Alton Houston was welcomed as a new member. Refreshments were served to Mrs. C. C. Beadles, Mrs. Irvin Waller, Mrs. Charles Love, Mrs. E. M. Sanders, Mrs. T. L. Venable, Mrs. L. L. Deen, Mrs. J. D. Collier, Mrs. Pat McHenry, Mrs. A. E. Waller, Mrs. O. B. Brett, a visitor, Mrs. Houston and Mrs. Farmer.

Thrifty Club

The Thrifty Homemakers met with Mrs. J. H. Carroll for their April meeting.

Mrs. Carroll gave a demonstration on cheese which she attended recently at the Agricultural building. She explained that cheese was very nutritious and offers a way of varying the menu. They are also a way of supplementing milk in the diet. At the present low price, cheese may be substituted as meat.

Other reports were given by clothing leader, nutrition leader, consumer education leader and vegetable garden leader.

Members attending the meeting were Mrs. Doe Dorothy Brakefield, Mrs. Joe Rogers, Mrs. Kenneth Lee, Mrs. G. W. Jones, Mrs. Willie Smith, Mrs. Huddle Grant, Mrs. A. R. Walker, Mrs. Cline Averett, Mrs. Judson Moore, Mrs. Archie White, Mrs. Thomas Whyte and Mrs. A. L. Wilbanks and Mrs. Ted Grant, visitors.

Cheniere Club

Celebrating its eight anniversary, the Cheniere Home Demonstration Club met April 10 in the home of Mrs. W. B. Nelson, with Mrs. C. C. Owens, co-hostess.

After the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Webb Portman, the group sang "America, the Beautiful" Mrs. H. P. Carter then led in prayer.

"Proper dressing" was the theme of the report given by Mrs. H. P. Carter, clothing leader. Mrs. Webb Portman gave a report about the parish council meeting.

Mrs. C. C. Street demonstrated the care of knives. The history of cheese, cheese dishes were described by Mrs. D. K. Lowery.

Refreshments which included an anniversary cake and ice cream, were served to the following members: Mrs. W. B. Nelson, Mrs. C. C. Owens, Mrs. Will Davis, Mrs. H. V. Parsons, Mrs H. P. Carter, Mrs. Webb Portman, Mrs. M. B. McDonald, and Mrs. D. K. Lowery. Visitors were Mrs. Gene Street and Mrs. Carter.

Lakeview Club

The recreation period of the club was used in the form of a surprise birthday shower for the hostess' mother, Mrs. Powell, who was presented with many useful gifts.

The hostess served refreshments to Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. A. E. Redden, Mrs. Hollis Speights, Mrs. C. M. Almond, Mrs. J. H. Thrasher, Mrs. Merle Bennette, Mrs. Violet Tolbird, Mrs. J. C. Tolbird, Mrs. Alan Smith, Mrs. F. B. Baker, and one guest, Mrs. Powell.

The May club meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Violet Tolbird.

Tallulah P.-T. A. Has April Meeting

TALLULAH, La., April 25 (Special)—The Tallulah Parent Teachers Asociation met in the high school study hall on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Claude Crimes presiding and Mrs. Rufus Yerger serving as secretary.

In the absence of the scheduled guest speaker, Mrs. Robert E. Brown, program chairman, conducted an informal discussion on how parents can guide their children in choosing a vocation, with members present contributing talks and comments on the subject. The session proved to be both interesting and helpful.

Miss Colvin's third grade room received the award for the highest percentage of parents present.

First marriage in the White House was March 11, 1811, and united Justice Thomas Todd, of the Supreme Court, and Lucy Washington.

'Fashion Fireworks In Cotton, Presented Tuesday

McCall's Fashion Show Features Duplicates Worn By The 1952 Maid Of Cotton

"Fashion Fireworks in Cotton" was the title of the fashion show held Tuesday at the Virginia Hotel at which time twenty-nine cotton fashions made from McCall's patterns were presented. The style revue was sponsored by the Palace and Mr. Harold Huckaby, manager of the 3rd floor, in cooperation with McCall's patterns to bring to the woman who sews the newest, most fashion - right cottons in designs any woman can make for herself.

The show duplicated in every detail the fashion show that is touring with the 1952 Maid of Cotton, Miss Pat Mullarkey. Designs for every hour were presented, including every type of cotton for everything from beachwear to evening fashions, and was climaxed by a wedding outfit shown in crisp white embroidered organdy.

Mrs. Winnifred Mather, McCall's stylist from New York, and who also is touring the country with Miss Mullarkey, was present for the showing, describing in detail the lovely dresses worn by the models.

Miss Katherine Guerriero modeled a yellow and black figured cotton with button front and stand-away collar, an Italian design. Katherine also modeled an Italian adaptation of a four piece panel dress with girdle and panels that detach, in pink brocaded cotton. The dress featured a straight skirt which was sleeveless. A dotted Swiss irridescent of wine color was next modeled by Miss Guerriero. The dress was sleeveless with wine velvet belt worn with matching stole.

Miss Nona Gay Williams, a lovely blond, was wearing a two piece dress in purple with roll collar, tuck in blouse worn with a white belt. The "king size" checked pull skirt was worn with a tiny purple also modeled a princess line sleeveless dress in chartreuse with white "Spencer" jacket.

Miss Barbara Kelso modeled a tweedie cotton cardigan neckline coat dress with black patent belt. Barbara also modeled the French influenced "Martingale" short coat of brilliant peacock blue corduroy over a slim sheath dress. The coat was lined in the material of the dress.

Miss Elizabeth Leigh was wearing a tailored dress in stripped chambray which featured the wing tip cuff and four gored skirt. With this she added a colorful red flower at the belt. Miss Leigh also modeled a junior fashion with slim skirt and peplum jacket of green and bige chambray. The jacket rim of plain lime chambray was perfectly coordinated with the block plaid chambray in shades of lime and coffee. A "Big "Gibson" girl blouse with matching full skirt, was next modeled by Miss Leigh. With this she wore a crushed patent belt.

Miss Ione Hill modeled the new-looking play outfit with the knee hugging pedal pushers in black poplin and the mandarin-collared top designed to be worn with shirt-tails out as well as tucked in.

Miss Elizabeth Doane modeled a tailored percale plaid dress with white collar and buttons. Elizabeth also modeled a three piece blue and pink chambray with full skirt, girdle belt and bow at the neckline.

Miss Mary Warner was wearing a delightful coat and dress ensemble in sheer tissue chambray veiling in glowing red over a tissue swiss plaid bare-armed plaid dress of white and red. Mary also wore the beautiful bride's dress in embroidered cotton organdy with puffed sleeves and worn over a strapless white slip.

A stunning halter - top princess dress with cover - up jacket was worn by Miss Frances Sheppard. The dress was of tan linen with blue linen jacket. Frances also modeled a blue long-torso or hugging-torso dress with full skirt and matching jacket.

Miss Lloydelle Walters was becoming in a sheer orchid tissue cotton with button front. Miss Walters also modeled a bridesmaids dress in French blue cotton organdy with low waistline and full skirt The short fashion gown was sleeveless and was identical to the one worn by the bride in white.

Miss Etta Jean Massling chose a denim princess dress in green with scoop neckline and panel front. Her bolero jacket was in matching plaid. Miss Massling also modeled a chartreuse whirl-skirted dress in quilted cotton. The dress featured a low round neckline with capelet sleeves and was lined in matching green material.

Also shown at the fashion show was a chambray bathing suit with the new covered - up look with brief skirt detached to reveal brief romper pants. The terry wrap is lined in a "companion" chambray stripe.

Cottons from Dumari, Ely and Walker, Fisba, Stoffel, Logantex, Dan River, Peter Pan, Flugelman, Ameritex were represented in the twenty-nine garments shown.

Cy Young hurled consecutive shutouts for the Boston Braves over the Brooklyn Dogers in the National League opening games of 1906 and 1907.

Collinston W. S. C. S. Has April Meeting

"Humanizing Labor Relations", was the program discussed when the Collinston W. S. C. S. met in the home of Mrs. Jack Waldrop, April 15th at 7:30 p. m. with 18 members present.

Mrs. Dorothy Ann Norsworthy introduced the program theme and the following topics were discussed: "What do we mean by labor," by Mrs. W. D. Puckett. "Why do we have labor unions?" by Mrs. A. J. Tarver. "Closed shop—open shop" by Mrs. Guy Boyd. "Right to strike," by Mrs. R. O. Richards and "What about compulsory arbitration" by Mrs. J. G. Pyron.

The purposes of this program was: To help people gain a better understanding of the problems of industrial relations which are continually discussed in newspapers nd in conversations to find ways in which Christian principles can be better expressed in relations between labor and management and to discover opportunities for Christian women and the Christian church to improve working conditions and relationships.

Mrs. Alton Norsworthy presided at the business session which was opened with the group repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Mrs. Norsworthy announced the district conference which is to be held at the Oak Grove Methodist church, Wednesday, April 30, registration beginning at 9:30 a. m.

Instructions sheets were distributed to the new officers by the president.

Mrs. A. J. Tarver gave an inspiring devotional using as her scripture part of 104 Psalm. Mrs. David Herrell closed the devotional with prayer.

DREAD DISEASE

Trachoma, a disease which causes blindness, is found mostly in the Ozark and Appalachian mountain regions, as well as among Indian tribes of the southwest.

Hogs which are kept cool during the summer months eat better, gain faster, and put on weight at less cost.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Patrons of the Ouachita Parish Public Library are not generally aware that the library depends for its main support on the ½ mill property tax paid by all of the property owners in Ouachita parish. This tax has been in effect since 1947. It was voted for a five year period and the time has come to renew it. The election date is May 6. This is the only thing that comes up at this time. If you are a user of the library, be sure to go to the polls that day and vote for the tax. Don't sit at home and leave it to the other person to take care of. If you want your library to continue to operate, remember the date of May 6.

There are a few facts that you should know about your library. Ouachita parish has the lowest library tax rate of any of the 36 parish libraries in Louisiana. It is a ½ mill tax, which cost you 50 cents for each $1,000 of assessed property valuation. Since the library has been operating on a tax-supported basis the circulation has increased 300 per cent, the registration has increased 300 per cent and the book collection has increased 75 per cent. Two new branches have been added to the system. According to the statistics published by the Louisiana State Library only three libraries in the state loaned more books than we did last year. They were Orleans, Caddo and East Baton Rouge. Twenty seven per cent of the people of Ouachita parish are registered borrowers of the library. Only two small parishes have a larger per cent of their people using the library.

In spite of the fact that we have been busy publicizing the tax campaign, many new books have been added to the library collection in the past few weeks. Mystery stories appeal to a great number of readers and there are several new titles worthy of interest. "The Case of the Moth Eaten Mink" by Erle Stanley Gardner will appeal to a great many readers. "The Judas Goat" by Leslie Edglie is still another exciting story. A spine-tingling story of espionage in Europe is "Trial by Terror" by Paul Gallico. Readers of science fiction will welcome "Imagination Unlimited" by Everett F. Bleiler.

Two new western stories by established authors are "Captives of the Desert" by Zane Grey and "The Galloping Ghost" by William Colt McDonald.

"The Richer Harvest" by Elizabeth Corbett is the story of a man who reached contentment although everything seemed to go wrong with his career. It is the story of Charley Hinckley who devoted his life to everybody but himself. In the eyes of the world he was a failure, but in reality he achieved a happiness known to few people.

"The Brackenford Story" by Michael Home is a sixty year panorama of life in an English village, from the days of the old aristocracy to the rise of the new democracy — a period which spanned three wars and saw a complete change in the civilized world. Mr. Home writes for the quiet contemplative reader. Read in this way his book is one of pure enjoyment.

The many readers who took "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" straight to their hearts can look forward to something similar in "Faraway the Spring" by Richard Hagopian. This is the story of an Armenian family in Massachusetts. In this book there is an admirable simplicity and a catching tenderness. It should appeal to a large audience. Readers who enjoy James Gould Cozzens will welcome the reissue of one of his earlier books "Ask Me Another." It makes fascinating reading.

In addition to the books listed above, there are many interesting books of non-fiction. "Glory Road" by Bruce Catton is a fascinating history of the Civil War and is a continuation of his book of last year "Mr. Lincoln's Army." There are several fascinating new biographies. Probably the most popular one is "Elizabeth the Queen" by Marion Crawford. It is amazing how she could publish this so soon after Elizabeth II ascended the English throne. "Wendell Wilkie" by Mary Earhart Dillon is the best life that has been written about this amazing man who made such an impression on American life in a few years time. "Emmet Fox" is a preacher of great ability, readers of his "Sermon On the Mount" will welcome the interesting story of his life, written by Harry Gaze. A very vauable book of information is "The People of Louisiana" by T. Lynn Smith. It contains many facts about our state, which should interest all of us.

There are several new books of interest to business men. "Essentials in Interviewing" by Anne F. Fenlason fills a definite need. "An Introduction to Business" by Clifford Hicks contains a wealth of information on every phase of business. "Better Clothes for Your Money" by May Evans is a most worthwhile book giving hints on shopping.

These are only a few of the recent books available at your parish library. Give it your support on May 6 and keep it in operation.

When you want to make meals more nutritious and filling, serve cooked, buttered durum foods — spaghetti, macaroni or noodles—topped with your choice of main dishes. For instance, buttered noodles are delicious topped with stewed or fried chicken. Try spaghetti covered with a hot chili mixture. Macaroni makes a fine base for pork chops braised in tomato or sour cream sauce. Plan on about 1 ounce of durum food for each person. An ounce of spaghetti, macaroni or noodles costs only 2 or 3 cents, so you'll find you're trimming the food budget too.

Black Jack Can Be Exciting

By Oswald Jacoby ad Alfred Shenwold

"We are eight bridge players who meet regularly, once a week," writes a Hartford correspondent. "We usually start a game of Black Jack to pass the time until all eight players have arrived.

"One of our players is a real Cautious Cal. If his first two cards add up to 12 or 13, he will stand pat instead of drawing another card. We tell him that he has ice water in his veins, and he insists that we're a bunch of easy marks. Who is right?"

In theory, your friend Cal is right. In practice, he is missing all of the fun. I assume that you play for chips of no particular value, so that it doesn't matter much whether you win or lose five or six chips by the time the bridge game starts. The important thing is to have fun.

In a sociable game of Black Jack, the banker will not stop unless he has a total of 18 or 19 points. He has no trouble, of course, if he is dealt such a total in his first two cards. If he has less in his first two cards, he will have to draw more cards—and the odds will be about 2 to 1 that he will go overboard in the attempt.

Now let's get back to Cautious Cal. He is dealt a total of 12 or 13 points. He knows that the chance of reaching a total of 18 or 19 points is very slim. He has a better chance to win if he simply stands pat and hopes that the dealer has to go overboard.

This may not be a very good chance, but he has been dealt a bad hand and no other way of playing it offers him a better chance.

So much for the theory of the game. Now let's take the practical view. If you're going to play 15 or 20 minutes of Black Jack once a week, an ounce of excitement is worth tons of science.

It's not very exciting at least not to most people to sit tight with a miserable total of 12 or 13 points in the hope that the banker will have even worse luck. I'd rather go down swinging if I have to go down; so I'd draw another card in hope of improving the hand.

Mind you, I have respect for the player who can be scientific in this situation. But there wouldn't be much fun in a sociable game of Black Jack if everybody played that way. Personally, I'd leave that game and go to a nice cheerful cemetery.

IN MOVIELAND

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This week Judy Garland fired the opening gun in a unique theatrical venture that will attract more than $2,250,000 in 1952.

Leather-lunged Judy is the first attraction of the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera, an enterprise which has drawn the envy of showmen throughout the nation. In the next six months, citizens of Los Angeles and San Francisco will pay up to $4.80 to see such topnotch shows as "South Pacific," "Call Me Madam" and "Song of Norway."

The man behind this million-dollar venture is a balding, wel-organized fellow named Edwin Lester. He can order $50,000 worth of costumes as easily as he soothes a ruffled soprano.

This is the 15th season of the Civic Light Opera as a non-profit organizer of entertainment. Actually, the organization had two previous seasons that were non-profit but not intentionally so.

"I persuaded four friends to put in $1,000 apiece with me in 1935," he recalled. "We did four operettas in four weeks and lost all of our capitalization. The next year was an even greater success. We lost more!"

Most businessmen might give up after two failures, but not Lester. He skipped a season, then started in 1938 on a community-service basis.

The growth of the Civic is shown in the production bills. The first show, "The Vagabond King," cost around $5,000. A recent extravaganza, "Magdalena," ran up a bill of $350,000. And most of that went down the drain when "Magdalena" failed to pay off in its Broadway run.

But the civic has also had spectacular successes. "Song of Norway," which originated here, established a long-run record for operettas in New York and was a hit revival of "the Red Mill" and the current "Three Wishes for Jamie."

Many present stars got their start or were boosted along the way by appearing in the local operettas. Among them: Mitzi Gaynor, Jerome Hines, John Raitt, Peter Lind Hayes, Eddie Foy Jr., Bob Hope, Irene Manning and the late Carole Landis.

FERRIDAY, La., April 25 — St. Mary's Cathedral in Natchez was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Miss Mary Louise Hermann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Steward Hermann, of Natchez, and Mr. Harry Herndon Meng, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Herndon Meng, Jr., of Vidalia, La. The double ring ceremony was solemnized at a nuptial mass at which the Right Reverend Monsignor Thomas Fullam, officiated.

Miss Joan Hermann attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Francis Martin, Jr., Vidalia, Miss Nancy Meng, sister of the bridegroom, Vidalia; and Miss Jeanette Haynes, Miss Kathy Dawes, cousin of the bride served as flower girl.

Austin Meng, of Vidalia, attended his brother as best man. The ushers were Nathan Calhoun, Vidalia; Warren Mengis, Baton Rouge and Donald Byrne.

During the sacred rites Miss Mary Margaret Butler sang: "Sancta Maria", "Panis Angelicus", and "Oh, Lord I Am Not Worthy". Mrs. Roman Derdeyn played traditional nuptial music throughout the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School. Later she attended Webster College, St. Louis, Mo. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Vidalia High School. He received a B. S. Degree in commerce from Louisiana State University, and he is now assistant fiscal chief of the Louisiana Forestry Commission.

WELCOME BRANCH BOOK CLUB HAS BENEFIT BOOK REVIEW

Mrs. Thomas Jett, well known book reviewer, was presented by the Welcome Branch Book Club in a benefit book review Thursday at the Frances Hotel.

Mrs. Fred Hornberger, club president, in introducing Mrs. Jett, explained that the proceeds from the book review would go toward maintaining the library at the Cooley Sanitorium, a project which was introduced by Mrs. Burnside Lofton, 16 years ago. Mrs. Lofton said "16 years ago we had a project, today we have a library of 1000 books and 12 magazines."

Mrs. J. N. Coon, accompanied by Mrs. Henry Williams, sang "The Slave Song," "If I Could Tell You" and "My Heat Heart's Country."

"What Eisenhower Thinks" by Taylor Allen was the timely book expertly reviewed by Mrs. Jett. Mrs. Jett said: "The book is small but full of dynamite. It is made up of addresses made to different organizations. It is a good book to have in your library for reference. It has been published 30 days."

Mrs. Jett told of Gen. Eisenhower's ancestry; his childhood, and his military training at Westpoint.

"He is one who believes that every individual should have an abiding religious faith. He belies in duty. He demands results. He believes we should accept our responsibility, and that every problem can be solved with cooperation."

"In the economic field he believes in free enterprise of production. Capitol management and labor must cooperate to raise the standard of this country. He does not care for any presure group —no patience with them, unless what they want will benefit all."

"The Negro is as an American citizen to him. He says no race has come as far in 85 years as the Negro race. He believes in the Marshall Plan because it would help these people help themselves. He believes in the United Nation and making it work. He believes firmly in universal training. He hates war and does not think there is a preventative war.

He believes all human beings are children of God.

Mrs. A. L. Harrington Is Hostess At Lovely Garden Party

Miss Margaret Gardner And Charles Stocker Fontelieu Also Feted At Cocktail Party Before Marriage

Among the courtesies extended Miss Margaret Gardner and Charles Stocker Fontelieu before their marriage Saturday, April 19, at the Grace Episcopal Church, was the lovely garden party given by Mrs. A. L. Harrington Friday for members of the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

The affair was held on the lovely lawn of Mrs. Harrington's home with individual tables placed around the beautiful pool. The picturesque setting was in bloom with beautiful spring flowers of Iris, phox and larkspur with beautiful yellow Iris blooming in the pool.

A delectable luncheon was served buffet style to the out-of-town guests which included Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fontelieu, of New Orleans; Mrs. S. C. Stocker, grandmother of the bridegroom, also of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fontelieu, Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Boteler, of Jackson, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Gardner, of D'Lo, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ledner, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Brown, of New Orleans; Mrs. Louis Rosenbohm, Jr., of New Orleans; Miss Mary Morehead, of Baton Rouge; Miss Yolande Carter, of Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. Scott Heuer, of St. Louis; Mrs. Louise Bland, and Mr. Archie Bland, of New Orleans, and Mr. Robert Roberts, also of New Orleans. Members of the bridal party attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Heuer, Mr. Hillyer Speed Lamkin, the honorees, Margaret Gardner and Stocker Fontelieu and the hostess, Mrs. Harrington.

Cocktail Party

Mrs. E. T. Lamkin and her son, Mr. Hillyer Speed Lamkin, entertained the bridal couple on Thursday with a cocktail party at the home of Mrs. Lamkin, between the hours of four and six o'clock.

The lovely table held a beautiful arrangement of spring flowers. At each end was placed two exquisite silver punch bowls from Japan. Presiding at these were Mrs. A. L. Harrington and Mrs. Allen Barham.

Over forty guests called between the appointed hours.

DR. JNO. PAUL IS NOTED LEADER

The Methodists of Jena, La. are enjoying a very successful revival under the leadership of Dr. John Paul, D. D., L. L. D., Ph. D. The services will last through Sunday night, April 27.

Dr. Paul, who is an approved all-denominational evangelist, preached his first sermon in a little wooden church which was on the same site as the present Jena Methodist Church.

A minister for over fifty years, Dr. Paul has experienced a most colorful career, having been listed in Who's Who continuously since 1923. He was formerly president of Taylor University at Upland, Indiana and is now vice-president of the Asbury Seminary board and editor of the Higley Sunday School Lesson Commentary.

One of the most enjoyable highlights of his career was in 1917 when he was in Japan as preacher for the interdenominational convention.

CUBBERS' PACK HOLDS SESSION

Each Member Brings Bird House Which They Had Fashioned

Pack 34, sponsored by Lida Benton P.-T. A., met at Lida Benton School April 24th. All cubs brought a bird house which they had made some time during the month of April. There were eighteen bird houses entered in a contest. While the judges, Mr. H. B. Ryland, Mr. Douglas Whithead and Mr. W. H. Rogillio were studying the bird houses the pack, parents and visitors entered into a reading of "Johnnie Mix up." It was a hilarious mix-up and everyone enjoyed it.

For the best bird house, George Levasseur won first prize, Harold Coates won second prize and Jackie Pogue won third prize. The other fifteen bird houses were so good the judges surprised the boys by giving them all a small reward.

Cubbers in pack 34 have been working hard and their parents have been helping them because the following boys received advancements: Tommie and Herbie Ryland, Douglas Whitehead and J. R. Hegwood received their bobcat pins. Ronald Stephens, Buddie Cantrell, Harold McGriff, Robert Coleman and Tommie Cole received silver arrow point on wolf. Jackie Pogue received gold arrow point on wolf. Austin Miller received his bear badge. Charles Osborne, Jerry Bragg and James Coleman received silver arrow on bear. Bill Rambin received gold arrow on lion and Newt Caldwell received silver arrow on lion.

After the impressive ceremony when the boys received their awards Cubmaster Gunn announced the plans Pack 34 has for the exposition which is to be held May 3. The pack is looking forward to that day as one of the outstanding events of the year.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, April 26. — Scanning my mail from week to week, I'm inclined to believe that no other single influence ever had done so much to whittle down Hollywood's box-office receipts as has the publicity resulting from the Congressional investigation of communism within the motion picture industry.

For every one letter I'd ever had, announcing that the writer was "through with movies" because of disgust generated by poor pictures, or because of distaste aroused by Hollywood scandals, I've had half-a-dozen renouncing patronage because of a conviction that the studios are overrun by Reds, all trying to use the screen for their own propaganda purposes.

Admittedly, there's little logic in the position taken by most of the letter writers. None of them seem able to point out a specific picture containing Communist propaganda; the stars and writers and directors whom they cite as Hollywood Commies are so few in number that they constitute less than one-fiftieth of one per cent of the motion picture industry's personnel.

But lack of logic lessens neither the public's suspicions nor the threat to Hollywood. Quite the contrary; a revulsion inspired by emotion is far more potent than one born in the process of sober reason. And suspicion, as any psychologist will tell you, can — and usually does — generate more resentment than does actual conviction.

I think the movie industry's bosses have made their big, and very costly mistake, by "letting John do it" instead of doing it themselves. To every charge of Communist infiltration, they replied with a new coating of indiscriminately applied whitewash until the House Un-American Activities Committee forced the issue. And even after the committee's investigations, they settled back into their easy chairs and drowsed until the American Legion took matters into its very powerful hands.

Perhaps it's not too late for the studio czars to do now what they should have done in the first place —set up a committee of their own, and conduct, on a fair and impartial basis, an investigation of every man and woman on their payrolls. Those who are innocent should be defended courageously; those who are proven guilty should be eliminated. Employers are responsible for those they hire.

Idol Chatter: All Lana Turner needs to live up to the title of her newest picture, "The Merry Widow," is a divorce decree; she couldn't be any merrier. . . Growl: what price great dramatic ability in Hollywood when an actress like Margo is relegated to a trivial bit in "Viva Zapata." . . . Amazing, isn't it, how sweet a temperamental actress can be — when she wants! . . . Add facts I never knew until now: That Keefe Brasselle used to be a drummer in Skinny Ennis's Band. . . . Don't think I ever knew a man with a stronger penchant for ultrafast cars than Gary Cooper has. . . . Quote of the week: Marilyn Monroe: "Cheesecake is a thing of the past. The public is worn out by pictures of girls showing their forms."

MGM's Monica Lewis is suffering from an acute attack of curiosity. Some weeks ago, cleaning out her wardrobe closets, she gave to a Hollywood charitable organization which sells "garments of the stars" the ice-blue formal dress she wore when studio scouts saw her singing in New York and signed her for screen work. To the dress she clipped a note which read: "This dress brought me good luck — may it do the same for you." A few days ago she received a letter, unsigned. It read: "Your ice-blue formal has brought me luck, too — my first big job singing with a band. If I really hit the big time, I'll tell you my name."

Nick Dennis, playing one of the top roles in Stanley Kramer's new opus, "The Dirty Dozen," tells it. Seems he was born in Independence, Missouri. His parents owned a cafe there and one of their steady lunch-time patrons was Harry S. Truman, then a judge. A few years ago Dennis was in the stage play, "The Rugged Path," when it opened in Washington. President Truman, having seen it and liked it, invited the cast to the White House. Dennis flabbergasted his fellow players by greeting the chief executive with, "Hello, judge, I'll bet you never expected to see me here." The president was equal to the occasion. "How are you, Nick?" said he. "I'll bet you never expected to see me here, either!"

The reddest face in Hollywood is being worn by a very big producer —a man who has hired and fired hundreds of photographers in his time. He just came back from a European vacation, during the course of which he shot some 25 reels of 16-millimeter movies, he thought. Actually he brought back nothing but blank film. He forgot to take the dust cap off his camera lens.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes. Both men and women who flit from one love affair to another do this. I read recently in a novel where the author said of his heroine: "She was charming like her father. But she wasted it as he wasted it — squandered it on selfish purposes." Many men and women squander their charm to buy what they immediately want — not to draw people closer and make life richer and more precious for both.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Yes, probably, but one wholly different from what he would have if he were living with others. Psychologists argue whether or not "personality" is something you possess or the effect you have on others. One group defined personality as "the degree to which you interest and serve others." Robinson Crusoe's "man Friday" doubtless had some sort of personality, although he had never interested or served anybody. Anyhow, our booklet, "How To Improve Your Personality," will help yours. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes, it helps the solidity of their marriages. Sociologists studied 17,533 marriages and found that in the happiest ones the husbands were usually professional men. The unhappiest were day laborers, traveling salesmen, mechanics, musicians, real estate salesmen, carpenters, plumbers, truck drivers. The investigators concluded that the husbands who were most in the public eye (and subject to gossip) had the happiest marriage.

Want To Learn Self-Control?

"How To Manage Your Feelings and Emotions" is Dr. Wiggam's new illustrated booklet.

It describes clearly what happens to both your mind and body when your feelings and emotions conquer you and it also fully explains what you can do about it —how you can master your feelings and gain self - confidence.

This remarkable booklet is yours for 15 cents (in coin only). Address Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of this newspaper. Include a stamped (three cent) self - addressed return envelope.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquited in me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him for the help of his countenance.—Psalms 42:5.

Miss Lily Pons Is Honored Guest On Boatride Wednesday

Miss Freeda Mickel Entertains Board Members Following Concert Tuesday Night

Miss Lily Pons, who appeared in concert Tuesday night at Neville auditorium, was guest of honor Wednesday afternoon on a boat ride given by General and Mrs. Claire Chennault and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noe on Noe's Ark.

Considered as one of the world's best dressed women, Miss Pons chose for this occasion a blue silk shantung dress made especially for her by a Chinese designer in California. The blouse was fashioned with a manderin collar and small knotted buttons of matching material. The skirt was full and was worn over a crinoline petticoat. With this she wore a natural milan Coolie hat and carried a yellow carnation, one of her favorite flowers. For sunning she wore a natural shantung peddle pushers with printed blouse in gold and black.

Guests enjoying the boat ride and luncheon in addition to the hosts and Miss Pons were Miss Freeda Mickel, membership director and vice - president of the Twin City Music Association, Mr. Speed Lamkin, Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. Layton Lamkin, Mrs. J. H. Thatcher, Jr., Mr. Jack Hartop, Miss Pon's manager, Mr. Frank Versaci, her personal flutist Lynn Chennault, three year old daughter of General and Mrs. Chennault and Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale.

Concert Party

Miss Pons was the final concert of the season of the Twin City concert series.

A lovely arrangement of spring flowers were placed on the dining table where dainty sandwiches, olives, pickles and other delicacies were served.

Enjoying this occasion with the honored guests, Mr. Frank Versaci, Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaForge and Mr. Jack Hartop were Mr. and Mrs. Slade Brown, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Miss Hermoine Driskell, Mr. Nick Kockinos, Miss Mamie McNeil, Mrs. Nell Entrican, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Heinberg, Mr. and Mrs. John Cale, Mr. Phil Saragusa, Mr. Frank Parker, Mrs. Melba Liner, Mr. Bill Ragland, Mr. William Humber, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dalton, Norma Jean Holcombe, Jack Ansell and Sarah Ritter.

KILLED

Cpl. Ernest J. Wisenor, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wiesnor, Route 3 Rayville, was killed in action with the United States Armed Forces in Korea. His parents have just received official notification of his death, having been notified on July 13, 1950 that he was reported missing in action. The only news received since that time was by his wife in a letter from one of his buddies saying that he was killed in action July 8, 1950. Cpl. Wisenor re-enlisted in the United States Army October 14, 1949. Before entering the service he attended Rayville High School and was a member of the Alto Baptist Church. He is survived by his parents, wife, Mrs. Georgia C. Wisenor, Centralia, Washington, one brother, Lynn Wisenor, West Monroe.

Miss Libby Mulhern Feted At Lovely Afternoon Tea

Mrs. Lewis C. Slater Entertains For Bride-Elect At Beautiful Prenuptial Event

One of the spring's loveliest social affairs was the tea given by Mrs. Lewis C. Slater honoring Miss Elizabeth Anne Mulhern, whose calendar is overflowng with prenuptial courtesies.

About three hundred guests called between the hours of 4:30 and 6:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the spacious Slater home on the Northeast State campus.

The reception suite had the added attractiveness of floral arrangements featuring ranuncula, gladioli, roses, and painted daisies. The beauty of the setting was combined with the gracious hospitality of the hostess to form ideal hours of entertainment.

Mrs. Slater was wearing a handsome green lace gown which was accented by soft lines in the waist and skirt of floor length. Enhancing its richness were a necklace of pearls and antique gold with matching earrings. Her corsage of burnt gold carnations completed the artistic note.

The bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Barney Louis Mulhern, was gowned in chartreuse nylon. The scalloped neckline and sleeves were pretty features of the bodice which joined the long sweeping skirt. She wore pearls at her neck and wrist and a large single rose.

The honoree was charming in white nylon net. The basque was sequin trimmed and fashioned with draped affect across the shoulders. Sequins also studded the top of the skirt which was gathered at the knees to create a bouffant effect. Her corsage of white carnations and iris gave added accent to the dainty frock, while the jeweled richness of the gown was carried out in her rhinestone necklace, earrings and bracelet.

Mrs. William Herman Anders, the prospective bridegroom's mother, chose a dress of royal blue crepe which fell to the floor in graceful lines. The neckline was encircled with a wide band of silver beads, and the silver was repeated in the belt. For jewelry, she used a rhinestone necklace, earrings and bracelet, and she wore a rose on her shoulder.

Miss Cecil Ann Oliver of Bossier City, a member of the wedding party, wore a picturesque frock which beautifully mirrored the ante-bellum period. It was a white dress featuring embroidery and ruffles at the neck and sleeves, and inserts of embroidery in the long bouffant skirt were finished with full ruffles. Pearls at her neck and matching earrings completed the portrait of the crinoline days, which have returned so graciously.

Mrs. John Coon was attractive in a lovely champagne dress of lace. The bodice, designed with a graceful fold at the neckline and on the sleeves, was joined to a full skirt. She chose a necklace of pearls and rhinestone earrings and a corsage of red roses.

As the guests enjoyed the convivality of the occasion, background music was played by Mrs. Charles G. Moore, Jr., of Winnsboro, Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton and Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope, both of the Northeast music faculty.

Assisting in extending courtesies in the reception suite were Mrs. Henry Montgomery and Mrs. Fred M. Culver.

In the dining room where refreshments were served, was the bride's table, overlaid with a linen cutwork and appointed beautifully in every detail. At one end was a crystal punch bowl at which Miss Carrie Dee Drew presided. She was wearing a navy satin dress trimmed in handsome lace and she complimented it with rhinestone jewelry and a yellow rose in her hair.

White tapers burned in pairs of twin silver candle holders to cast a mellow glow over the dainty floral arrangements and refreshments. The central decor was an antique sterling epergne overflowing with an artistic array of white blossoms—ranuncula, tulips, carnations and candy-tuft. Completing the artistic effect were miniature colonial bouquets centered with ranuncula and framed with frills of tulle.

Silver trays held confections circled with ruffled tulle and centered with floral arrangement of lillies of the valley, bride's roses and lilies and dainty fern. These arrangements were also the handiwork of the confectioner. Other silver trays held mints in pastel shades, and compotes on the buffet were filled with nuts and refreshments.

Assisting in the dining room courtesies were Mrs. A. L. Tatum and the tea girls, Miss Mamie Jo Drouet, Miss Elizabeth Ann Doane and Miss Nona Gay Williams.

In 1952, Italy had almost twice as many automobiles as in 1940, the figures being 705,844 and 358,208.

CELEBRATES WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Couple Honored On Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Futch celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary recently at the home of of their son and daughter - in - law, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Futch. Approximately 150 guests called between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 o'clock. Receiving with the honor guests were Mrs. Willie Fricheli, daughter, and Miss Joan Futch, granddaughter.

Rev. W. A. Dearman read the impressive service as the couple repeated the vows they took fifty years ago. They stood under an arch entwined with bridal wreath and the numerals '50' in gold at the top. On either side were floor baskets of yellow gladioli and branched candelabra.

The reception table overlaid with an ecru lace cloth had as its center decor an arrangement of yellow jonquils. Mrs. W. C. Fleet served the beautifully embossed wedding cake and Mrs. A. P. Futch presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. J. V. Futch had charge of the guest book. Mrs. Hartley rendered appropriate music during the afternoon.

TWIN CITY COUNCIL OF CHURCH WOMEN PLAN FELLOWSHIP DAY

The Twin City Council of United Church Women of nine local churches of Monroe and West Monroe will observe the traditional May Fellowship Day on the first Friday in May which falls this year on May 2nd. This will be observed in the form of a covered dish luncheon on Friday at 12:30 p. m. at the Episcopal Parish House with the Episcopal ladies as hostesses.

Mrs. George Sexton, Jr., guest speaker, will talk on "Spiritual Security for Today's Families". Mrs. Sexton has served as president of the Louisiana conference, Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, as president of the South Central Jurisdiction of the W. S. C. S., which is composed of 19 conference over eleven states. She is presently on the Board of Missions, which serves the entire United States.

There has never been a time when the family has been the focus of greater attention by both secular and religious groups. It is as though the family has been rediscovered as the bulwark of a society. The stressing of the development of the Christian home has never seemed so important. The security of today's families in the face of the strains and stresses of living today calls for special study and rethinking of the role of the family. By practicing and teaching the fundamental precepts of religion the family itself will help to lay a firm groundwork of religious values in each American home and this influences the spiritual security of each of its members.

All women are invited to come and bring their favorite covered dish for the luncheon.

End-Play Better Than Guesswork

By Oswald Jacoby

Written for NEA Service

"Is it pity or blame for South in the accompanying hand?" asks a Milwaukee correspondent. "West opened the jack of spades, dummy played low, and East played the queen. South won with the ace of spades and decided that East's queen of spades had been a singleton.

"Declarer led a low spade at the second trick, and West naturally played the five of spades. South then finessed dummy's nine of spades, and the hand went up in smoke. East won with the ten of spades and returned a heart. The defenders wound up with a trump, two hearts, and a diamond.

"Was there any way for South to know what the true trump situation was? Would an expert be fooled by East's deceptive play of the queen of spades at the first trick?"

East's play was very neat, and South had no way to be sure of the trump situation. Nevertheless he should have made his contract. South should be blamed for picking the wrong line of play.

The correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of spades and cash the two top clubs at once. South next leads a trump to dummy's king. If the trumps are 2-2, South has no further problem (as long as the diamonds break reasonably).

What can West then do? If he happens to have a high diamond, he can take it, but this merely postpones the key play. He must then lead hearts, allowing South to win a trick with the king (since a club lead will surely allow dummy to ruff while South discards a heart). In any case South will lose one trump, one diamond, and one heart.

In short, South should not try to guess the trump situation. He should prepare for an end-play since that will assure the contract if West eventually wins a trump trick.

Card Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Heart	2 Clubs	Double	Pass

You, South, hold: Spades K-7, Hearts A-Q-J-10-8, Diamonds A-Q-9-6-4, Club 5. What do you do?

A—If you are non-vulnerable against vulnerable opponents, pass. Under any other vulnerability conditions, bid three diamonds. Your side should have a sure game (possibly even a slam) at diamonds or no-trump.

You are willing to give up that game to collect important penalties, but not if the penalties and the game seem to be of equal value. You tend to pass regardless of vulnerability, however, if West often overcalls on weak hands.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-7, Hearts A-Q-J-10-8-3-2, Diamonds A-Q-6, Club 5. What do you do?

Answer Monday

The goodness of God to mankind is no less eviced in the chastisement with which He corrects His children than in the smiles of His providence; for the Lord will not cast off forever, but though He cause grief, yet will He have compassion according to the multitude of His mercies.—Hosea Ballou.

Weaving is believed to be one of the earliest, if not the earliest, craft practiced by mankind.

YRG'S

On Monday evening the YRG's entertained former members of the club with a picnic as their "special observance" for National YWCA Week. Guests and members were: Mrs. E. F. Caldwell, Mrs. Helen Turner Smith, Mrs. Evelyn Driggers Richards, Mrs. Dean Manning Fisher, Miss Betty Jane Golden, Miss Jimmie Lou Hopper, Miss Johnnie Mae Slaton, Miss Dot Grant, Miss Tommie Jean Lee, Miss Frances McClary, Miss Hazel Chambliss, Miss Pat Hall, Miss Vauna Dean Newsom, Miss Pearl Hopkins, Miss Betty Smith, Miss Norma Geiger, Miss Helen Crosby, Mrs. Hundley and Miss Sharp.

B. & P. CLUB

On Wednesday evening the B. and P. Girls' Club met with Kiki Gatzoulas, president, presiding. Marion Simmons and Betty Lou Alpha assisted as hostesses with Mrs. Hundley in serving a delicious supper. Eva Smith gave the devotional. The program was on "Y Week." Carolyn Swain told about National Membership Day all employed girls and YWCA members. Betty Alpha gave an interpretative article on the YWCA. Marion Simmons led the club in the "Prayer for Peace". Two new members were welcomed: Marie Arnold and Paula Thornton.

MEMBERSHIP MEETING

On Thursday one of the most outstanding and interesting meetings was held at the Y for world-wide Membership Day as a part of National YWCA Week. Those who were not at this meeting really missed something: getting to hear the talk by Mrs. Avery Lee and having the opportunity of meeting her. Mrs. Lee, a most charming and dynamic person, gave one of the most inspiring and challenging and powerful talks on "On Your Own But Not Alone" . . . bringing in the human relationships of life and how God guides and leads us . . . each individual is on his own but there is still the care and protections and love of a Heavenly Father who makes life real and worth living and dynamic. Mrs. Lee showed how "Jane Smith" representing the girls and women of today comes to the YWCA which helps Jane to be on her own but still gives her care and supervision, helps her with her problems and concerns, and challenges her to live the more abundant life through a vital religious faith and belief in God and Jesus and thus live a religious life. Mrs. Underwood Fourmy, YWCA devotional chairman of the board, led the group in the "Prayer for Peace". Mrs. Robert Woods, accompanied by Mrs. P. A. Poag, sang in her beautiful voice and most gracious manner two numbers: "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "Lover Come Back To Me." Miss Martin, president of the board, welcomed the members and guests and gave a report on the work of the YWCA. Mrs. E. P. Cudd as chairman of the Y Week committee was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. J. B. Thornhill, Mrs. Warren Breard, Mrs. Dann Dennett, assisted with the social hour. Mrs. Hundley and Miss Sharp assisted with the meeting as hostesses. During the social hour Mrs. P. A. Poag entertained with music.

Y-TEENS

The Y-Teens went to Shreveport to visit the Shreveport Y-Teens and spend the day at the YWCA Camp Margaret on Saturday.

Mrs. George Spencer Honored In Tallulah

TALLULAH, La., April 25 (Special)—One of the delightful events of the spring season was the reception given at the Spencer home on Mulberry street when Mrs. Mason Spencer entertained, honoring her daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Spencer of New Orleans, a recent bride.

Attractive arrangements of beautiful flowers were placed at vantage points in the reception rooms. A bouquet of yellow daisies and chrysanthemums was used on the mantle. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of snapdragons, pink daisies, white carnations and candytuft flanked by burning tapers in silver candelabra and a bouquet of ranunculus white stock and candytuft graced the buffet.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. Horace Lee and Mrs. W. C. Starrett and were then greeted by the hostess and honoree, Mrs. George Spencer and her mother, Mrs. Alva Shields Castell and sister, Miss Edith Castell also of New Orleans.

Miss Jane Vernon Sevier and Mrs. Calvin Huckaby had charge of registration in the bride's book and Mrs. Walter Scott, Sr., Mrs. John Sevier, Mrs. Jack Folk and Mrs. Rufus Yerger alternated at the table pouring spiced tea and coffee. Serving sherry were Mrs. E. A. Buckner and Mrs. Ophelia Friis. A variety of dainty and delicious sandwiches and confections were served. Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. E. B. Schicker, Mrs. Henry Sevier and Mrs. Annie Agee.

Baskin Jr 4-H Club Members Are Honored At Party

Ivy Cleo McFarland Weds Harry Vilardo At The Country Club

TALLULAH, La., April 25 (Special) — The beautiful wedding of Miss Ivy Cleo McFarland, daughter of Mr. Jack McRarland of Winnfield and the late Mrs. McFarland and Harry Vilardo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Vilardo of Tallulah, took place on Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock at St. Edward's Catholic Church here with Rev. Father R. M. Maure officiating at the impressive double ring ceremony. Easter lillies formed the decorations for the chancel.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Josephine Phillips who wore a gold faille suit with purple accessories and carried a French bouquet of lavender carnations and purple stock. The flower girl, little Maria Scurria was dressed in pink with a halo of blue cornflowers and pink carnations and she carried a small bouquet of the same flowers. Little Sammy Lombardo, in a blue suit served as ring bearer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was lovely in a blue crepe suit with which she wore white accessories. Her bridal bouquet was lillies of the valley centered with a white orchid. The bridegroom had as his best man, his cousin, Joe S. Scurria.

An elaborate reception was held at the Tallulah Community Club which was beautifully decorated throughout with calla lillies, chrysanthemums, tulips and other flowers together with tall white tapers in floor candelabra. The bride's table held a lovely all white arrangement of snapdragons, tulips, candytuft and nums. Mrs. O. N. Williamson presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Homer Erwin served at the handsomely embossed four tiered wedding cake.

Out - of - town guests in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Vilardo and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cush, of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Vilardo and daughter, Zina Marie, and sons, Bobby and Sammy, and Mrs. Robert Cefalu, of Helena, Ark.; Mrs. John Muffoletto, of Memphis; Mr. Tony Illard, of Clarendon, Ark.; Mrs. Paul Cush, of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Jack McFarland and family, of Winnfield; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lombardo and daughter, Annette, of Newellton; and Mrs. Sam Pedro and daughters, Marie and Alice of Monroe.

Navy Mothers' Club Have April Meeting

Plans were made for the club to send cookies to the veterans' hospital in Shreveport. Mrs. Reid, who read the minutes, also reported that twenty-four pounds were made and sent to Shreveport for the coffee hour given Saturday afternoon by the club. The club also received thanks for a pair of pajamas made and sent to a wounded marine.

All mothers of the navy, marines, Coast Guards and Seabees, are invited to meet with the Navy Mothers' Club as this club is a home away from home. The motto of the club is "Once a Navy Mother, always a Navy Mother."

Daniels-Hulbert

FERRIDAY, La., April 25—Mr. Charles Hulbert of St. Louis, Mo. announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Gloria Hulbert, to Cpl. Theodore Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daniels of Ferriday. The wedding took place on April 15 at Scott Field, Ill. Mr. Hulbert gave his daughter away in marriage with friends of the bride and groom acting as bride's maids and best man. The couple will make their home for the present in St. Louis.

Miss Helen Morgan Is Feted At Lovely Prenuptial Party

Mrs. Lasley Richardson Entertains For Bride-Elect At Her Home On Clear Lake

Mrs. Lasley Richardson entertained at her lovely home on Clear Lake last Thursday in honor of Miss Helen Morgan, bride-elect.

For this occasion the honoree chose a chartreuse silk shantung afternoon dress with full skirt and softly draped lines. Her corsage, a gift of the Williams Flower Shop, was of small green cymbidiean orchids.

Receiving with Miss Morgan in the spacious foyer of the Richardson home were her mother, Mrs. Fred Morgan, the mother of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. E. A. Holtzclaw, Mrs. Robert Calvert, sister of the honoree and hostesses, Mrs. E. B. Lipscomb, Mrs. E. E. Keebler and Mrs. Richardson. Also sharing the honors of the hostess were Mrs. Carl Earle and Mrs. Oliver Lowery.

Guests were invited into the gracious receiving rooms of the Richardson home where a profusion of flowers graced every vantage point. Presiding at the guest book was Miss Mary Ann Burk.

Coffee and tea were served from the handsome silver services at the reception table, which formed a picture of graceful beauty. The table was overlaid with a cloth of imported cutwork and was centered by a spectacular sunburst of canary yellow carnations against a background of soft yellow candy tuft. This centerpiece was flanked by gleaming yellow candles in massive silver triple candelabra. A bow of maline holding a specimen carnation formed the base of each candle.

Presiding at the coffee and tea services were Mrs. C. L. Johnson and Mrs. H. A. Mangham, alternating with Mrs. T. M. Sayre and Mrs. W. L. Yancey.

Finger sandwiches, dainty chicken patties, petits fours and other delicious confections were offered the guests from serving trays of silver, passed by Mrs. Lula McMahon, Mrs. Wilma Francis, Miss Marguerite Coenen, Mrs. Frank Burley, Mrs. Horance Cochran, Mrs. Charles Griffis and Mrs. Hollis Venable.

Guests were graciously invited to wander through this lovely home which is perfect in every detail.

Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. R. R. Rhymes, Mrs. E. E. James, Mrs. Pat H. Earle, Miss Pearl LeFevre, Miss Ruth Whatley, Miss Patricia Richardson, Miss Helene Earle Lowery, Miss Josephine Med Mendolia and Mrs. Allen Buie.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Dick Bradley Mrs. Henry Hinkle, Mrs. Ben Cobb, Mrs. A. A. Guy, of Monroe; Mrs. T. P. Calhoun, Mrs. J. N. Holtzclaw and Mrs. R. P. McKay, of West Monroe; Mrs. T. B. Justice and Mrs. A. G. Bray of Tallulah; Mrs. Thomas Burk of Liberty, Miss.; and Mrs. Petty and Mrs. J. I. Hebert of New Orleans.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Next Friday's the date for a camp rally to be held at Georgia Tucker School at 7:30. It's for girls and their parents and is especially intended to interpret Girl Scout camping to them. The program, which will last just an hour, will consist of group singing, a film on Girl Scout camping in general and a film made at Camp Wawbansee last summer, presentation of the '52 awards and announcements concerning day camp plans.

We've been told that Bill Anthony, better known as "Cousin Bill" is going to emcee the program, Mary Lou Overton of the camp committee is making arrangements and her husband has agreed to be the projectionist. Some Monroe girls were at Wawbansee last summer when the movie was taken and you might get a glimpse of them. Jean Smith of West Monroe was assistant director of the camp and we hear there's a good shot of her and also of Cheryl Fink.

It's always fun when Scouts get together, and we predict that Fridays rally will arouse even more interest in the three kinds of camping - day, troop, and established.

A group of Girl Scout leaders spent Friday night at camp as part of the training course for outdoor leadership. Bet they had fun! If we hear any interesting details we'll pass them on. Learning by doing is the Girl Scout way.

Lucy Huckabee says that Troop 27 on its overnight last week did a lot of hiking and exploring in the vicinity of camp, as well as lashing another table for the outdoor kitchen.

Leaders Rabun, Duncan, and Roth took the girls of troop 25 to camp for the day Saturday. The Scouts reviewed knowledge of trail signs and then put it into practice by having one group lay a trail and the other group follow it. The first group laid such a good trail and the follow - up group was so observant that no one missed a sign. On the way the girls gathered specimens of leaves, and our executive, who happened to be at camp, taught them how to make smoke prints.

So, it goes, two or three troops using the camp ever week end and a great many dates already taken for camping in May and June. The camp committee hopes that when school is out troops will go to our camp for two or three - day's stay at one time. Ethel Easterling, camp chairman, says its' easier that way because a troop is not tempted to crowd too many things into a short stay. Troop 14, with Mrs. Easterling and Mrs. Richard Pierce in charge, was in camp last night. There are really a lot of out-of-door lovers in that troop.

See you at the rally Friday.

Cater-Pittman

FERRIDAY, La., April 25—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bellucci of Vidalia, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Marion Louise Pittman, to Mr. William Herbert Cater, of Vidalia, son of Mrs. Margie Cater and the late Mr. J. H. Cater. The wedding will be solemnized June 1st at the Vidalia Baptist church at 4:00 p. m.

HONORED AT BANQUET

Mrs. Margaret Newman Honored At Banquet In Lake Providence

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., April 25 (Special)—At the April meeting of Powell Martin Barrett Unit No. 37, the 26 birthday of the organization and of the Child Welfare program were jointly celebrated. The local unit was organized in 1926, when Child Welfare and Community Service were the two most important programs, with other programs and activities to be added and to gain prominence and importance.

Mrs. Margaret Newman, who was unit organizer, a charter member, past president of two years service and holder of every office in the unit, except chaplain, has the enviable distinction of having served as a child welfare chairman for twelve years, consecutively. In its anniversary celebration the unit honored Mrs. Newman, praised her for her excellent work, and expressed thanks for the many honors she has brought through her tireless efforts and zealous work.

Working to attain the goal of "A Square Deal for every Child in East Carroll Parish" Mrs. Newman estimates she has traveled some 10,000 miles, claiming it impossible to estimate the number of children and families assisted, the number of crippled sent to the Shriners Hospital, in Shreveport and to the crippled children's clinic in Monroe.

Known as the Santa Claus of the parish, the local postoffice employees put all letters addressed to Santa Claus in her box. It is her happy task of answering each, bringing Christmas cheer and making note of special requests to see that they are fulfilled on Christmas Eve.

In her souvenir book she treasures a postal card dated 1927 from Mrs. Mona Spurlock, department president in Paris for the American Legion and Auxiliary convention.

In organization days the auxiliary met in the homes, recalls Mrs. Newman, with a group of women acting as hostesses. Funds were raised by rummage sales, cake and candy sales. In the early '30s a home was bought by the Legion, located on the lake front, but due to financial reverses the home had to be turned back to former owners. Today the legion and auxiliary boast possession of one of the most modern and attractive homes in North Louisiana, with rooms for auxiliary meetings.

Fisherman's Club Has April Meeting

The Fisherman's Club held its monthly meeting at the Collinston Methodist Educational Building Thursday evening at 7 p.m.

It was decided at the business session to change the meetings into family nights. The next meeting will be May 15.

Everyone is invited to attend and bring a dish and the supper will be "pot luck."

A delicious supper was served Mrs. Dale Lowrey, Mrs. B. W. Hopgood and Mrs. R. O. Richards to the following: J. G. Pyron, R. O. Richards, T. F. Eldridge, A. J. Tarver, Alton Norsworthy, Dale Lowrey, R. A. Harper, Williamson Pipes, John Gobble, Clyde Adams, Carl Norsworthy, B. W. Hopgood, Basil Miller, A. H. Harper and the Rev. David Herrell.

He Used to Hide Out when his creditors came

He was 'way behind with his bills—couldn't seem to catch up. So he took what he thought was the easy way out—dodging his creditors, avoiding a reckoning day.

Then, realizing one day that he was losing the respectable reputation he formerly enjoyed, he mustered up the courage to talk things over with his creditors. And he was relieved to find that it was not the ordeal he thought it would be.

In many cases, as in this one, people who cannot immediately pay their bills will find friendly counsel and cooperation from the Credit Manager, and from the local Credit Bureau Manager. These credit executives are interested in helping people to understand the sound use of credit, and glad to show them how to establish and maintain a good credit record.

If you are behind in your bills—and thus jeopardizing your credit privilege, see your creditors or the Credit Bureau Manager. They will help you straighten out your credit problems without embarrassment, annoyance and loss of "face." If temporarily distressed and unable to pay your bills in full, dodging your creditors won't help. Call on them and talk it over.

Dorothy Dix

It Can Work

With Wisdom And Patience, Two Generations Can Share Home

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: Is there nothing to be said in favor of a widowed mother living with a married daughter? Judging from the attitude taken by most people toward this question, one would think it nothing short of criminal.

I was a widow when my only daughter married several years ago and went quite a distance away to live. My life was very busy at the time, as I took my aged parents into my home and cared for them until they died. Now I maintain my home and derive some income from it, but it is both a physical and financial struggle for me.

On the other hand, my daughter, who is very happily married, is quite tied down with four children. She has no outside help except for an occasional baby-sitter. We could be a help to one another. If I sold my home and went to live with them (and they assure me there is always a room waiting for me) the financial sacrifices would all be on my side, and perhaps I shouldn't be doing that at the age of 60. I would not be dependent upon them entirely. I do feel, however, that life is too short to be away from those we love, but I would never want to bring discord into their home.

A. S. M.

ANSWER: There is a very great deal to be said in favor of a mother living with a daughter, and about the only thing against it is simple human cussedness. Few people are willing to make the adjustments necessary to a workable solution of the problem. From the facts you present, and granting that your daughter and son-in-law are as intelligent and thoughtful as you, the combined family should be an outstanding success. Your daughter could certainly use the assistance of an understanding mother, and you are too wise to inflict unsought advice, or to try to monopolize her time or attention.

BE WILLING TO COMPROMISE

The reason most three-sided households are not successful is that one, at least, of its members is too demanding, too unwilling to compromise. Mother considers that she still wields authority over daughter, or that the young people should never go out without her, or entertain company by themselves. Daughter, all too frequently, thinks she can have an unhampered social life because grandma is around to take care of the youngsters. Son-in-law resents every move Mom makes and refers to her, even before the children, as a battle-ax. No household can endure in harmony with so many conflicts.

But what a small job of readjusting will do! Mother takes her place as the third member of the family with no resentment. After all, she had her day of authority and it is only right that the reins of government should now be placed in younger hands. The young couple defers to her as a matter of good manners, and a result of good upbringing. The grandchildren are taught to do the same. Daughter is glad to have the assistance of another pair of hands, but doesn't try to inflict a burdensome share of the work onto the older woman. Son-in-law, too, is happy to see his wife less harrassed and with more time to go out with him. Why can't it work out?

If you do go to live with your daughter, don't give up all your own activities. Don't become entirely dependent on your daughter and her family for amusement or entertainment. Take an occasional vacation by yourself, or with friends. Getting away once in a while will give you a chance to keep your perspective and independence, and give your family a chance to miss you. Best of luck to a very wise and sensible woman!

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm going steady with a girl who has a bad habit of acting up all the time. I've threatened to break with her if she doesn't stop, but I know I'm too much in love to carry out my threat. What can I do with her?

K. K.

ANSWER: Read "The Taming of the Shrew." Will Shakespeare had methods of handling headstrong women that are wise to this day.

If you marry the girl and let her continue to rule your life with her tantrums, you're in for a sorry fate. No matter how deep your love, it won't last long under such adverse conditions. Either reform her now, or give her up!

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm 25, about to be married, and have just one major worry. When I was quite young, my gums became infected and it was necessary for me to have all my teeth extracted. I'm terribly self-conscious about this handicap, and have never let anyone know of it. My fiance, of course, doesn't know, and I'm afraid if I tell him he'll call off the wedding. Do you think I could conceal my affliction when we're married?

WILMA

ANSWER: I don't advise trying to keep so serious a matter secret. A man who truly loves you is not going to let you down over a matter of dentures. Eventually he is bound to find out, and will be terribly hurt at your secrecy. I know it will be hard to tell him; perhaps your mother could handle this detail better. Don't put it off any longer, and you'll have a much easier conscience.

DOROTHY DIX advises girls not sure of the state of their affections in leaflet D-14, "Are You Sure It's Love?" To obtain a copy, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper.

PLANNING GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Discusses Agenda Of Conference Set For September

The central planning committee of the Ouachita parish pre - school work conference met at the O. P. H. S. library, April 24, with Mrs. Helen Le Fevre presiding. The minutes, read by Secretary Bobby Wilson were approved.

The chairman of each of the various committees reported progress made on plans for the conference which will be held September 2nd, 3rd, and 4th. The planning committee adopted as theme for the conference, "Better Learning Through Better Planning."

Mrs. Chrissie Williams, supervisor, distributed permanent committee sheets and a temporary schedule of each day's activities during the conference.

The following is a list of those who have replied to invitations and will attend the conference as consultants: Coordinator — Dr. George Deer; Dr. William Alexander, Mrs. Helen Rafferty, Mrs. Prewitt Morrison, Mr. Bill Smith, Dr. L. M. Morrison, Mrs. Noble Morrison, Mrs. Lena de Grummond, Mrs. S. Smitherman, Miss Gladys Peck.

Dr. William Alexander from University of Miami will be the general assembly speaker, as well as a consultant for the social studies and principal's groups.

David Hunt made a picture of the group attending the meeting to place on record in the 1952 scrapbook. Those attending were: Mrs. Elizabeth Firnberg, Mrs. George Guier, Miss Carrie Dee Drew, Mrs. Dwight Owens, Mrs. Cecelia Coulter, Mrs. Birdie Hatton, Mrs. J. H. McCulien, Mr. O. K. Bailey (for Mrs. Richardson), Mrs. LaVon Oglesbee, Mrs. U. N. Bradford, Mrs. Crystal Anthony, Mrs. Opal Yeates, Mrs. Fred Cook, Mrs. Eva Gewin, Mrs. A. L. Tatum, Miss Drucilla Motley, Miss LaNette Southall, Mrs. Edna Manley, Mrs. Vivian Parker, Mrs. Colene Mann, Mrs. Elizabeth Bonnette, Mrs. Helen LeFevre, Mr. Bobby Wilson, Mrs. Chrissie Williams, supervisor; Mr. W. W. Ward, superintendent.

DR. D. A. POLING CLUBS' SPEAKER

Will Address Fellowship Meeting In Grambling College May 1

RUSTON, La., April 26.—(Special)—The Seventh Annual Fellowship Luncheon sponsored by the Ruston Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs will be held at Grambling College on Thursday, May 1st at noon with Dr. Daniel A. Poling, renowned editor, lecturer, author and minister as the featured speaker. This unique occasion originated when the Louisiana Tech Concert Association brought Dr. Ralph W. Sockman of the National Radio Pulpit as a lecture number on its series in 1946 and a desire to have the men of the three Ruston service clubs hear Dr. Sockman in a special luncheon was temporarily frustrated by lack of a place to hold such a meeting at that time. President Ralph Jones of Grambling College who had previously served several individual service clubs of the area offered his facilities for a combined meeting of the three clubs involved which offer was gratefully accepted. The occasion engendered so much favorable reaction that the joint fellowship luncheon has been sponsored ever since on an annual basis by the three Ruston service clubs in collaboration with Grambling College with the wives of the members and many special guests invited, most of the latter being clergymen, educators, or workers in related fields.

The fellowship luncheon has an interfaith aspect which is similar to that propagated in National Brotherhood Week. Bishop Charles P. Greco of the Alexandria diocese of the Catholic church will give the invocation while Rabbi F. K. Hirsch of Monroe will give the benediction. Several others on the program represent Protestant faiths.

Tentative plans had been made to have Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith for the Roman Catholic Church as the speaker this year but a call to Rome caused Dr. Sheen to have to give up the proposed trip south. As a result, Dr. Poling who has spoken at the fellowship luncheon on a previous occasion, has given the cooperating committees the only time he had available. He will speak for the Grambling Concert Association at Grambling on Wednesday night, April 30th at 8:00 o'clock, at Howard auditorium on Louisiana Tech Campus at 10:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 1st for the Louisiana Tech Concert Association, in addition to the address which he will give at the Fellowship luncheon at Grambling at noon on May 1st.

Other speakers who have been presented at these annual fellowship luncheons in addition to Dr. Poling and Dr. Sockman are Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, president of the World Council of Churches, Robert Nishiyama, the much publicized Japanese Christian who was a suicide pilot in the recent war and Rev. Guy Howard, "Walkin' Preacher of the Ozarks." The committee for the 1952 luncheon is composed of B. Odom, president of the Ruston Lions Club, Ken Elliott, president of the Ruston Rotary Club, L. K. Wells, president of the Ruston Kiwanis Club and L. V. E. Irvine, fellowship luncheon chairman. Playing his usual major part in acting as master of ceremonies for the dinner music program and overseeing the serving of the meal will be Grambling's popular president, Ralph W. E. Jones.

MRS. E. SPIELMAN TALKS TO CLUB

Home Demonstration Agent Tells How To Make Most Of Selves

Mrs. Euna Spielman, home demonstration agent, discussed "Making the Best of Ourselves" in the home of Mrs. C. R. Alexander at the recent club meeting.

She stressed that weariness and pain can be eliminated by having one's work center at the correct height and to have one place in the kitchen with working space at top level for many sitting down jobs. The proper way to sit, stand and bend were discussed.

Reports were given by leaders on gardening and on family life.

DR. M'CLEOD TO PREACH SUNDAY

Shreveport Pastor To Fill Pulpit Of Covenant Church

Dr. W. L. McLeod, associate pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Shreveport, speaks Sunday, April 27, 1952, 11:00 a.m. on "The Dynamic of Faith." Dr. McLeod was born in North Carolina. He received Ph. B. and D. D. degrees from Elon College: B. D. from Columbia Seminary, Decatur, Ga. and did graduate work in Louisville Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

He has been minister of the Presbyterian Church in Oakdale, Jennings and Lake Charles before going to the First Church in Shreveport. Dr. McLeod built churches in Jennings and Lake Charles and is past moderator of Synod of Louisiana, a member of board of trustees of Austin Seminary and Mountain Retreat Association.

The public is most cordially invited to this worship service at the Covenant Presbyterian Church, at Brown auditorium. We especially urge parents to come and bring their children.

VFW Has First Meeting Since Election Held

The auxiliary to Rodney J. Hobbs Post 1809, Veterans of Foreign Wars, met Thursday night at the V. F. W. club room for the first time since the election of officers. The meeting was well attended and a number of interesting reports were made.

Mrs. Barbara Simmons reported on the proceeds from the rummage sales, which were considered highly successful. Also the sale of cards was reported to be going nicely.

In the absence of Mrs. Sally Zufall who served as chairman of the Easter program for the Veterans Administration Hospital at Alexandria, the following letter was read by the secretary:

"Dear Mrs. Zufall: In behalf of the several hundred veterans who had to spend the Easter holiday in this hospital, we want to thank your group for a generous and thoughtful remembrance which added greatly to the occasion. The check which you sent was used to purchase Easter candies which were served with the noon meal on Sunday. Such extra attentions on holidays serve to relieve the monotony and to remind the patients that they are not forgotten. Thus, your gift contributed to the morale of the men on a day when they would have liked to be at home with their families. Again, thank you for remembering them."

Ronald Abbott Hurt In Louisville Crash

Ronald Abbott, 16, 703 North Third, received slight injuries late Friday in an automobile accident in the 1200 block of Louisville Ave.

Hospital attendants stated that Abbot's injuries were not serious.

Monroe police officers stated that a 1951 Chevrolet, driven by Otis Samuel Etier, 31, 3510 Lee, was proceeding east on Louisville and attempted to make a left hand turn from the center lane hitting a 1952 Chevrolet driven by F. B. Blackburn, 48, 703 North Fourth.

Abbott was a passenger in the 1952 Chevrolet.

Carnation Day Is Proclaimed

Mayor John E. Coon has proclaimed Saturday, May 3, 1952 as "Carnation Day."

The proclamation read as follows:

"Whereas, members of the Thompson Wood Lee Auxiliary of United Spanish War Veterans contribute to all local civic, patriotic and benevolent drives, and

"Whereas, the carnation was selected as the flower to be sold because it was the favorite of President McKinley, and has a great sentimental value because it is worn as a silent tribute to our men who died on the battlefields, these veterans were the first and only 100 per cent volunteer army our country ever had, and

"Whereas, money made from the sale of these carnations is donated to the Leonard Wood Memorial for aiding in the eradication of leprosy, as well as the Clara Barton Memorial scholorship fund, which enable deserving girls to learn the nursing profession.

"Now therefore, I, John E. Coon, Mayor of the City of Monroe, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 3, 1952, as Carnation Day and urge our citizens to contribute to this worthwhile cause by wearing a carnation and help make this drive a success."

W. B. Mask Will Play In Organ Recitals

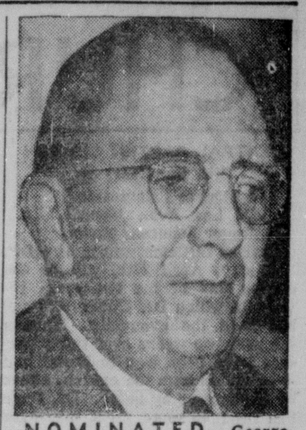

W. B. Mask, pianist and organist of this city, will give the fourth in a series of recitals in this area Wednesday evening, April 30, at the First Baptist Church of Farmerville, La.

Sunday, May 11, Mr. Mask will appear in recital at the First Methodist Church, of Columbia, La. He has recently played programs in Winnsboro, Sicily Island, and Vidalia. Mr. Mask is organist of the Covenant Presbyterian Church of Monroe.

The Two Jane Fromans

To the left is the real Jane Froman, a likeness of the courageous songstress who fought her way back to the top of the entertainment world after suffering near-fatal injuries in a 1943 Lisbon airplane crash. To the right is actress Susan Hayward who portrays the singer in Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor musical "With A Song In My Heart," now at the Tem.

NOMINATED—George P. Shaw, of El Paso, Texas, a career foreign service officer, has been nominated by President Truman to be United States Ambassador to Paraguay.

TURNABOUT—Singing star Georgia Gibbs models a new sweater which can be worn turned upside down or reversed front to back. She wears it tied at the waist over a bodice.

DEMONSTRATION OF FORESTRY

Will Be Conducted In Delta Hardwood Area May 19-21

A series of forestry demonstrations in the hardwood timber of the Louisianka Delta region will be conducted May 19, 20, and 21. These demonstrations are designed to show how commercial thinning of young hardwood stands increases the quality and value of the final crop of mature veneer logs. The general public and timberland owners especially are urged to attend.

The demonstrations will be held as follows: May 19, 1:30 p. m., S. L. Winston plantation near Vidalia; May 20, 9:30 a. m., Fisher Lumber Company lands on the Jonesville-Ferriday highway; May 20, 1:30 p. m., Azucema plantation, located south of Waterproof; May 21, 9:30 a. m., Somerset plantations, north of Newellton.

Attendants at the demonstrations will see how timber is marked for cutting. The marked trees will be cut and measured and the value determined. Representatives of equipment companies will demonstrate various power saws in cutting timber on the marked plot.

With the present usage of wood for 8,000 different products, timber is becoming more important each day. The market is likewise expanding, giving the wide - awake landowner more opportunity for the proper management of his timber.

While the purpose of the demonstrations is to show proper timber management, many landowners who are planning to clear lands for agricultural purposes may be interested in attending the demonstrations to observe the power saws in action.

NEGRO HELD

Robert Ester, Negro, 25, 1100 DeSiard Street, was arrested by Monroe police officers late Friday for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, damage to property and not having a drivers license. Ester is being held under $425 bond.

CHURCHES

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
"In the Heart of Monroe's Southside."
3400 Lee Ave., Monroe, La.

C. Roger Johnson, pastor.
Charles Littleton, music director.

Sunday, April 27th, will be the closing day of the two-weeks revival in which Dr. Elmer R. Page has been the evangelist. During the past two weeks over thirty persons have been won to Christ and have united with the church, either by baptism or by letter. Dr. Page has brought some great messages from the Word of God and many have been blessed in a very definate way. A special effort is being made in Sunday School to reach 500 which is approximately the enrollment. Dr. Page will be speaking to the general assembly in Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. and the morning message will be at 10:50 a.m., then the closing service of the revival will be at 7:30 p.m. Great expectations are being shown for a great closing day in this revival. A cordial invitation is given to all to attend.

METHODIST CHURCH
Calhoun Road

F. L. Hearne, pastor.
J. O. Fleming, church school supt.
Oliver Wendell Holmes said that he might have entered the Christian ministry had he not met so many ministers who looked like undertakers. That is rather a libel on the undertakers for most of them we know are good - natured and cheerful. We think we know what Holmes meant. He was repelled by the gloom and sadness which some people regard as a mark of piety. There is no necessary connection between gloom and religion. True, we are told that Jesus wept but that is probably recorded because it was so unusual.
Services at our church are:
Sunday: Church school, 9:45 a.m.
Morning worship, 10:50 a.m.
Youth Fellowship, 6:00 p.m.
Children's Hour, 6:30 p.m.

Nothing CAN TAKE THE PLACE of The CHURCH in YOUR LIFE

If in these troubled times, the values of life seem somewhat mixed-up . . . your thinking confused . . . and the outlook for the future uncertain . . . then you need to find yourself through faith by turning to religion. The church provides the pillar of strength you need to build a new life. Each day thousands of individuals just like you are finding new happiness, hope and courage by turning to the church and reaffirming their faith. Families so re-united are being brought closer together . . . strong against the world . . . happier, more tolerant among themselves. Through faith men, women and young people are learning the true sense of values . . . gaining a new sense of understanding . . . and obtaining the inner security that brings success in work as well as in life. If you want to find yourself through faith, then come to church Sunday.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

By J. Paul Hewitt

"I missed the chance to study music, so I'm going to see that my youngsters get the opportunity that passed me by." That's an everyday statement. . . usually followed by the everyday fact that most youngsters DO get the chance. However, many of them fall by the way for a number of reasons within the control of us parents.
It's up to us to see that music is always interesting to our young fry. We can do it, first of all, by being interested in the daily progress . . . by listening to the new pieces . . . commenting on them . . . praising a good performance. Practice should never be used as a punishment for misdeeds. Nor should a youngster ever be bribed to practice. Music should be PLAY . . . never PRACTICE. A routine play schedule should be set up so as not to interfere with outdoor fun and consequent resentment.
With your continued help and interest your child will make the most of his music lessons. And there'll be fun for everybody at your house come music - play time.
The Music Department of Northeast State is abreast with the times—for last week it conducted a piano workshop for music educators with Mrs. Mary C. Heim of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, conducting. Many teachers from this section attended. Among distinguished visitors Dr. Lloyd Funchess, Louisiana State Supervisor of Music, Baton Rouge, and Mr. Ed Borup, American Music Conference, Chicago.
Now with summer vacation coming up, it's a good time to start your child on a musical study. Come in any time and choose from our fine selection of pianos at HEWITT, INC. 216 Grammont, Phone: 2-1491.

Thank You....

HAMMOND ORGAN
"Music's Most Glorious Voice"

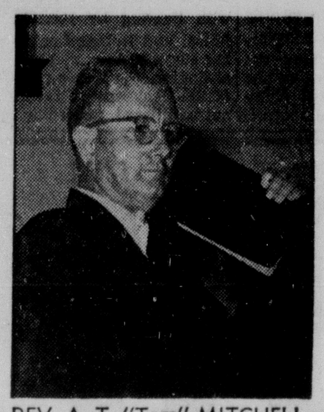

Church Model—price on request

At all church services throughout the year, the Hammond Organ is bringing rich, beautiful music to many, many thousands of churches throughout the world. In fact, since its introduction, more churches have selected the Hammond Organ than any other comparable instrument.
Thorough investigation has proved to these churches that only the Hammond Organ brings them many thousands of beautiful tones . . . only the Hammond Organ with its exclusive "reverberation control" gives the small church cathedral-like organ music . . . only the Hammond Organ keeps maintenance costs to an absolute minimum because it can never go out of tune.
In fairness to your church, be sure to get a complete demonstration of the Hammond Organ before making any decision as to a new organ.

Ridge Avenue Baptist Church
1940 "The Friendly Church" 1952

This is a back view of the Educational Building. The front view is partially obstructed by a frame building not yet moved off the church grounds. This modern two story educational building reaches across the block of church grounds. The next unit will be much larger and will face Ridge Avenue parallel with the worship auditorium.

Our Children

LEAVING THE ROOM

One of the most annoying happenings, especially to the inexperienced young teacher who is so often misplaced in the beginners' grades, is the persistent request, "Please may I leave the room?" Just one such request granted starts a steady flow from the classroom, indicating boredom in the class attitude.

Children who are busily occupied, absorbed in what they are doing, will not ask to leave the room unless it is absolutely necessary, so the teacher plans the day's work so that the children forget everything but the task in hand. Of course, that implies an experienced, able teacher. But the beginner must learn, must gather the essential experience.

No such request is ever denied, not if the procession lasts all session. The best way is to say, "Please do not interrupt the other children. If you want to leave the room, do so quietly. Just make sure that nobody else is out at the time." If this is a new experience for the children, they may abuse the freedom for a day or so, but gradually only those who must go do so and the whole matter settles into its proper place. But the teacher must plan her work so as to make it possible for the children to devote themselves to doing it.

The school architects could do a great service to the teachers and pupils of the primary grades, especially those of the first year, by putting washrooms in the classroom just as they do wardrobes. Children use the toilets and washbasins in their homes without any to-do about it and they could have the same attitude in the school to the great advantage of themselves and their teachers.

This may seem a trifling matter to people who have never tried to teach a group of six-year-old children. I can assure such inexperienced people that it is anything but that. Whole communities have been set by the ears because a teacher refused a child permission to leave the room. Of course that should never happen, but only an inexperienced teacher, or one assigned to a position for which he was unsuited, ever makes that mistake.

This takes us back to the beginning. Only professionally trained, richly experienced teachers should be assigned to the beginners' grades. They are the most important of the whole series to follow, for in them the habits of attention, study and achievement are set. In these grades the fundamentals of learning, the revered Three R's (and they are rightly revered because they are the foundation of learning) are taught.

Too often the assignment and the payment of teachers is an upside-down matter, the inexperienced, poorly paid ones given the most crucial positions in the whole scheme. Let's do it right, starting with the construction of the building and the assignment of teachers.

Is your child afraid of dogs, afraid of the dark and afraid of people? Fear is a miserable feeling and should be wiped out and replaced with courage. Dr. Patri explains fear in his leaflet P-1, "Fears." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Hope is the mainspring of human action; faith seals our lease of immortality; and charity and love give the passport to the soul's true and lasting happiness.

TIGERETTES TO STRUT IN SHREVEPORT WEDNESDAY

Yoised above are a group of the Neville High School Tigerettes who will appear in Shreveport Wednesday as the feature attraction of the opening day of the gala Holiday In Dixie. The colorful group from Monroe will appear in a colorful fifteen minute show in downtown Shreveport along with Governor Elect Robert F. Kennon, and then will march in the resources parade that same afternoon. Featured on following days in Shreveport with the talented Tigerettes will be the Kilgora Rangerettes and the precision drill team from Oklahoma.

Neville Tigerettes To Trek To Holiday In Dixie Opening

Group Will Board Five Chartered Buses For Shreveport Trip

Climaxing their annual spring drills, the Tigerettes from Neville High School will board their five charter Trailways buses Wednesday morning anxious to get to Shreveport and open their fourth Holiday in Dixie festival. For these girls from Neville it will mark the completion of some three months of rehearsals that held each winter and spring. The Holiday In Dixie invitation that was extended to the Tigerettes also marks a distinct step forward in the expanded program of the versatile girls, for featured with the Tigerettes on this year's program are the famed Kilgore Rangerettes and the marching specialists from Oklahoma.

At 1:45 Wednesday immediately after opening ceremonies by such dignitaries as Governor Elect Robert F. Kennon and Mayor Clyde Fant of Shreveport, the Tigerettes will step out some of the newest and smartest routines in a special area on Texas Street in downtown Shreveport. They will salute in this opening routine the greater Shreveport area, its industries, and the Holiday In Dixie festival. The entire appearance by these Tigerettes will be key noted by the Neville Dixieland Band that will accompany the girls. In a special band stand this Dixieland Band will swing out with the Tigerettes on the opening show. Following close behind the opening show, the band will place themselves ahead of the Tigerettes in the huge resources parade on a special float depicting an old time Showboat. The members of this colorful Dixieland Band are as follows: Delmas Jackson, Bobby Cargile, and Bob Ambrose on the saxophones. Rex Dillingham and Charles Newman on the trombones, Leland Sims and Jerry Waddell on the trumpets, Elstner Frazer pianist, and Albert Ellis on the drums.

After their opening show, the Tigerettes with the Dixieland Band will hurry across Shreveport to get in the line-up for the parade saluting the many resources of the greater Ark-La-Tex area. Here the girls have worked up a clever routine of the unique marching steps as they march down Shreveport's main streets. With the opening show, coupled with the parade, the Tigerettes from Neville High School will present Shreveport with a show that will live long in their memories, and will give proof again why these versatile girls have achieved a wide reputation.

Ridge Avenue Baptist Holds 12th Anniversary Celebration

Ridge Avenue Baptist Church of West Monroe, who will observe its 12th anniversary today, had a very humble birth 12 years ago.

The first service, which was held under a little tin top shed called a tabernacle, but in reality was no more than the old time wagon shed used by old timers before the modern car replaced the wagon, on Sunday 28, 1940. Ten men working for Salley and Ellis, Monroe contractors, donated their time and built the tabernacle in a day on April 19, 1940. Rough planks were used for seats and the only furniture to grace the building and add to the services was a piano that cost $25. Property, land, tabernacle and all cost less than $700.

A revival meeting started on Sunday night, April 28, 1940 led by Rev. A. T. Mitchell, who is still pastor of the church, and lasted one month. Seventy persons pledged to become charter members of the church in the revival and the church was organized May 24, 1940.

On May 29, 1940 the first officers of the new church were elected. P. G. Kennedy, now state senator-elect of Oak Grove, was elected the first church clerk. Other officers were F. C. Childers, Sr., treasurer, Lee L. Overton, Sunday School superintendent, Mrs. Clyde Fulton, Training Union director, Lonnie O. Fisher, music director and Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor.

The first deacons of the church were G. D. Jones, W. D. "Bill" Mayes, F. C. Childers, Sr., L. L. Overton, Clyde Fulton, Wallace Stark and T. L. Salley. W. D. Mayes was the first chairman of the deacons.

The building committee selected to lead the church in the building program were W. C. Salley, F. C. Childers, Sr., W. D. Mayes, G. D. Jones and Ross Ferguson.

The first building was contracted by C. T. Salley of Bernice for approximately $2,500. It was not a cost plus job but a less cost job. Other buildings constructed by the church were by W. C. Salley and Ross Ferguson, acting as superintendent of construction. At present buildings, property, furniture and fixtures of the church would be valued at more than $100,000.

The first church budget adopted in 1946 was $146 per month. This year money raised by the church will be approximately $30,000.

Rev. A. T. Mitchell on being asked what he considered the outstanding work of the church answered quickly, "The contribution the church has made to youth. The boys and girls, young preachers, gospel singers, musicians, and the youth leaders. They are the answer."

LENWILL PTA IN APRIL MEETING

Hears Address On Recreation By Jack Hesketh

The Lenwil P.-T. A. met on April 17. Captain Jack Hesketh held interest when he spoke on "recreation" which he urged for boys and girls, stressing that "Idle Hands Are the Devil's Workshop."

In his six years here in recreation work, he said only two boys had turned out bad despite efforts to straighten them out in recreational activities.

He invited boys and girls from Lenwil to participate in recreation at the Monroe center.

A business session followed with Mrs. Fred Parrott in charge. There was prayer by Mrs. L. A. Whitlock. "America" was sung. Minutes were read.

Mrs. Parrott appointed an auditing committee, Mrs. L. A. Whitlock, Mrs. E. C. Lawrence, and Mrs. B. O. Thompson.

A cleanup campaign was announced and she asked full cooperation. She said that the police juror, Mose Bayles, will aid in the drive.

A womanless wedding was announced for May 13 in Lenwil school at 7 p.m.

There are 50,000,000 $100 bills in circulation in the United States.

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA PLANNED

"How beauteous mankind is! O brave new world that has such people in it! cries Miranda daughter of the magician prince in Shakespeare's "The Tempest," to be presented Thursday at Northeast State.

The drama will be given by the London Repertory company in Brown hall auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

Under auspices of Touring Players, Inc., the famous troupe, which is currently touring the United States, is being sponsored locally by the department of speech and music at Northeast.

The belief that man's ultimate goodness and Prospero's choice of forgiveness over vengeance may be interpreted as illustrating the theme of International Theatre Month, celebrated recently, that "the theatre promotes international understanding."

This special month which is observed annually by theatres here and abroad, is sponsored by the American Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

International Theatre Month, as Helen Hayes reports, carries Unesco's message of humanity in making men all over the world see each other not as alien members of strange countries but as fellow human beings who share the same hopes, handicaps and mistakes.

Christopher Morley sees in "The Tempest" the exquisite fable of the human mind cast away on the lonely island of egotism. Prospero, he says, typifies thought; Ariel, the magic of art; Miranda, the soft appeal of loving kindness; Caliban, the various greeds and lusts; and the rest of the shipload is old helter skelter Demos, the public. Morley adds, "It matters little to me that the author may have had no conscious intention of any such allegory.

"Shakespeare like all great creators offers us a chance to collaborate with him. When for instance you see in the line 'Your swords are not massy for your strengths, 'not merely Ariel magicking the roughnecks, but a comment on our mechanized and militarized civilization, that you have collaborated with Shakespeare . . . don't worry about what Shakespeare may have meant, but what it means to you."

Originally staged by Basil Langton of Stratford and the Old Vic, with lighting by Pamela Judson-Stiles, and Robert Laning of Touring Players, Inc., as production coordinator, the rousing presentation of the Shakespeare favorite should not be missed, according to critics.

Making Of Rolls Is Shown To Woodlawn Club

How to make rolls was demonstrated by Mrs. Lois Kilpatrick in the home of Mrs. J. F. Peppers at the April meeting of the Woodlawn Home Demonstration Club. The rolls were mixed, rolled in different ways and then baked and served.

Mrs. C. K. Brooks led the prayer and then reports were given by Mrs. G. E. Rutledge, Mrs. Tom Burnett and Mrs. Lois Kilpatrick.

Each member was urged to plant tomatoes, peppers and egg plant, as well as flowers.

Those attending the meeting were served refreshments. They were: Mrs. J. F. Peppers, Mrs. G. E. Rutledge, Mrs. Tom Burnett, Mrs. C. R. Brooks, Mrs. M. O. Bush, Mrs. Lois Kilpatrick, Mrs. H. H. Roberts, Mrs. J. A. Waggoner, Mrs. E. Frith, Mrs. E. L. Tisdale with four visitors, Mrs. June Hebert, Mrs. A. A. Walker, Mrs. Mary Pinton, Mrs. Lottie DeVane.

MONROE BELONGS TO THE PEOPLE
I PROPOSE TO SERVE THEM

Since Monroe belongs to the people who live and work in the community, I have freely sought their councel and advise while campaigning. I shall continue to do so when elected.

The people have helped me to evolve my platform. We are all pretty well agreed on what Monroe needs. I merely propose to supply the leadership for the fulfillment of the wishes of the people.

The people want, and I propose to exert every effort to give them:

1. An honest, progressive and intelligent business administration of the affairs of the City of Monroe, geared to its future growth, practising strict economy in all phases of government.
2. A permanent non-political Citizens' Committee, composed of people from all walks of life and all sections of the city of Monroe, to meet with and advise the elected officials on the problems, needs and remedies towards building Monroe into a better community from every standpoint.
3. New Industry.
4. Additional fire stations and sub-police stations, as needed, to ensure our citizenry of adequate and efficient fire and police protection.
5. A comprehensive study of our traffic situation with proper revision of the traffic laws, the elimination of unnecessary traffic signals and the removal of bottlenecks--permitting traffic, pedestrian and vehicular, to flow more freely and resutling in the saving of valuable time and the prevention of accidents.
6. Modernization and revision of all city ordinances.
7. A bus terminal for downtown Monroe.
8. A separate study of the downtown parking problem—seeking a solution of the same.
9. A continuing training school for our Police Department where courses on proper handling of traffic and more serious violations of the law can be given, permitting all Police Officers to demonstrate their proficiency in all phases of police activity, including courtesy, knowledge of local and state laws, efficient and impartial enforcement thereof, and neatness in uniform.
10. Expansion of facilities for youth recreation.
11. Open hearing of all council meetings held after close of ordinary business hours, so that the citizens of Monroe can meet with and assist the council.
12. Erection of either an overpass or underpass, whichever is most feasible, on the south and north sides of Monroe railroad crossings just as soon as necessary cooperation of the interested parties can be obtained and the funds made available.
13. Fair and honest cooperation with the other elected officials, being ever mindful that all policies and decisions must be for the benefit of the people of Monroe.
14. A FULL TIME devotion to the duties of Mayor with an OPEN DOOR to all.

LOOK! I'M TRYING TO GET IT THROUGH YOUR HEAD, TONSILS, THAT THIS "AGENT" OF YOURS IS A 3-TIME MURDERER! HE'S WANTED!

THEN, THIS CALL FROM DOT VIEW IS A TRAP! YOU'VE TRICKED ME!

NO! TONSILS, YOU'RE SENSATIONAL! I WANT YOU ON MY TV SHOW AS A REGULAR, JUST LIKE I SAID.

YOU'VE BEEN AN ACCOMPLICE IN THESE CRASH APPEARANCES AROUND TOWN WITH A 2-GUN KILLER! WE WANT YOUR EXPLANATION AND CO-OPERATION, OR YOU WON'T SING!

IT'S TRUE! HE MADE ME DO IT! HE FORCED ME! WHY, I RAN AWAY FROM HIM JUST NOW TO COME HERE—

IT'S LIKE THIS—DUDE WANTED TO GET OUT OF THE RACKETS—

SIT DOWN, TONSILS. TELL US ABOUT IT.

ONE HOUR LATER.

DO YOU THINK HE WAS GIVING IT TO US STRAIGHT, TRACY?

WE'LL SOON KNOW, SAM.

PROM HOME PERMANENT NEEDS NO NEUTRALIZER!

New Automatic Neutralizing Gives Best Curl of Any Waving Method

So Much Easier! Simpler!

You never dreamed a permanent wave could be so easy! Just apply PROM lotion as you roll up your curls in the usual way. (Use any plastic curlers.) A little later, rinse with plain water. That's all the work you do! Let your hair dry naturally on the curlers and your PROM wave is in to stay!

Guaranteed to "Take" Every time!

Even if other waves have failed, PROM makes this money-back guarantee: PROM will take beautifully every time! And PROM will give you a softer, more natural-looking wave that lasts longer than any other permanent!

Wonderful for Children!

No more fidgeting and squirming while you dab and drip neutralizer! PROM needs no neutralizer! And no more worry about whether the wave will take. PROM comes in a type that's just-right for children's resistant hair—PROM Super. (PROM comes in 3 types for different types of hair.)

Softer—Yet Longer Lasting Wave!

The way your wave looks and the way your wave lasts depends on the neutralizing—so it's wonderful news that now for the first time you can get perfect neutralizing by PROM's new easier method! PROM neutralizes automatically! That's why your PROM looks prettier, lasts longer!

No Half-Way Results with Prom!

With ordinary permanents, you dab on neutralizer from the outside of the curl. Often it fails to penetrate down to the ends of hair wound inside the curler. So you may get little or no wave, or straggly ends. But PROM is different! This can't happen with PROM!

Perfect Neutralizing with Prom!

With PROM, you get complete neutralizing of each curl every time—right down to those important ends. Because PROM's neutralizing is automatic, it's perfect! So you get a prettier wave and better end curls. Today—have the loveliest wave—the easiest way—with a PROM!

YOU'LL LOOK PRETTIER—WITH A PROM HOME PERMANENT

Only PROM Home Permanent comes in 3 types, for different types of hair!

1. PROM SUPER
—for hard-to-wave hair, or a "curlier" permanent. And for children's resistant hair.

2. PROM REGULAR

3. PROM VERY GENTLE
—for easy-to-wave hair or hair with some natural curl. Also for bleached hair.

NOTHING NEW TO LEARN—
USE ANY PLASTIC CURLERS

OH, NO, CAPTAIN! I JUST KNOW THIS HARBOR BETTER THAN YOU... IT WAS EASY FOR ME TO ROUND UP THE SURVIVORS!

WHY DON'T WE TAKE YOUR BOAT IN TOWN, MISS NEIL? THEN YOU CAN RIDE IN ON THE TRANSPORT AND MEET OUR PEOPLE!

I'D LOVE TO, MAJOR CANYON!

I'M NIMBUS NEIL! IT WAS SO GOOD OF YOU TO COME?

HUH?... OH, YES, MA'AM!

I KINDA THOUGHT MY DRAFT BOARD HAD SOMETHIN' TO DO WITH ME BEIN' HERE!

YOU HAVE MET THROUGH HAIL AND HIGH WATER!

LIEUT. FORCE!

MISS NEIL'S FATHER IS SCHOOL TEACHER, RADIO OPERATOR AND VOLUNTEER OBSERVER FOR THE WEATHER BUREAU ON REYNARD ISLAND...THEY WILL BE OUR HOSTS WHILE WE ARE HERE...

"YOU MUST COME HOME WITH ME AND BE MY GUEST; YOU WILL GIVE JOY TO ME, AND I WILL DO ALL THAT IS IN MY POWER TO HONOR YOU."

IT WILL BE OUR PLEASURE, MISS NEIL...

WE'LL UNLOAD AND SEE YOU ON SHORE!

"...FARE THEE WELL; THE ELEMENTS BE KIND TO THEE, AND MAKE THY SPIRITS ALL OF COMFORT!!"

WHAT KIND OF DAME IS THAT? IS SHE OFF HER ROCKER—OR DID SHE JUST MISS TOO MANY BOATS?

I SUPPOSE YOU HAVE TIME TO DO A LOT OF MEMORIZING ON SUCH A LONELY ROCK!

A SCRAWNY DOLL LIKE THAT WOULD HAVE PLENTY OF TIME TO STUDY NO MATTER WHERE SHE LIVED!

YOU'LL BE AMAZED HOW MUCH BETTER NIMBUS NEIL WILL LOOK TO YOU EACH DAY THAT WE STAY ON THIS ISLAND!

SMILIN' JACK

MAMA LONGHAIR HOPPED AN AIRLINER IN ALASKA, AND 15 HOURS LATER SHE ARRIVED AT CHINCHILLA'S NEW YORK HIDEAWAY!

(GULP)...DAUGHTER IS GONE! PAPA MUST HAVE LEARNED THAT SHE'S WISE TO HIS RACKETS!

...HE PROBABLY TRAILED HER HERE! I MUST GO TO THE POLICE!

...AND, OFFICER, NOT ONLY HAS MY DAUGHTER FOUND EVIDENCE THAT PAPA IS A FUR RACKETEER...

...BUT THE OTHER DAY, WHILE AN OLD ESKIMO WAS DYING, HE TOLD ME THAT 20 YEARS AGO...

...HE SAW PAPA LONGHAIR MURDER MY FIRST HUSBAND!

DID ANYONE HEAR TH' OLD ESKIMO TELL YOU THIS FANTASTIC MURDER TALE?

NO! BUT PLEASE BELIEVE ME, OFFICER...MY DAUGHTER'S LIFE IS IN DANGER!

...I JUST KNOW THAT PAPA HAS ABDUCTED HER BECAUSE SHE KNOWS TOO MUCH! HE MAY KILL HER!

STRAPPED TO A CHAIR UNDER THE BRAIN-WAVE RECORDING APPARATUS, FLASH CAN ONLY GAZE HELPLESSLY AT THE SPACE-SCANNER, WATCHING RHEA'S ARMADA ATTACK THE OUTNUMBERED RESCUE ROCKETS FROM THE EARTH. HE HEARS THE KING BARK TERSE ORDERS SPELLING THE DOOM OF THE TINY EARTH FLEET THAT IS ALREADY REELING UNDER HEAVY BLOWS.

ON BOARD HIS FLAGSHIP, "ICY" STARK IS APPALLED AS HE SEES THE HAVOC WROUGHT BY THE RHEAN GUNS. FRANTICALLY, HE ORDERS HIS SURVIVING ROCKETS TO BREAK OFF THE UNEQUAL BATTLE!

AS THE STRUGGLE RAGES, A GUN-SPOTTER IN DALE'S ROCKET IS GRAVELY WOUNDED. QUICKLY SHE TAKES HIS PLACE IN THE TURRET, HELPING HER CREW FIGHT A REAR-GUARD ACTION AGAINST THE SWARMING ATTACKERS.,

BUT WAVE AFTER WAVE OF THE RHEAN SHIPS COME DIVING IN, WITH GUNS BLAZING, TO CUT OFF THE EARTHMEN'S ESCAPE. THE BATTLE BECOMES A ROUT!

SUDDENLY THERE IS A BURST OF FLAME AS ONE OF THE RHEAN MISSILES SCORES A NEAR MISS ON DALE'S SHIP. THE CRAFT ROCKS CRAZILY, THEN DISINTEGRATES ..AND DALE IS HURLED OUT OF HER SHATTERED GUN TURRET INTO SPACE!

THE ENEMY ARMADA HERDS THE REMNANTS OF STARK'S CRIPPLED FLEET BACK TOWARD RHEA. MEANWHILE, DALE DRIFTS ALONE THROUGH SPACE, HER PRECIOUS SUPPLY OF OXYGEN LEAKING SLOWLY FROM ITS DAMAGED CONTAINER. AS SHE FLOATS DOWNWARD, DALE SEES A TINY SPHERE APPROACHING. IT IS A MERE FRAGMENT IN SPACE, SPINNING SLOWLY IN ITS ORBIT AROUND SATURN. DESPERATELY SHE GRABS AT IT... AND HER FINGERS FIND A PRECARIOUS GRIP!

DIAL SOAP removes the cause of perspiration odor!

Another ARMOUR Product

You'll wonder how you ever got along without Dial! It's such a pleasure to step into your daily shower or tub and lather-up with this fragrant, rich-foaming soap. And that's the end of your worries about perspiration odor! For Dial gives you the wondrous deodorant-action of AT-7 (Hexachlorophene).

No matter how often or how thoroughly you wash, ordinary soaps cannot effectively remove the skin bacteria that cause perspiration odor. But Dial with AT-7 does. So odor never even has a chance to get started — any place on your body. You'll stay fresh all over — all day — with Dial!

Dial's creamy lather and gentle bacteria-removing action really protect your complexion, too. Get Dial — both bath and complexion sizes, today!

DIAL DAVE GARROWAY, NBC, Weekdays

© ARMOUR AND COMPANY

Doctors proved it! No ordinary soap can get you so clean as Dial with AT-7. In surgical scrub-up tests, doctors found that AT-7 soap leaves skin 10 times freer of bacteria than even strong hospital soaps. Yet Dial is mild and gentle as a soap can be!

Better than deodorants!

Not just underarm—but all-over protection! That's what Dial gives you — without stopping normal perspiration. Bathing daily with Dial removes up to 95% of skin bacteria that cause odor. Gives you all-over freshness no deodorant can equal!
